BRITAIN STIRS CONGRESS WITH PLEAS FOR AID

Halifax Firm; Asks Outright Gift

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21—Great Britain's post-war program for the United States, so far as it has been revealed, is causing increasing anxiety in congress. How to meet the demands of the British without crippling American trade and further impoverishing the American people, already shouldering a 300 billion dollar debt for the war, is the subject of the concern.

The principal items of the British program are:

1. A gift of 6 billion dollars by the United States to put the British on their feet financially and restore their foreign trade potential, incidentally in competition with the United States.

Seek Loan of Ships

2. Loan of 1,000 Liberty ships by the United States to the British to enable them to regain their ocean trade on profitable terms.

3. Repeal by the United States of the provision of American law requiring the export in American ships of American products purchased with the proceeds of American foreign loans.

4. Devaluation of world currencies, including the American dollar, in order to make the 6 billion dollar gift more palatable to the American people. The 6 billions would be taken from the United States 20 billion dollar gold stock but would be represented to the public as partly, if not wholly, offset by the United States treasury's paper profit on devaluation of the dollar.

Win Administration Support

The Truman administration has been won to support of financial aid for Britain in the several weeks of negotiations conducted here, by John Maynard Keynes, who because of his inspiration of New Deal financial policies became known as the Englishman who rules America, and by British Ambassador Halifax. The only question remaining, so far as the administration is concerned, is whether the aid shall be an outright gift, an interest free loan or a loan at nominal interest.

In congress sentiment is divided and there a battle is in prospect. Many senators and representatives hold with Sen. Taft [R., O.] that it is necessary to bail out Britain to the extent of 3 billions or more but insist upon gaining trade concessions in exchange. The British are relying on Ambassador Halifax to influence congress, the noble lord being reputed to know more senators and representatives by their first names than does the President of the United States.

Sorry for Taxpayers

Rep. Hoffman [R., Mich.] addressed the Democratic majority in the house last week in a vein of resignation to the inevitable.

"We know," he said, "that England is over here, the British empire's representatives are here, asking for 6 billion dollars and that 12 billion for Russia and Britain must be borrowed. I feel sorry for the Englishmen and I feel sorry for the British empire but I am a darn sight sorrier for the American taxpayer. If you want to give the

Pearl Harbor Quiz Delayed; Group at Odds

BY WILLARD EDWARDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21—The joint congressional Pearl Harbor investigating committee, created six weeks ago, will not be ready for another three weeks to begin open hearings, it was learned today.

As an illustration of the complexity of the task facing the investigators, Rep. Gearhart [R., Cal.], a committee member, noted in a statement that German espionage in Hawaii is one of the angles which must be probed in connection with the failure to install permanent radar in the Pacific outpost prior to the Jap attack on Dec. 7, 1941.

Delay in the opening of hearings, moreover, may be caused, it was disclosed, by a split in the committee over the timing of the visit to Honolulu to inspect the scene of the attack.

Only One Thing Certain

Some members want to hold a few hearings in Washington, then fly out to Pearl Harbor. Others want to make the trip first in order to familiarize themselves with the physical surroundings.

Republican members said that the situation emphasized the practical impossibility of attempting to examine the evidence and make a full report to congress by next Jan. 3, as the investigating resolution provides. Chairman Barkley [D., Ky.], has insisted, however, that this deadline can be made, causing his Republican colleagues to wonder if a hasty, ill considered report would suit the administration.

Gearhart's statement said "one of the most significant angles will be the role played by Werner Plack, an employe of the German consulate at Los Angeles, later identified by former American newsmen in Berlin as a German agent."

Plack, the committee member noted, was intimately associated with Hans Rohl, a German alien whose contracting firm was retained by Col. Theodore Wyman Jr., division engineer at Hawaii, to provide for the construction of radar installations and air fields.

Lack of Radar Blamed

"That there may be a direct connection between the activities of Plack and Rohl and the extraordinary conduct of Col. Wyman will be a matter that will be thoroly examined," Gearhart said.

"There is no doubt that thousands of men died on Dec. 7, 1941, because permanent radar installations and air fields, which should have been completed six months before, were not completed. Yet the man primarily responsible for their completion—Col. Wyman—not only failed to complete them but six months after Pearl Harbor was awarded a medal.

"Obviously, had the permanent radar installations been completed and operating around the clock, as Gen. Short and Gen. Marshall had planned, there would have been time to get the planes off the field."

3 DIE IN BLAZE AT FRAT HOUSE

Girl, an Overnight Guest, Is Victim

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 21 [Special]—Fire which early today destroyed the Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity house on the Rutgers university campus killed three occupants of the building, including a young woman disclosed to have been an overnight guest.

She was Miss Joyce Patricia Katzman, 19, of Teaneck, N. J., a former student of the New Jersey College for Women, an adjunct of Rutgers. Another overnight guest in the fraternity house, Miss Corinne Pommer, 20, of Ridgewood, N. J., escaped by jumping from a second floor window.

Rutgers President Robert C. Clothier said the presence of girls in the house without chaperonage was "a definite violation of the fraternity regulations at Rutgers" and announced the fraternity has been placed on "indefinite social probation" pending a complete investigation. This means that it has been suspended from all normal fraternity activities.

War Veteran Among Victims

Others who lost their lives in the fire were Raymond Berger, 19, of Jersey City, a sophomore in the school of engineering, and Benjamin Gordon, 20, of Trenton, N. J., a sophomore majoring in biological science. Gordon was a returned veteran who held the Purple Heart, bronze star and several battle stars for service with the 87th division.

Several fraternity men were injured in jumps from windows, including two who admitted they brought the young women to the house. They are Pvt. Raymond Schiff, 19, of Jamesburg, N. J., a former student, on leave from Camp Shelby, Miss., and Pvt. Robert Jaffner, 18, of East Brunswick, on leave from Keesler Field, Miss.

Schiff said he and Jaffner had dates with Miss Pommer and Miss Katzman and that after dinner at Jaffner's home in East Brunswick they returned to the university to go to a dance.

Planned to Stay with Sister

"All tickets to the party had been sold, so we took the girls to the house," Schiff said. "We had made arrangements for them to spend the night at the home of my sister, Sophie Schiff, in town, but when we telephoned to say we were bringing them over we could get no answer.

"Finally, after trying four times to get my sister on the telephone, we decided the girls could sleep in a rear room on the second floor. They went to bed and Jaffner and I went to our rooms."

Schiff said he believed the fire, which broke out at 3:30 a. m., was started by sparks from a fireplace in which he and Jaffner had kindled a fire "because the living room seemed damp when we brought the girls in." Firemen said after an investigation that Schiff probably was right about the cause of the blaze.

Auto Accidents Take 9 Lives in Day Here; Scores Injured

Nine persons died in the Chicago area in the 24 hour period ended at midnight of injuries suffered in automobile traffic accidents. Scores more who survived these and other mishaps were sent to hospitals, several of them critically injured.

Charles Wellenster, 40, a discharged sailor, and his wife, Eva, 38, were killed when their automobile, stalled on a crossing in West River rd., south of Aurora, was struck by a Burlington railroad streamliner traveling at 90 miles an hour. Fred Gordon, 50, who lived with the couple in a cottage on the Fox river, near Aurora, jumped from the stalled car before it was struck and was hurled into a field 50 feet down the right of way.

Girl, 18, Is Killed

Helen Chinn, 18, of 2440 Bryn Mawr av., was killed when an automobile in which she was a passenger struck two other cars in Skokie rd., in Wilmette. She was riding with Bert Toy Nunn, 23, a navy radio student, who was arrested. Five persons in the two other cars were injured.

Lt. [j. g.] William Pumphrey, 24, of Ventura, Cal., was killed when his car was struck by an Elgin, Joliet, and Eastern railroad frate train on the Downey crossing near Great Lakes. Police said he apparently did not see the warning signal.

Richard Kaleta, 17, of 4945 Honore st., was killed while riding on the fender of an automobile, which was struck by a hit and run motorist at 48th and Paulina sts. Kaleta was riding with Leroy Ruedlinger, 18, of 4451 Wood st., who was driving five other persons home from a party.

Three Die in Hospitals

A man about 50 was killed by an automobile as he was crossing Halsted st. at 120th st. The car was driven by Raymond Kluck, 17, of 12112 Yale av., a Mount Carmel High school student.

Three of the victims died in hospitals of injuries suffered in accidents which occurred earlier.

Mrs. Lillian Emond, 30, of 1630 N. Merrimac av., died in St. Anne's hospital. She was injured and Mrs. Martha L. Goldsmith, 45, of the same address, was killed Oct. 18 when they were struck by a hit and run motorist who overran a safety island at Central and North avs. Sgt. William Gray, 33, of 7750 May st., a European battle veteran, who admitted driving the car, later surrendered.

William Rada, 30, of 2319 S. Lawndale av., died of injuries suffered Saturday when he was struck at Cermak rd. and Lawndale av., by an automobile driven by Edward Nowak, 28, of 4344 S. Richmond st.

Struck by Taxicab

Swan Larson, 70, of 5130 University av., who was struck by a taxicab at Hyde Park blvd. and University av., Saturday, died in Illinois Central hospital. Peter Janes, 53, of 56 E. 18th st., was the driver.

Marion Holmes, 19, of Milford, Iroquois county, a Valparaiso university student, was killed and seven other students were injured when their automobile was struck headon near Valparaiso, Ind., Saturday by a car driven by Albert Brown, 35, Negro, of La Grange, who also was killed. Police said Brown's car, in which they found liquor bottles, was traveling in a wrong lane on route 30.

TWO QUIT EQUITY COUNCIL IN FEUD OVER FRANK FAY

New York, Oct. 21 [Special]—The censure of Frank Fay, star of "Harvey," by the council of the AFL Actors Equity association, the actors' trade union, resulted today in the resignation of Matt Briggs and Walter N. Greaza, two members of the governing body.

Briggs, a councilor for the last seven years, is currently appearing in "Bloomer Girl." He voted to sustain the charges but resigned in protest of the wording of a statement to the press. He objected, it was learned, to the word "censure" in the announcement that read: "The council of the Actors Equity association has sustained the charges preferred by Margo, Luba Malina, Sona Osalo, Jean Darling, and David Brooks against Frank Fay and censures him."

Greaza, assistant secretary of Equity, would not comment.

The charges by the five players stemmed from an accusation by Fay that the five actors had attended a recent rally of the Spanish refugee appeal during which Harold J. Laski, chairman of the British Labor party, broadcast from London a speech which Fay termed an attack against the Roman Catholic church. Fay construed their attendance as an attack on his religion. Equity ruled that the five were not present when the Laski speech was made.

SUBTLE REIGN OF TERROR IN POLAND BARED

Believe Thousands Are in Custody

BY GLADWIN HILL

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

WARSAW, Poland, Oct. 12 [Delayed]—This is written in Warsaw but it will not be committed to print until this correspondent is safely out of Poland. Foreign correspondents are being allowed to circulate in Poland under the Potsdam agreement, but definite hostility toward foreign reporting of unquestionable facts already has been displayed. And there exists thruout this war-torn country today a condition approaching a subtle reign of terror in which there is no assurance of what may happen to critics of the present regime.

The official line is that there are no more than 1,000 political prisoners in Poland today. However, other government officials have acknowledged to me that there are 60,000 to 80,000, stipulating that the bulk of them are "Volksdeutsch" [Polish Germans or Germanized Poles]. Some responsible observers think that the total may be nearer 100,000.

Horror Camp Reactivated

The former German concentration camp at Auschwitz [scene of the infamous gas chamber horrors] is operating again under Polish auspices, its wire fences charged with electricity.

The roundup of persons whose only evident offense is suspected opposition to the communist dominated regime is, in any case, comprehensive enough to have netted a number of individuals with claims on American citizenship who are still locked up under no specific charges and without trial.

An institution in Warsaw and other cities these days is "the well," a Gestapolike operation in which police guard a block, a building, or part of a building, seizing indiscriminately any one who visits the place. This might be excused as an ordinary man-hunt except that it happens curiously often, involves detention of innocent people, and has spread such fear that I know of innocent people who have stayed away from home nights on end because they had been tipped that "the well" was working in their neighborhood.

Opposition Leader Slain

I will give other examples of incidents which have contributed to what I have—only after considerable thought and with considerable regret—been forced to describe as a near reign of terror in a country whose regime takes pride in being "democratic" and which under the Yalta and the Potsdam agreements,

SERGEANT AND WIFE MEET AFTER HER WEDDING TO UNCLE

Denver, Colo., Oct. 21 (AP)—Pretty Ann Birdwell, 19, of Kansas City and her sergeant-husband she believed dead when she married his uncle, embraced joyously today as she stepped from a train for their first reunion since a war-shortened honeymoon two years ago.

"O, you're back—at last you're back," Mrs. Birdwell cried as Sgt. Gene Birdwell took her in his arms.

"Everything is all right. It's all right now," the sergeant told his wife between kisses. He had been waiting impatiently at the station for more than an hour.

The marriage of blonde Mrs. Birdwell and Jack Marshall of Wichita, Kas., 12 days before her husband was found alive in a Japanese prison camp, has been annulled.

The sergeant, an aerial gunner who had been reported killed in action, reached Denver three days ago for a checkup at Fitzsimons General hospital preparatory for a 90 day leave.

Three Andean States Submit, Junta Reports

CARACAS, Venezuela, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Venezuela revolutionary junta announced today that opposition forces in three western states had capitulated without bloodshed, and that the junta "completely controls the country."

The junta, headed by Romulo Betancourt, a former Communist who resigned from the party and renounced its creed, issued its first proclamation over the Caracas radio.

The broadcast said that the deposed President Isaias Medina y Angarita and the presidential candidate, Eleazar Lopez Contreras, were "both in custody and in good health."

Naming Tachira, Merida, and Trujillo as the states where the opposition had crumbled, the junta said it also was in control of Zulia and its huge, rich oil fields which form the economic lifeblood of the country.

Andean States Fall

The radio stations of the Andean states of Tachira, Merida, and Trujillo, which had previously been under Medina control seemingly confirmed the junta claims by broadcasting that opposition to the revolution had ceased.

Betancourt has been critical of foreign oil companies exploiting Venezuela's natural resources in articles written in the newspaper El Pais, but the junta has announced it will respect all contracts made by the Medina government, including the 1943 oil law.

Dr. Leonardo Ruiz Pineda, secretary of the junta, asserted that published reports of 300 dead and 1,000 wounded in the revolt that started last Thursday were inaccurate. He said a better figure would be 100 killed and 300 wounded.

[In Curacao, Dutch West Indies, informed sources said rebel flyers used La Guaira airport Saturday as a base for bombing operations against "shattered Caracas." Pan-American Airlines' first plane into Venezuela in three days was said to have been permitted only a 10 minute stop at the rebel-controled field before returning to Curacao.]

Opposition continued in Caracas but only in the southeastern part of the city where small forces loyal to Medina were entrenched in the hills. The junta said armored cars mounting machine guns were expected to bring the situation under complete control quickly.

Gen. Leon Jurado, governor of the western state of Falcon, placed himself under custody of the junta last night when his troops went over to the side of the revolutionaries.

The junta said that opposition from the Andes region was due to the erroneous belief that the revolutionaries were opposed to the Andinos, or westerners, who for a century have dominated the political and military life of the country.

Planes dropped 100,000 leaflets on Andean cities refuting the report, the junta added.

Strive for Normalcy

The San Cristobal radio station in Tachira, which yesterday broadcast claims that Medina forces were marching on Caracas and that President Medina was leading the fighting in the capital, fell into the hands of the revolutionaries.

A San Cristobal broadcast today said troops were roaming the streets and warned residents to close down all business establishments.

Meanwhile the junta was making every effort to return the country to normal.

Ruiz Pineda told newsmen that the junta desires the most cordial relations with other Latin American countries and the United States, England, and Russia. The junta dispatched messages to all Latin American countries explaining the revolutionary movement. He assured journalists that, for the first time in her modern history, Venezuela has no press censorship. Radios were using news dispatches without prior approval, he said.

Widow Forfeits 4 Million Estate to Wed Again

LITTLE ASTON, England, Oct. 21 [Reuters]—With her marriage to Lt. Col. Thomas South here yesterday, Mrs. Ada Scribbans forfeited the income from more than $4,000,000 left by her millionaire first husband, John Henry Scribbans, when he died in 1935. The estate will pass to Scribbans' three children, each of whom previously had received $80,000.

NATION BACKS ELECTION PLEA OF DE GAULLE

Assembly to Frame Constitution

BY DAVID DARRAH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, Oct. 22 [Monday]—France has voted to discard the third republic and support Gen. de Gaulle's proposal for a constituent assembly to draft a new constitution creating a fourth republic. This was indicated today on the basis of scattered but fairly representative returns in yesterday's election.

Voters returned an overwhelming yes in answer to the first referendum question which provided for the new assembly and a sweeping yes to the second question as to whether sovereign power should remain in the hands of a provisional government while the constitution is being drafted. The new Popular Republican Movement party [M. R. P.], or Catholic Socialists, made formidable gains and may possibly with the Socialists have a clean majority in the new assembly. This is the combination De Gaulle wanted.

Socialists Claim Power

The Socialists predicted last night that they would emerge as the strongest single party. Election interest centered on the struggle between the Communists and Socialists, the two main left wing contenders who are also the main rivals. The Communists made a strong showing.

The Radical party appears to have fared badly, altho earlier reports that former Premier Edouard Daladier had been defeated were erroneous.

A total of 586 assembly men are to be elected.

Among the ministers in De Gaulle's provisional government elected were: Georges Bidault, foreign; Louis Jacquinot, navy; Christian Pineau, food; Andre Diethelm, war; Andre Tixier, interior, and Pierre Henri Tietgen, justice.

Indications were that Rene Plevin, minister of finance; Jacques Soustelle, minister of information, would be defeated.

Voting Heavy

Voting was heavy and orderly thruout France so far as reported. In the Paris region it was estimated that 82 per cent of the registered vote turned out. This contrasts with 40 per cent in last month's cantonal or local elections.

It was the first French general election since May, 1936.

Louis Blanckaert, mayor of Wormhoudt, near Dunkerque, heading the list of M. R. P. candidates in his district, died last night just after the polls closed.

TASTE OF DEMOCRACY

BY DAVID DARRAH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

SENLIS, France, Oct. 21—Without outward emotion, men and women in this typical provincial town of the department of the Oise today strolled to the ancient city hall to elect delegates to the new national assembly and vote on two referendum questions. Similar scenes were enacted thruout the nation.

Women voted for the first time and turned out in considerable numbers. Soldiers also exercised their franchise for the first time. The 3d regiment of hussars stationed in Senlis, voted here.

Day Warm and Bright

The weather was warm and bright, and life in this town of small industries and agriculture was much the same as on any other fall Sunday. Most people went to church before voting. The taverns were open as usual, but there was no drunkenness. French elections are held on Sunday to avoid losing a business day.

Before going in to vote, the citizens paused beneath the bust of King Henry IV. over the city hall entrance to scan the list of candidates and their respective pleas on a portable bulletin board. Once inside they were given one ballot to mark their party candidates and another to express their choice on the referendum. Most of them spent about two minutes in the voting booths. As they deposited their ballots in an urn on the way out the election judge shouted so all could hear: "Monsieur [or Madam] has voted."

Communists Active

Signs on the walls indicated that the Communists were the liveliest party—and this is by no means a communist stronghold. The "double oui oui," which was the communist instruction on the double referendum was seen, everywhere.

Jacques, a waiter at the Hotel Nord, confided that he was voting Socialist and "oui oui." Pierre, a newspaper vendor, is a Red. He said he voted Communist and "oui, non." The pharmacist across the town hall square was for former Premier Edouard Herriot and the Radical Socialists.

The Oise will elect five delegates. Six different political groups had entered as many lists of five candidates. The Conservatives and the extreme right did not have any list, conceding that they didn't have a chance.

Ex-Deportee Runs

The Socialist's list of five was headed by Jean Bondi, mayor of Creil, a former deputy who was a deportee. Henri de Ridder, mayor of Beauvais, was second on the list and the third was Madeleine Blin, a teacher who did time at a nazi concentration camp for women. The other two were a farmer and a university professor.

A Socialist poster said it was treason not to vote. They asked a Socialist vote to construct a new France.

The Radical Socialist list is headed by Armand Dupuis, a former deputy and a manufacturer. This is Herriot's party. They also have a woman candidate. The Socialists are "oui ouis" while the radicals are "non non."

The third list was the Communists' headed by Andre Mercier, a former deputy and ex-hotel employe. The Communists, too, have a woman candidate among the five names on their list. On the referendum the Communists are "oui nons." They promise to chastise traitors and confiscate property.

Party of New Men

The next list was that of the Popular Republican movement or MRP. This party is the runner-up. Its list in the Oise was headed by Eugene Delahouter, a former soldier and a notary public. The MRP is Socialist. It is also "oui oui." It calls itself a party of new men.

Next was the Republican Patriotic Union, a minor party running to "bar the road to the Communists."

The sixth or Peasant party list was headed by Benoit Rambaud, a small farmer and editor of a farm paper. A woman teacher and a blacksmith also were candidates. Both the Peasant party and the Patriotic Union are "oui ouis."

EGYPT HOLDS UP AMERICAN AIR LINE TO CAIRO

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 21—There is a United States air terminal, bright with new red and yellow paint, right in the center of Cairo, but it is not selling tickets yet. Altho in equipment and facilities the United States has already won the race to be the first into the middle east, it has not yet cleared the diplomatic hurdle.

The first TWA civilian plane to fly the route has started the return trip from Cairo to America on a survey flight. TWA officials say they could begin flying into Cairo regularly within a month.

But an agreement is still pending with the Egyptian government which objected to a United States air line carrying passengers between Cairo and such points as Athens, Rome and Palestine, altho it has no objection to carrying them between New York and Cairo.

PAPER CHARGES LEND-LEASE USE FOR CIVIL WAR

[By Cable to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

PANAMA, C. Z., Oct. 21—A Star and Herald editorial commenting on the revolt in Venezuela points out that another fratricidal war is being fought with lend-lease weapons by men trained by American military missions "because of the exigencies of war." The editorial says: "Many countries procured lend-lease materiel from the United States. This materiel has been, is being, and undoubtedly will be used in the future, not for United States foreign aggression, but to frustrate or nullify claims that people may make that their sovereign rights be recognized."

FRENCH DEBARK MORE TROOPS TO FIGHT ANNAMESE

Artillery Fire Holds Saigon Bridges

SAIGON, Indo-China, Oct. 21 (AP)—Moore troops of the French 2d armored division debarked in Saigon as Annamese snipers continued to harass British Indian and Gurkha troops in the Indo-Chinese capital, an Anglo-French bulletin reported yesterday.

Gurkhas struck a telling blow against the Nationalist insurgents when they confiscated a quantity of firearms and arrested a number of Annamese in a house-to-house search of North Saigon yesterday, the bulletin said.

Artillery was called upon to silence machine gun and rifle sniping against Gurkha troops holding bridges over the river Cho in the northern part of town. Intermittent sniping also was reported against Indian troops guarding the artesian wells at Cholon.

Remove Prime Minister

The prime minister of Cambodia has been removed and brought to Saigon on orders of British Maj. Gen. Douglas Gracey, allied headquarters said today.

A British-French bulletin said Song Neoc Teanh was ousted because his activities in Cambodia "threatened the security of allied forces and he was working against Cambodian irterests." Cambodia, a French protectorate, is in southern Indo-China.

Correspondents have protested an order issued by the Southeast Asia command forbidding all officers and men of all nationalities under allied command from giving interviews to the press that Adm. Mountbatten's prior sanction.

France Declines U. S. Aid

PARIS, Oct. 21 (AP)—France will politely decline any offer of the United States to help settle her trouble with Indo-Chinese natives, an official source said today.

A government spokesman said France regarded the Indo-Chinese problem as purely an internal affair and would not welcome any foreign intervention.

John Carter Vincent, director of the United States state department's office of far eastern affairs, said in New York yesterday that the United States was willing, if requested, to help France and Holland reach peaceful agreements with native groups.

BAN LIFTED ON PARTY ACTIVITY BY ARGENTINES

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Argentine government said tonight that a decree was signed yesterday restoring all political parties in the nation.

The broadcast said the decree revokes an order of December, 1943, which dissolved all existing political parties.

Resumption of political activity will be permitted under restrictions of a state of siege, proclaimed last month.

BRITISH GURKHAS QUELL INDONESE IN 2 JAVA CITIES

Dock Workers Strike

SINGAPORE, Oct. 21 (AP)—The entire harbor area of Singapore was paralyzed today by an unauthorized strike of 7,000 dock workers who walked out in protest against the current wage scale and in sympathy with the Indonesian nationalist movement in Java. Walls were plastered with posters urging the workers to demand more pay, to suppore the Indonesian and Annamese independence movements and to protest against "Dutch and French imperialists."

BATAVIA, Java., Oct. 21 (AP)—British forces restored order in two north Java cities today, after serving notice on Indonesian Nationalist leaders that any form of violence would be punished by death.

Gurkha troops patrolled the streets of Bandoeng, the summer capital, and Semarang, scene of a three-hour battle Friday between British and opposition forces.

An army spokesman at allied headquarters in Batavia said the British had the situation in hand at Semarang, altho Nationalists had established themselves in a jail there and had put up road blocks.

Agrees to Disarm

Europeans in internment camps near Semarang have been threatened by these Indonesians but apparently have not been harmed, the spokesman said.

The Nationalist minister of defense, flown to Semarang to confer with the British commander, agreed to carry out orders to disarm all Indonesians except civil policemen in the area which the British control.

Brig. McDonald, commanding Gurkhas at Bandoeng, summoned Nationalists to his headquarters in the Dutch war department building there to inform them of the death penalty for violence. He said Britain was not interested in political issues involved in the Indonesian independence movement, but wished only to restore law and order.

Fire on Internee Camp

The Netherlands news agency Aneta quoted a spokesman for the British 23d Indian division as saying that 13 Indonesian looters were killed by allied troops in Batavia last night, but that in general the night was quiet.

The Tanah Abang internment camp near Batavia was fired on for half an hour, the agency said, but there were no casualties.

Indians Asked to Strike

LUCKNOW, India, Oct. 21 [Reuters]—Dr. M. Atal, associate of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, today appealed to union leaders and others to organize strikes and demonstrations thruout India to bring pressure on allied authorities for withdrawal of Indian troops from the Dutch East Indies.

Atal's action follows an appeal to Indian trades unions to take action along the same lines as Australian and Indonesian dockers who refused to handle war supplies for Indonesia.

18 Americans in Indo-China Get Blame for Shootings

BY ALFRED WAGG

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

SAIGON, Indo-China, Oct. 21—French Indo-China may become another test case in the continuance of American personnel in this theater.

The Americans are now only 18 in number in Indo-China. They are under Gen. MacArthur's command. The American command here points out that America is charged with responsibility for administering Japan, and must have more to say in southeast Asia coöperation, which they now plead is nonexistent.

The Japanese are reporting American activities to the British and French, placing American prestige and operations in a precarious position.

Say French Are "Let Down"

Bitterness against the Americans and among the allies apparently began with the refusal of British authority to allow the Americans to fly American identity flags on their persons or automobiles, in accord with the Annamites' request. The result was the death of Lt. Col. A. Peter Dewey.

The Americans were not privileged to sit on the allied control commission, made up of British and French officers, but are considered part of the mission insofar as rations are concerned. At the same time there is a growing feeling that Uncle Sam has let down the French, because promised medical supplies and food have not arrived.

The former 26 Annamite political parties have formed a coalition, now shaping into six main groups, their greatest weakness still being lack of central organization, with 60 thousand people milling southward from the hills.

Blame Shooting on United States

An offshoot party of the former Jap controled gendarmerie, called Kemp Chi, is now suspected of continued dealings and instigation of shooting which is being blamed on the Americans. When the shooting starts it is automatically rumored that the Americans have been seeing the Annamites.

More evidence of this propaganda is that it is suspected that the Japs have instigated rumors that the white men will never again be safe inside Indo-China.

It is said that within 90 days the job of shipping the Japanese troops from Indo-China will be well under way.

Currency Is Devalued

The British, fighting the rise of prices, have devalued the French piaster from 20 American cents to five cents, frightening the Chinese merchants who have been the biggest exporters from Indo-China. Labor shortages increase daily, as no Annamite is willing to work for any one, and the servant problem is becoming acute. Stores now open only half a day and are thinking of opening an hour only.

The snobbish pre-war exclusive club Sportif is going full swing. During the war it was occupied by Field Marshal Count Terauchi, commander of the Jap southern army. It was bombed in an effort to catch the commander, but the only damage the bombers did was to his swimming pool.

The French and British are getting along smoothly. French women visit the pawnbroker, selling their belongings in order to get cash to buy food and drink, as the French are not yet attending to the serious shortage of money.

HALF GOLDWYN STOCK OFFERED TO KEY WORKERS

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Samuel Goldwyn has announced the reorganization of his motion picture company as Samuel Goldwyn Productions, Inc., and offered 50 per cent of the stock to employes at $1 a share "as my payment for their loyalty—from cameramen to auditors."

Goldwyn said James A. Mulvey, who has headed his distribution organization for the last 22 years, had been elected president of the company and would make his headquarters in New York. Goldwyn was elected chairman of the board with Marvin Ezzell, Leon Fromkess, and Patrick Duggan, production executives of the Hollywood studio, becoming vice presidents.

Goldwyn said that under the reorganization 50 per cent of the assets of the firm would be made available to several hundred considered vital employes of the company on the basis of experience, length of service, and loyalty, but that film players would not be included in the group. He added that these employes were being given five year contracts and at the end of that time they would be permitted to sell the stock back to the company if they wished.

REJECT CLASS STRUGGLE, POPE URGES WOMEN

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 21 (AP)—Pope Pius exhorted 1,000 Italian Catholic women in a general audience today to participate actively in the nation's political life but warned them to reject totalitarian systems which "dangle marvelous promises" before their eyes.

In his address, which was broadcast by the Vatican radio, the pontiff criticized the ills of capitalist dominated regimes which compel a woman to leave her home to augment the earnings of her family. He declared that the watchword of women today must be "to restore as far as possible the honor of a woman's and a mother's place in the home."

"Shun Class Struggle"

Asserting that "the electoral ballot in the hands of the Catholic woman is an important means toward the fulfilment of her strict duty in conscience," the pope advised his listeners to line up against movements founded on class struggle "or striving for evermore extensive economic and national empire."

The pontiff questioned whether a woman can "hope for her real well-being from a regime dominated by capitalism."

"We do not need to describe to you now the economic and social results that issue from it," he said. "You know its characteristic signs, and you yourselves are bearing its burden: excessive concentration of populations in cities, the constant all-absorbing increase of big industries, the difficult and precarious state of others, notably those of artisan and agricultural workers, and the disturbing increase of unemployment."

Pictures Untidy Homes

He pictured a home left untidy in the absence of a mother at work or "fussing around in frivolous occupations and futile amusements" as an environment detrimental to the training of a young girl. The daughter, he said, would follow her mother's example and would want "in the words of a very tragic phrase, 'to live her own life.'"

The pontiff acknowledged that there were women who were destined by unavoidable circumstances to foresake marriage and live a life of solitude "which was not in their thoughts and desires."

"Many brave men have fallen in the dreadful war," he declared. "Others have returned as invalids. Many young women will therefore wait in vain for the return of a husband and the flowering of new lives."

Such women, he asserted, today have a militant calling for their energies. "New needs created by the entry of woman into civil and political life have arisen to claim their assistance," the pope said. "Is it just coincidence or are we to see in it the disposition of divine providence?"

Repatriation from Japan of Aliens Is Discussed

TOKYO, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Nippon Times said today that Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said the question of repatriation of foreign nationals from this country was being discussed but no immediate step was contemplated. Formal dealings with Italians and French will be conducted thru MacArthur's office henceforth.

Son of Oak Park Rector Named Princeton Dean

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 21 [Special]—President Harold W. Dodds of Princeton university today announced the appointment of Dr. Francis B. Godolphin, chairman of the department of classics, as dean of the college. He will succeed Dr. Christian Gauss. Dean Godolphin, marine captain and veteran of four Pacific invasions as air liaison officer, is the son of the Rev. Francis R. Godolphin, who was rector of Grace Episcopal church, Oak Park, Ill., for 20 years. He is a graduate of Oak Park High school of the class of 1920.

CITY'S MURDERS UP 20 PER CENT OVER YEAR AGO

Figures Reveal Steady Increase of Crime

BY ORVILLE DWYER

Crime is on the increase in Chicago.

Police statistics show that rapes and burglaries, automobile, and other thefts, were far more prevalent during the first eight months of this year than in the corresponding period of 1944. In that year, Chicago ranked 13th among the nation's 37 largest cities in the prevalence of crime.

In his report to Mayor Kelly for 1944, Police Commissioner Allman noted that murders had increased 19.53 per cent; rape, 58.08 per cent; robbery, 4.91 per cent; aggravated assault, 20.7 per cent; burglary, 9.33 per cent; larceny, 15.04 per cent; auto theft, 19.75 per cent.

Figures on Crime Increase

Further increases for the first eight months of this year are reflected in the following comparative table prepared by the Chicago Crime commission; covering the first eight months of 1943, 1944, and 1945:

	1943	1944	1945
Murder	110	130	129
Manslaughter	33	36	37
Rape	103	173	214
Robbery	2,440	2,502	2,423
Aggravated assault	1,114	1,338	1,393
Burglary	5,609	6,105	7,263
Larceny	8,656	11,692	11,377
Auto theft	1,709	2,152	2,466
Total crimes	19,774	24,128	25,302

Some of the outstanding unsolved murder cases in the police department files include those of:

Estelle Carey, blonde dice girl and friend of Nick [Circella] Dean, gangster and labor racketeer. She was bludgeoned and burned in her north side apartment Feb. 2, 1943.

Killed in Tavern

Danny Stanton, for 20 years one of the city's most notorious hoodlums, riddled with shotgun slugs May 5, 1943, as he stood at a crowded bar in the tavern at 6500 S. May st.

Walter J. Smith, who escaped jail in the robbery of a Chicago Tribune pay roll by turning state's evidence. He died May 16, 1943, of four bullet wounds inflicted as he was changing tires on his car in front of 3856 Chicago av.

Shot to Death in Car

John Pisano, juke box chain operator, shot Oct. 28, 1943, in his own car by two gunmen. The car, with Pisano's body inside, was found in front of 2515 Congress st.

Phyllis Blair, 23 year old war worker, fatally slugged near her home at 4937 N. Hoyne av., dying Nov. 10, 1943.

Thomas Oneglia, north side boss for the Capone-Nitti syndicate, killed Dec. 6, 1943, by three unidentified gunmen as he reclined in a barber chair at 1608 Sedgwick st.

Sam [Snakes] Gervase, shot to death March 2, 1944, in his refrigerator repair shop at 609 Division st.

Body Stuffed in Car Trunk

James De Angelo, once questioned in the murder of State Rep. Albert J. Prignano, and a friend of Gervase and Oneglia, found stuffed into an automobile trunk in front of 1526 N. La Salle st. March 11, 1944.

Edward J. Ross, jewel thief and a suspect in the slaying of Mrs. Lillian Galvin and her maid in the Galvin home in Evanston, beaten and shot to death July 17, 1944, in his room at 444 St. James pl.

Dago Lawrence Mangano, gambler and gangster, slain by a shotgun blast from an automobile early on Aug. 3, 1944, on the near southwest side near his home.

Ambushed and Killed

Ben Zuckerman, gambler, ambushed and killed by gunmen in front of his home at 4042 Wilcox av., Jan. 14, 1945.

Mrs. Frank Starr Williams, wife of a Washington, D. C., state department attache, shot to death in her room in the Drake hotel, Jan. 19, 1944. She was shot by an unknown woman assailant who also fired a shot at Mrs. Williams' daughter.

Pilot Uninjured

Forced down by motor trouble, Arthur H. Morse Jr., 23, of Cincinnati, O., a seaman 1st class at the Great Lakes Naval Training center, landed a rented plane in a vacant lot on Market st. near South av. in Waukegan yesterday. The plane was undamaged and Morse was uninjured. Wayne Carpenter, manager of the Waukegan airport where Morse rented the plane, was unable to fly the plane out of the confined space in which it landed. He taxied it back to the airport, five miles away, part of the distance thru Waukegan streets.

TROOP SHIP'S BOW DAMAGED IN COLLISION

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—The New York port of embarkation said the army transport Thomas H. Barry, carrying 3,230 passengers to Le Havre, France, collided today with the fishing boat Medford off Nantucket Light, Mass.

At least one member of the Medford's crew was killed and six are missing, the port reported, adding that the transport, which left New York yesterday, was putting back to the harbor at a speed of about 10 knots after "sustaining major damage to the bow."

The port said Capt. Frank A. Erickson, the Barry's commander, had advised it the vessel was in no immediate danger and that no members of the Barry's crew were injured. The port also said that the Barry, whose passengers included 94 Red Cross workers, 17 civilians, and the balance army personnel, had picked up 11 survivors of the Medford.

REPORT 'EXPERT' ON HITLER SENT TO HUNT FOR HIM

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 21 (AP)—The Philadelphia Record says Dr. Robert M. W. Kempner, German born lawyer and one time legal adviser to the Prussian state police—"one of the few anti-Nazis who possesses detailed knowledge of Hitler's physical appearance, even his skeleton structure"—has been sent to Germany to search for Adolf Hitler alive, or for Hitler's body.

Kempner, leader of a squad of German secret agents who checked Nazi leaders' activities closely from 1928 to 1933, came to America in 1939. The Record says "Kempner recently arrived in Nuremberg as secretly as he left Washington. His orders to go to Germany were given directly by the White House. Altho he was designated as an 'expert consultant' to the judge advocate general of the army, it is believed his real mission is to direct a search for the missing Hitler under American auspices.

"Kempner left Nuremberg on an undisclosed mission. A White House spokesman confirmed the fact that Kempner flew to Europe on a 'White House priority.'"

URGES 'SUPERIOR WORLD' GROUPS CONTROL ATOM

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Dr. Harold C. Urey, discoverer of heavy hydrogen and head of the University of Chicago's institute of nuclear physics, said today that "if atomic bombs are used in the next war it seems certain that all the principal cities of the world, including those of the United States, will be utterly destroyed and their inhabitants killed."

Dr. Urey, 1934 Nobel prize winner in chemistry, urged immediate establishment of a "superior world government" with power to ban all production of atom bombs as the only alternative to global catastrophe.

"What will be needed," he said at a luncheon sponsored by the American-Scandinavian Foundation, "is a most efficient inspection service which will detect and report promptly any attempt to produce atom bombs or other heavy arms, and a sufficient police force to prevent such activities."

Stalin Dead? Embassy Says It Doesn't Know It

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21 [Special]—The soviet Russian embassy tonight told a reporter it had no information concerning the reported death of Dictator Stalin. The rest of Washington likewise was in the dark on any such development. The inquiries followed an announcement by the federal communications commission earlier in the day that it had recorded this broadcast of the French radio in Africa at Brazzaville: "A spokesman of the soviet embassy in Paris today denied the widespread rumors that Marshall Stalin is dead."

A-BOMB MAKES PLANE SUPREME, REPORT ASSERTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21—The atomic bomb and guided missiles such as rockets have made aviation the most effective military weapon for maintaining world security and have made a realistic national aviation policy a necessity, William A. M. Burden, assistant secretary of commerce for air, said today in a report to the board of trustees of the National Planning association, which is a private, nonprofit organization devoted to planning in industry, agriculture, labor, and government.

Burden, who is chairman of the association's advisory committee on the aircraft industry, made several recommendations dealing with military and civil aviation. He emphasized that "rapid expansion of commercial and private flying can make a great contribution to strengthening the aircraft manufacturing industry to the point where it provides an adequate minimum basis for national defense."

Need of Research

He said that a strong aircraft manufacturing industry is an "absolute prerequisite" to the proper functioning of civilian air commerce and a military air force.

Burden's recommendations stressed the need for aviation research, aircraft production large enough to maintain a strong, healthy aviation industry, a comprehensive program of industrial planning and mobilization, and encouragement of civil aviation.

Aviation has become a force whose effect on world security and economic development and the strategic position and domestic economy of the United States requires planning at the level of national policy, Burden asserted.

He said that this country's protection against armed aggression now depends upon an adequate air power to be used as part of the combined force of an international security organization or independently, if necessary.

He said his committee has concluded that the atomic bomb provides a means of attacking an enemy which may shorten "radically" the time required to destroy his ability for resistance. He added, however, that the atomic bomb is regarded as an instrument of air power and not as a substitute for it.

Asks Pooling of Secrets

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21 (AP)—A proposal that the United States share its knowledge of atomic power with any nation that will give up its own weapon secrets was made today by Rep. Vooris [D., Col.].

He suggested to the house military affairs committee that every nation entering into the pooling agreement throw open its war plants and laboratories to international inspection.

Failure to effect international controls, he said in a statement prepared for the committee, which is considering atomic bomb control legislation, will lead to a wide-open armaments race and "ultimate destruction."

Declaration of Policy

Voorhis said the United States must declare a general policy that "it does not propose to develop atomic energy for the purpose of precipitating an atomic war and stands ready to join fully and freely with other nations in an international control of this completely new and fearful force." He continued: "We just might save humanity by a frank proposal that, with every nation on the globe which will make a simple agreement with us, we will pool and share our knowledge of atomic power with whatever knowledge of military weapons they may possess. The agreement would be that every nation entering into it would open every nook and cranny of its land, every laboratory, munitions plant and factory to the inspection and control of an international body of scientists and others commissioned by all the nations to perform the task of preventing mankind from plunging itself into destruction."

Report 15 Are Marooned on Storm Swept Island

Denison, Tex., Oct. 21 (AP)—Army engineers reported tonight that 15 persons are marooned on an island in storm-swept Lake Texoma, 12 miles west of Denison. They said a houseboat was being sent to the rescue. Waves of the lake were 9 and 10 feet high, piled up by winds of 40 to 50 miles per hour.

REFUGEES FROM REDS: ROMANCE AND HORROR, TOO

Derelicts in Sweden Tell of Slavery, Fights

BY HAL FOUST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 21—Human driftwood from the wreckage of Europe, rescued and rehabilitated thru Sweden's respect for the dignity of man, includes many pitiable fugitives from the soviet union. The best place to meet them is at a collection camp 50 miles south of Stockholm.

There was a Finnish farmer's 20 year old daughter, the bride of two days of a Belgian to whom she could not speak 10 words of common language. He was a former prisoner of war whom she first saw just long enough ago to have a 9 month old baby. Their story began when the Belgian escaped from a German prisoner of war camp in Norway and hiked 500 miles thru the sparsely settled northland. He was sheltered and fed for several days at her father's farm, and when he left he promised to write to her.

After a Year—News

She got the letter, sent from Norway, almost a year later. It told her he had been recaptured by the Germans, returned to Norway and was planning a second escape, to Sweden. She took her baby and joined a party of Finns in a small boat sailing for Sweden. She and the Belgian were reunited at a refugee camp, where he learned that he was a father and promptly became a husband.

A slender woman of about 30, a natural platinum blonde with refined features, was reading Goethe while sitting beside the sleeping baby of her roommate. She, too, was a Finn. She had married a German soldier in her country. She showed a picture of him [in civilian clothes] and said he had refused to leave her when the German army retreated northward to Norway.

"The Russian soldiers came, as we knew they would," she continued. "Six came into our house and abused me. My husband came out of his hiding to defend me and they riddled him with bullets. Then they raped me. I fled to Sweden at my first chance."

Slavery for 49,000

There was Aleski Koski, 24, a school teacher of Ingria, ancient Russian district in the Leningrad area, who had fled to Finland shortly after the start of the war. A stomach ailment had excused him from military service. He said he did not want to return to his homeland, inhabited by his Finnish speaking people for 300 years, because the people were being deported to slave labor camps.

His people were being deported to the Volga valley and to the Caspian shore, the Ingrian said, and 49,000 had been enslaved. He told of a letter smuggled from a Russian concentration camp stating that inmates under heavy guard were being overworked behind barbed wire and underfed from common kettles like pigs. He left Finland while Red police were hunting recruits for communist labor camps.

Sees 40,000 Marched Away

There was a 50 year old Lithuanian in civilian clothes, a regular army colonel. He had been captured by the secret police and had escaped last January. On June 15, 1941, he said, he saw 40,000 of his countrymen, men, women, and children, marched eastward over highways toward compulsory servitude under the soviets. He escaped near Danzig and, disguised, joined German civilians in a hike to Denmark, whence the Red Cross helped him to Sweden.

There were two Italian Jewesses, one 19, the other 23. They had left their home voluntarily in 1940 in a trainload of persons going to Germany with promises of jobs. The jobs they got were at slave labor. The mother of the younger died in a concentration camp. They were liberated near the end of the war.

Bulgarian Red Leader to Return from Russia

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 21 [Reuters]—Geirgi Dimitrov, chief of the Bulgarian Communist party who won fame by his vigorous defense in the reichstag fire trial in 1933, will soon return to Bulgaria from Russia, it was announced at a meeting opening the "Fatherland Front" electoral campaign.

[Dimitrov, who assumed soviet citizenship after acquittal in the trial, recently resumed Bulgarian nationality in order to return to Bulgaria and stand as a candidate.]

REDS MANEUVER IN FORCE NEAR TURKISH BORDER

Tanks and Artillery Move to Area

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 21 (AP)—Soviet troops with freshly arrived tanks and artillery are maneuvering in southern Bulgaria near the border of European Turkey, ideal training ground for mechanized equipment.

Only a part of these troops have been in Bulgaria with the soviet occupation forces. Additional Red army units have been coming across the Danube from western Romania at a fairly constant rate for several weeks.

This is the third time in the last year that Russian troops have maneuvered near the Turkish-Bulgarian border, but previously the soldiers participating were those returning from the battlegrounds of eastern Europe.

Estimate 200,000 There

While official figures are lacking, dependable estimates place the total of Red army troops in Bulgaria at 200,000, with only a portion considered attached to the army of occupation.

The heavy armament coming into Bulgaria from Romania includes medium and heavy tanks and artillery of approximately 100 millimeters. They have been loaded on trains at the Danube crossing and taken into the interior. A sharp increase has been noted in the number of tanks moving thru the Sofia area.

Extensive maneuvers and training programs for the Bulgarian army have been in progress for a long time, and indications are that the Russians regard the Bulgarian army as an auxiliary.

Bulgars Man Frontier

A stiff training program is normal procedure for the Bulgarians, and there is much ground to be covered now in the transition from German to Russian equipment and methods in training new recruits.

Scattered information indicates that the Bulgarian forces are manning the frontier regions, while the Russian troops are well behind the border.

The Bulgarian forces are well salted with Russian training staffs, and thru the device of assistant commanders [political commissars] the Bulgarian Communist party has a strong hold on the army.

A good part of the Turkish-Bulgarian frontier region is ideal tank country, with low rolling hills providing cover and ground hard enough to support heavy tanks in most weather. This is particularly true in the southeastern sector at the approaches to Edirne [Adrianople], on the main rail line to Istanbul.

Extreme western Bulgaria is mountainous and unsuited for the best performance of mechanized equipment.

SWITCHMAN FOUND DEAD, GAS ON

On Sept. 16 the Polish Peasants party, the principal opposition threat to the present regime, held a rally in Cracow. One of its most prominent regional leaders was Rjeszow Kojder. The day after the rally I was informed that four uniformed men appeared at Kojder's home and took him away. Three days later he was found shot to death.

Punish Radio Director

On the recent anniversary of the Warsaw uprising the Polish radio was given a prepared script from on high full of digs at the former Warsaw resistance movement which is so unpopular in Moscow. The announcer protested and a woman program director, a former underground campaigner, acknowledged that she could not in all conscience ask him to read it; program phonograph records were substituted. A few days later the woman was called to account for the substitution and then discharged—on accusation there was a discrepancy of $10 in her accounts.

A responsible official told me that an employe of the Polish foreign office was discharged simply because he lunched too often with foreigners. One of the generals in the Warsaw uprising who died a few days ago was buried as a plain civilian without due military honors because his relatives feared reprisals.

Opposition Goes Underground

Thousands of incidents like these which do not occur under the American idea of democracy have engendered a reign of fear—a situation in which people dare to sing songs of the old Warsaw underground only behind closed doors; in which the press uniformly abstains from criticism of the government and opposition is found only in the illegal underground press; and, in which, in city after city across Poland, I encountered ordinary people afraid to say what political party they belong to.

There are two principal organizations of a police character in Poland. There is the army, the nucleus of which is the Polish forces which fought along with the Russians and which admittedly today is largely officered by Russians. Then there is the militia national police, nominally a civilian organization but uniformed almost indistinguishably from the army. This, admittedly, also has been subjected to strong Russian influence.

Behind the facades of these two organizations are numerous subsections, some of them secret. And it is a general impression among Poles that secret police are ubiquitous.

Fail to Preserve Order

What is the purpose of this reign of fear? There are two obvious answers. One is that police measures are taken to preserve order. If this be the aim the measures are failing notably. In Polish cities shooting is a nightly occurrence and even government officials are timid about traveling across the country by night.

The other obvious answer is that the present "provisional regime" is going to these extremes to suppress opposition and perpetuate itself. The official attitude is that sweeping measures are necessary against "reactionary" and "fascist" elements at large in Poland who jeopardize national unity—an argument exactly as old as authoritarianism itself.

CHARGES REDS BLOCK RECOVERY OF ALL EUROPE

Briton Assails Soviet Curtain of Silence

BY JAMES SLOAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, Oct. 21—Among problems "weighing down the scales against war-torn Europe's recovery" are "difficulties with the Russians, which should be avoidable between allies," Lt. Col. St. Vincent Troubridge said in an article in today's Sunday Empire News. Troubridge was a British member of Gen. Eisenhower's military government staff.

"If the four occupation zones of Germany are to be governed with any degree of uniformity, which must clearly be the basic intention in an inter-allied undertaking, each occupying nation must know what its three allied neighbors are doing," he said. "Yet at present an iron curtain of silence has descended, cutting off the Russian zone from the western allies."

'As Remote as Tibet'

"Everything east of a line running north and south approximately thru Luebeck and Brunswick — nearly two-thirds of Germany—and coming within 150 miles of the Rhine, now is as remote as and much less accessible than Tibet," said Troubridge.

The Russians still are using the excuse of military security to hide their activities, he said, and are not coöperating in the provision of food for the 12,000,000 population in the British zone, whom the British army has had to help feed despite the comparative plenty in the Russian zone.

Refugees Unbalance Food

As many as 10,000 to 20,000 unauthorized refugees a day have been seeping into the British zone, Troubridge reported, further unbalancing the ration scales.

Declaring the Germans won't be slow to turn to their advantage the unjustified suspicion and secrecy run mad, which are doing much to endanger the truly allied nature of occupation, Troubridge urged Eisenhower to "persuade our great Russian ally that foodstuffs and not refugees should stream westward and that a little more give and less take would help Europe to her feet."

Charges Drain of Resources

Another observer who has seen conditions in Germany at first hand corroborated Troubridge's report. Writing in Monday's News Chronicle, Vernon Bartlett, Independent member of parliament, just returned from a trip to Germany, charged: "The Russians are draining the resources of eastern Germany as ruthlessly as the Germans in their time drained those of western Russia, and they are making a desert of their zone less perhaps by way of a deliberate policy than because they are not particularly interested in the recovery of Germany. The British, on the other hand, need a prosperous Europe. Unlike the United States and the soviet union, they cannot afford to see the industries of the Ruhr destroyed, for these industries, especially coal, are essential to the recovery of European prosperity."

BERLIN PAPERS ARGUE OVER WHO CODDLES NAZIS

BERLIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—American and Russian controled newspapers in Berlin engaged in an open controversy today over the way Adolf Hitler's former followers were being treated in their respective zones of occupation.

The Allgemeine Zeitung, published by the United States army, attacked what it called "nazi rehabilitation" in non-American boroughs of Berlin and implied that the Communist party was responsible.

On the other hand, the soviet-controled Deutsche Volkszeitung, central organ of the Communist party, continued to splash foreign press reports of prominent Nazis still at large in the American zone, and added its own version of a "scandal" in the borough of Zehlendorf, in the American-controled sector of Berlin.

Take Cue from Eisenhower

The Allgemeine Zeitung, taking its cue from Gen. Eisenhower's criticism of the part played by Communists in Berlin political life, singled out Walter Ulbright, leading Communist organizer and former Moscow refugee, for its attack.

It asserted that Ulbright had told a meeting of Communist officials Oct. 12 that they should "help to free from fascist ideology" those who had been "simple followers, without an active part" in the Nazi movement.

The Deutsche Volkszeitung, referring to the "scandal" of Zehlendorf, said a public meeting of "antifascist women" had charged that acknowledged victims of fascism had been thrown out of their homes to make room for returning Nazis who had fled during the battle of Berlin.

Demand Changed Policy

The paper said the women claimed Nazis still were active in shops and businesses of Zehlendorf and "stormily demanded a change of policy for which the [American-supervised] borough buergermeister was responsible."

At the same time, the Deutsche Volkszeitung published a joint proclamation by the Communist and Social Democratic central committees calling for "democratic school reform." thruout the country.

"We demand clear separation of the church and school. No private schools must be allowed," the statement declared.

Under the policy laid down by the joint chiefs of staff to Eisenhower last spring, American authorities have made no distinction between public and religious schools in western Germany.

More Nazis Rounded Up for Belsen Atrocity Trial

HAMBURG, Germany, Oct. 21 (AP)—British military authorities said today they were rounding up in this area another group of Nazis who will be tried for crimes committed at the Belsen concentration camp. The defendants include Capt. Voegler, second in command under Josef Kramer at Belsen, and the head of the camp's political department.

Unveil Plaque in England Honoring Pilgrim Father

DROITWICH, England, Oct. 21 (AP)—A plaque honoring Edward Winslow, one of the Pilgrim fathers who sailed in the Mayflower in 1620, was unveiled here today. Lt. Comdr. Herbert Agar, personal assistant to U. S. Ambassador John G. Winant, unveiled the plaque in St. Peter's church, where Winslow was baptized on Oct. 20, 1595. He was three times governor of Plymouth colony in Massachusetts and died at sea in 1655.

CRITICS PROTEST DISBANDING OF PARATROOP UNIT

Cite Morale Value of 82d Air Borne

BY JOHN THOMPSON
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

BERLIN, Oct. 21—From a morale point of view the war department, in the opinion of experienced war correspondents and other military observers, has missed the boat in ordering disbandment of the famous 82d air borne division.

No other division fought in the Mediterranean and continental campaigns with more distinction. No other division can boast of such an array of battle won decorations from the United States and foreign governments. No other air borne division has had the experience of the 82d, which was our first into action and has fought in eight campaigns since its battle baptism in Sicily.

Yet war department staff officers have decided to ignore the 82d's record, deactivate it shortly, and commit it to the immediate future as a "paper" division.

101st to Be Retained

The war department plans call for only two air borne divisions for the regular army, altho use of air borne soldiers in World War II. greatly expanded the army's tactics. For its purposes high army staffers have picked the 101st air borne division, which distinguished itself in the Pacific. It would seem that the top brass hats overlooked their best bet in attracting volunteers to army service.

Critics have complained of the conservative army which frowned on adding any dash or color to army regiments or divisions. The army, say these critics, has seldom exploited distinctive decorations or battle records. As examples of successful exploitation they point to the British, who have built, between their wars, great esprit d'corps in their guard regiments or English and Scottish divisions.

Win Belgian Fourragere

The famous 1st infantry division and 1st cavalry division stand virtually alone in the United States army in possession of impressive battle honors or colorful decorations. The French fourragere won in World War I. by the 1st infantry division is one of the proudest possessions of the men who wear the red one shoulder patch.

In decorations alone the 82d airborne already has added greatly to the army's color. Its soldiers have been authorized to wear the red and green Belgian fourragere after being cited twice by the Belgian government for their heroic work in halting Field Marshal von Rundstedt in the Ardennes break-thru and in spearheading the attack which drove the Germans out of Belgium.

Recently Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands awarded the division Holland's highest military honor, given only once before to a Dutch unit and never before bestowed on foreigners. This was the military Willems order, which also carries the right for veterans of the Holland campaign to wear the orange lanyard of the Netherlands on their left shoulders. The award was given after Maj. Gen. James M. Gavin and his sky troops captured Nijmegen and Grosbeek, seized the bridges over the Maas and Waal rivers, and held all the division objectives in the allied air borne operation in September, 1944.

Has Presidential Citation

De Gaulle's government, it was reported, also has approved awarding the French fourragere to the 82d for its brilliant operations in the Normandy invasion, when it seized St. Mere Eglise in a bitter battle and broke the German line on the Contentin peninsula. For this Normandy campaign the division also was awarded America's Presidential citation, our highest unit award, a blue ribbon incased in a gold frame and worn on the right breast.

These are divisional honors, which even a recruit is entitled to wear. In addition, the 63,000 soldiers who have passed thru the division's rolls since it started in North Africa in 1943 have won the following medals: Two congressional medals of honor, 78 distinguished service crosses, 32 legions of merit, 894 silver stars, and 2,478 bronze stars.

But these medals were not won without cost. From the Sicily D-day minus one paratroop jump to its capture of the entire 21st German army in the closing days of the war, the division has lost 2,803 men killed, 8,186 wounded, 1,581 missing in action, and 1,667 captured in action.

But the war department is going to discard this record, which includes three battle streamers of World War I. when the unit had such heroes as Sgt. Alvin York and Gen. "Skinny" Wainwright.

GIVES PLEDGE OF DEMOCRACY FOR VENEZUELA

CARACAS, Venezuela, Oct. 21 (AP)—Romulo Betancourt, head of Venezuela's revolutionary junta, declared tonight that the new government would oppose "all forms of dictatorships, wherever they are found." He pledged that the junta would respect the rights of foreigners and their investments and keep Venezuela active in the Pan-American union.

The 37 year old Betancourt, a former newspaper columnist, promised to provide the country with "free, direct universal suffrage by secret ballot."

"We want to be governed as other liberal democratic nations like the United States—by the truly representative will of the people," he said. Betancourt added that a cabinet was to be selected at a meeting of democratic party leaders tonight and that the list of ministers would be announced tomorrow.

85,000 GREEK HOSTAGES FOUND IN WEST EUROPE

LONDON, Oct. 21 [Reuters]—A total of 85,000 Greek hostages and slave workers deported by the Nazis to Germany have been accounted for in the Anglo-American zones of Germany and in western Europe, the Greek repatriation commission, quoted by the Athens news agency, said today.

The statement added that it was impossible to determine how many Greek citizens are in the Russian zone.

Of the 85,000 deported, 50,000 were Jews. Of the Greek Christians deported, 24,000 have been repatriated, 2,200 were killed by the Nazis, 3,000 are in Munich, Brussels and Bari awaiting transport home, and 5,800 are working in Germany.

BRITISH PROTEST RUSSIAN PACT WITH HUNGARY

LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The British government has protested to Russia against the proposed five year soviet trade pact with Hungary, a foreign office spokesman said today. It was unofficially reported that the United States also has protested.

When the proposed pact first was announced some time ago, the foreign office spokesman said, the British government expressed surprise that "one of the allies could be prepared to conclude so large an agreement with an enemy country before the other allies had made peace with it and with little or no consultation with them."

NAZI MINISTER'S DIARY IS WEAPON OF ALLIED COURT

NUERNBERG, Germany, Oct. 21 (AP)—The diary and personal files of Reichsminister Alfred Rosenberg, discovered last spring behind a false wall in a Bavarian castle, may play a decisive part in the forthcoming trials of Rosenberg and 23 other nazi leaders.

Col. Robert G. Storey of Dallas, Tex., member of the trial staff, described the records as the "highest level documents" among the hundreds of tons of written evidence collected by the prosecution.

Rosenberg, who was reichsminister for eastern territories and a member of the reichstag, is revealed by his files as a tireless correspondent. Hundreds of personal letters were found to and from Hitler, Hess, Goering, and other key Nazis.

Signed: "A. Hitler."

Hitler's correspondence to Rosenberg was written in jumbo type a quarter of an inch high, indicating extreme nearsightedness on the part of the fuehrer and the vanity which prompted him to provide scores of special typewriters for himself and his staff rather than wear glasses.

The fuehrer signed his letters "A. Hitler," and many of them were initialed in red and blue ink by top ranking Nazis, showing they had read them and understood their contents.

"Have a Real Case"

"With these we have a real case and can prove all the major allegations in the indictment," an American member of the trial staff said.

Rosenberg's cache was discovered last May by United States Naval Lieut. John English, while searching a castle near Bayreuth for photographic evidence against the Nazis. English showed two folders of the documents to Storey, who then sent Maj. William Baldwin of Detroit to the castle to bring out the balance of them—2,500 pounds in all.

Deny Raeder Kidnaping

BERLIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—An American intelligence officer, commenting on reports published abroad that Grand Adm. Erich Raeder had been kidnaped from the Russians, said today the Russians had promised to deliver him in Nuernberg in advance of the war criminal trial.

The American expressed broad skepticism at the report that Raeder had been kidnaped, and said the Russians were serving the indictments on Raeder and Hans Fritsche, also in their custody. They also have promised to deliver Fritsche in time for the trial.

The intelligence officer said the Russians were interrogating the prisoners at an undisclosed place of confinement for evidence to be used at Nuernberg.

Tales of 4 Cities Picked Up in Day by Tribune Writer

BY HENRY WALES
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, Oct. 21—This was my busy day. Thanks to the airplane, I picked up stories in four different European capitals in one day while en route from Budapest to Paris via Naples.

I covered about 1,600 miles between 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. with four hours spent on the ground in different airports.

Most of the trips were aboard bucket seat jobs, but the last leg, Rome to Paris, I sat on the plush seat of a refitted bomber. Here are the four stories:

BUDAPEST, Hungary—Sprightly 85 year old Lovina Steward Smith is the sole American with a score of British subjects sleeping, sexes mixed, in bunks in the former Unitarian church here, awaiting repatriation.

Miss Smith was born in Floyd, Ia., worked on the Chicago Record Herald in 1900 and later lived in Los Angeles, Cal.

"I came to Hungary in 1907 as an English teacher," she said, "and made a trip to California every five years until 1938. I have no parents, brothers, sisters, cousins, or other kin left in the world. All my relatives are dead and I'm all alone, but I want to go home to America."

Miss Smith is the author of a history of Hungary.

VIENNA, Austria—American aviation personnel stationed at Tulln airdrome here today celebrated because the Russians granted them permission to use the direct highway to Vienna, only 14 miles distant.

Since their arrival months ago, the Yanks were required to proceed to Vienna thru the American zone, a distance of 40 miles, which prevented them from going to the capital nightly for relaxation.

Now, thanks to Russian permission to drive direct via Red army route No. 1, they can visit the Vienna night clubs, and swanky military mission messes every night.

ROME, Italy—Maurice Cartoux, European representative of Western Union, today completed negotiations to take over the Italian cable to the United States and to begin traffic operations immediately.

Mussolini laid the cable 20 years ago, the only Italian outlet to America. It was cut in the Straits of Gibraltar by the British when Italy entered the war.

"The cable station is at Anzio, where the Americans established their beachhead, and is badly shot up, but can be repaired soon," Cartoux said. "The cable has been spliced to a new shore line, with connections to Rome, and soon will be operating.

PARIS, France—Despite the scarcity of coal for the coming winter, Paris looks like its former self—the City of Light—as one approaches from the air. Millions of electric lights, twinkling over the vast expanse of the capital, are in startling contrast to the lack of illumination in other European cities, where the coal crisis enforces the strictest economy.

Orly air field, used by American aviation, is lighted up by a mile long lane of brilliant yellow bulbs to mark the landing strip. The entire airport has been reconstructed for commercial use, which is starting immediately with trans-Atlantic flights terminating here.

KURD PEASANTS START FIGHT FOR INDEPENDENCE

TEHRAN, Iran, Oct. 21 (AP)—Continuing disorders were reported today in Kurdistan, isolated Russian-occupied area of northern Iran, where an independence movement among shepherds and peasants has resulted in a number of incidents.

Persian gendarmes were unable to obtain permission from the Russian military — who arrived in 1941 to guard the Iranian supply route—to enter the area and restore order.

A newly formed "democratic" party has ordered authorities in the area to change the official language from Persian to a local Turkish dialect, one report said.

REVEAL BATTLE BETWEEN REDS, CHINESE CADETS

70 Students Killed or Wounded in Fight

PEIPING, China, Oct. 21 (AP) — Seventy students were killed or wounded and four barracks were burned to the ground in fighting between cadets of the Chin Ho military academy and professed members of the Communist 8th Route army, it was learned today.

The clash, the most sizable to be reported in this area, occurred on the night of Oct. 8.

Witnesses said about 200 men entered the academy, 10 miles northwest of Peiping, before midnight, awakened the sleeping cadets; ordered them to disarm and invited them to join the 8th Route army.

The Chin Ho cadets refused to give up their arms. Shots were fired and soon there was a general melee.

First one barracks, then another went up in flames as the battle developed.

Other Red Activities Told

When the invaders withdrew before dawn carrying their own wounded, 10 cadets had been burned to death, 20 more were killed and 30 to 40 others wounded. Casualties of their opponents were not known.

There were reports of other communist activities with indications that an effort might be made to seize Nankow pass where the Japanese formerly maintained six garrisons guarding the strategic gap in the Great Wall thru which all caravans between Mongolia and north China enter Hopeh province. The Communists were said to have seized Huai Lai village on the Peiping-Kalgan railway a few miles west of Nankow pass.

Reds Withdraw for "Unity"

CHUNGKING, China, Oct. 21 (AP)—Communist forces south of the Yangtze river are moving northward in accordance with concessions offered during the recent unity talks at Chungking, the Communists reported in an official statement here today.

The statement declared the withdrawal was being carried out with a view to establishing peace and unity in China.

Consequently, it said, communist forces had orders not to contend with central government troops over acceptance of the Japanese surrender in such cities as Shanghai, Nanking, Hangchow, and Ningpo.

The areas from which the Communists are pulling out include southern Kiansu, southern Anhwei, eastern and western Chekiang.

The statement said the Communists "with pain in their hearts" were saying good-by to the people of these areas, with whom they had lived for eight years "like fish and water." It exhorted the people south of the Yangtze to understand "the sorrow we have to bear for the sake of peace and unity."

Appeal for Democracy

Finally the statement appealed to the central government to carry out its promise to democratize politics, nationalize the army, and accord legal status to all parties "so as to achieve as soon as possible an independent, free, prosperous China."

Other quarters in Chungking, while welcoming the reported communist withdrawal from areas south of the Yangtze, appeared to regard it as a mixed blessing—on the ground that the movement would strengthen the communist position north of the river.

Some sources attributed the movement to the growing strength of central government forces south of the Yangtze, against whom, they said, the Communists now realized they were in no position to contend.

Other bulletins, issued from the Yenan headquarters of the Communists, alleged that central government forces—sometimes with the cooperation of Japanese troops—were attacking "liberated areas."

Tell Gains, Losses

One statement claimed the Communists had wrested from the Japanese 205 towns in different parts of the country since Japan's surrender. It said the Communists had lost 29 towns to central government forces or Japanese since the surrender.

Particular attention was being paid in Chungking to the efforts of Chinese central government authorities to compose the situation in Sinkiang province—one of Asia's most troubled areas—and thereby avoid possible friction between China and Russia.

RED INVENTOR PERFECTS FILM IN 3D DIMENSION

MOSCOW, Oct. 21 (AP)—The soviet film industry is preparing a surprise for the world's movie fans—a special production of "Robinson Crusoe" to be exhibited on a new steroscopic screen designed to give rounded three dimensional images.

Semeon Pavlovich Ivanov, the inventor, said today that the screen creates an illusion so perfect that viewers unconsciously dodge when pictures of birds or airplanes are shown.

"I saw them reach out their hands to catch flowers that were thrown," he continued. "In a scene in which confetti streamers were trailing over the screen I even saw a man in the audience get up and whip his cane around above his head to see if anything really was there." The effects are achieved by projecting a specially designed film with a double row of images side by side onto a screen made of 2,000 exactly cut and matched pieces of mirror glass.

DR. KOO URGES CHRISTIANITY AS BASIS OF PEACE

Acceptance of Christianity as the basis of world wide peace was urged last night by Dr. T. Z. Koo, advisor to the Chinese delegation at the San Francisco conference, in a talk before the Sunday Evening club in Orchestra hall.

Dr. Koo, warning that no nation could keep the secret of the atomic bomb, said: "Unless a united world can be achieved the day of destruction will inevitably arrive. Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness, then all things, including atomic energy, will be added for your enjoyment."

Dr. Koo, secretary of the World's Student Christian federation, fulfilled a long postponed engagement to appear before the club. He was scheduled to speak in January, 1942, but was prevented from leaving Hong Kong after the attack on Pearl Harbor.

STORM TOSSED YANKS TELL OF FIGHTING SHARKS

HONOLULU, T. H., Oct. 21 (AP)—Two survivors of Okinawa typhoons Sept. 16 and Oct. 9 today told of their struggle against waves as high as a seven story building, of fighting sharks, and of their thirst and hunger after their minesweepers were crushed by the tremendous seas.

The two men who escaped in the giant storms which swept thru the tiny island were Ralph Harrison, 23, of Whittier, Cal., one of six out of 33 crewmen to survive, and Lowell J. Bemis, 20, of Port Angeles, Wash., who was the lone member of another crew of 33 to escape death.

The two survivors were aboard ships off Okinawa during the second typhoon, but this time their vessels rode out the high waves.

Nine Men on One Raft

Harrison and the rest of the crew plunged into the sea Sept. 16 when their minesweeper began a 90 degree roll. Only one life raft could be lowered. Harrison and eight other men found refuge on this raft, but only five of them survived. After drifting for six days they were rescued by a naval rescue plane.

One seaman, after two days adrift, decided to swim for shore, five miles away, but was killed almost immediately by a shark.

The next day a second man became delirious and stepped off the raft to "go below and get some cold fruit juice." He was drowned. Two other men did the same thing the day following.

Floats for 56 Hours

Harrison advised the survivors to pray aloud. "I induced the boys to pray silently from the start, but after we began praying out loud we were rescued within 30 minutes," Harrison said.

Bemis was in a convoy from Saipan when the Sept. 16 typhoon struck. His minesweeper quickly submerged under heavy waves. With two companions, Bemis, aided by a lifebelt, kept afloat for 56 hours before reaching a small island.

His two companions, weakened by the waves, drowned. Bemis was attacked by a shark on his second day in the water. The fish cut a hole in his arm.

Wood Alcohol Kills Four More Americans in Japan

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Oct. 21 (AP)—Wood alcohol obtained by Japanese civilians from abandoned or poorly guarded American supplies and sold as a beverage, claimed four more American lives in the Tokyo-Yokohama area last week, Brig. Gen. George W. Rice, 8th army surgeon, said today.

HUNT GIANT PANDAS IN CHINA MOUNTAINS FOR ZOO OF LONDON

CHUNGKING, China, Oct. 21 (AP)—A hunt is in progress in the mountains of western Szechwan province for two baby giant pandas for the London zoo, which requested them last May.

China's executive Yuan gave special permission for the hunt, and the pandas, when found, will be sent to England as gifts of the province.

Dr. David Graham, American professor at West China university at Chengtu, who supervised the capture of two pandas presented to the New York Bronx zoo in 1941, has offered his aid in the search.

BRITISH OFFER SHANGHAI POLICE JOBS IN GERMANY

SHANGHAI, China, Oct. 21 (AP)—British and Indians who formerly composed the Shanghai municipal police in the international settlement have been offered police jobs by the British army of occupation in Germany, and approximately 200 have indicated their interest in transfer.

H. D. M. Robertson, formerly deputy commissioner of the Shanghai municipal police, said a letter seeking applications had been received from British authorities in Berlin.

Approximately 160 of the pre-war force have indicated a willingness to continue in police jobs in Hong Kong, Burma, and Singapore.

HITLER'S AIDE SENDS SISTER TO A PRISON CAMP

MUNICH, Bavaria, Oct. 21 (AP)—One of Hitler's personal aides let his own stepsister be sent to a concentration camp because she embarrassed him by her friendship with Poles and Jews. That was the story told by Olga Schaub, brunette actress, who walked into headquarters of the United States counter-intelligence corps to volunteer testimony against her stepbrother, Julius Schaub.

Miss Schaub said she spent 16 months in Ravensbrueck concentration camp without a word of help from Schaub, who was an SS brigadier general and an aide to Hitler. She said she suspected he had something to do with her arrest on charges of suspected espionage and collaboration with Jews and Poles.

Schaub, who is in custody as a witness in the war crimes trials, recently told army interrogators that he regarded Hitler as a martyr and insisted that concentration camps were necessary "for the good of the nation."

KONOYE ASKED BY M'ARTHUR TO HEAD NEW PARTY

Will Also Revise the Jap Constitution

TOKYO, Oct. 21 (AP)—Prince Fumimaro Konoye said today that Gen. MacArthur had suggested that he head a political movement and revise the Japanese constitution in a sweeping alteration which may include an unprecedented provision for abdication of the emperor.

Konoye said American authorities would approve the constitutional revision draft before it is presented to the emperor, probably late in November.

The prince, three time premier and vice premier of the first post-war cabinet, spoke of the abdication clause as purely a possibility at present.

Since Japan's surrender, there have been repeated denials that Hirohito would abdicate, the Japanese pointing out that there was no legal provision for such a step.

Asked to Head Move

Konoye's conference with MacArthur in the supreme commander's office Oct. 4 inaugurated the constitutional revision movement, Konoye disclosed. He said he had talked to MacArthur early in September, explaining "my official activities since 1937."

Konoye said, "at that time Gen. MacArthur said in a general way he thought I should lead a liberal movement in Japan."

The prince, who was premier at the time Japan embarked on the "China incident," said he sought his second interview with MacArthur in order to explain his record more fully "because the interpreter at the first meeting was not too skilful and I was afraid my ideas were not clearly expressed."

Reports to Emperor

This second meeting was held on the same day that MacArthur issued his "freedom directive" which toppled the Japanese cabinet the next day. A week later the general issued his five point outline for Japanese social reforms.

"Gen. MacArthur opened the conversation with a very determined statement that the constitution needed liberalizing, and then suggested that I take the lead in such a movement," Konoye said. "I replied that constitutional amendments could be initiated only by the emperor, but I promised I would report the general's wishes to his majesty."

Konoye said he then made such a report and the emperor commanded him to undertake the constitutional revision.

Will Keep U. S. Informed

The prince said American officials would be kept fully informed of all details and that MacArthur had instructed him to bring to supreme headquarters any special problems.

Provision for abdication of an emperor is one question to be considered, Konoye said. Present laws disregard such a possibility, on the assumption that an emperor rules for life, even tho, as in the case of Hirohito's father, actual sovereignty is relinquished to a regency.

Konoye insisted that while he had been approached by Japanese on the question of forming and heading a new political party, he had not yet given his answer.

Socialists Give Platform

The Domei agency reported today that the new Japanese Socialist party announced a 39 point platform calling for industrial and farm labor reforms without insisting upon a full socialist program.

Party leaders, the agency said, refused to join the Communists under the recently released political prisoner Yoshio Shiga in a united front.

The socialist platform advocates creation of three new cabinet ministers—labor, national construction, and social insurance. The construction minister would be in charge of rehabilitation.

Want Land Distributed

Domei said the platform called for "rational distribution of land" in proposed agricultural reforms, which include reduction of oppressive land rents, renovation of the present system of absentee landlords, and large scale development of reclamation for agricultural lands.

The platform, according to the agency, also proposes "participation of laborers in the management of industries" among labor reforms which include: legalization of labor unions, collective bargaining, establishment of minimum wages, and a 48 hour week.

PLANES BEARING RED STAR BOMB CHINESE, CHARGE

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

CHUNGKING, China, Oct. 21 — Planes bearing red star markings bombed Chinese troops in the western border province of Sinkiang for three days last month as part of the undeclared war between Chinese and Moslem Kazakh forces, in which 60 per cent of the Chinese 58th division was wiped out, informed sources here said today.

These sources asserted 7,000 Russians were stationed alongside 21,000 Kazakh troops before the fighting ended in a temporary truce Sept. 15. During the fighting the Kazakhs, equipped with tanks and field pieces as well as planes, extended their small salient in the Ila district as far as Wusu in the northwest corner of the province.

Gen. Chang Chih-Chung, director of the Chinese national military council's political training board, is now at Tihwa negotiating with Kazakh representatives.

SEEK SUPPORT, FREEDOM IN OIL DEALS ABROAD

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—A group of American petroleum executives has said the United States would lose its foreign oil development and markets unless its companies are permitted "the same freedom of action as their foreign competitors to operate in accordance with the laws and customs of foreign countries."

B. Brewster Jennings, president of Socony-Vacuum Oil company, submitted the group's report to Sen. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.], chairman of a special senate committee investigating petroleum resources.

"Political risks are even more onerous than economic and physical risks in foreign activities," the report said. "The government should proclaim to the world its backing of its nationals in their search for and development of foreign oil resources and make clear that it will expect its nationals to receive treatment not less favorable than that accorded to nationals of foreign countries and to competing government controled companies."

INTERNATIONAL COURTS TO HOLD JAP WAR TRIALS

TOYKO, Oct. 21 (AP)—Gen. MacArthur's legal officer, Col. Alva C. Carpenter, hinted today that special international tribunals will be instituted to try certain Japanese charged with crimes against all allies, and that members of the imperial family are not immune.

Carpenter said war criminal trials, which may begin within 30 days, will last for at least two years and that Japanese facing trial totalled 2,000 and might climb to twice that number. Five hundred Japanese are now in custody.

Carpenter said the emperor had not been investigated as an individual, but that if examinations of state papers led to the imperial household they would be followed regardless of where they go.

Will Act for Russia

International courts may be established in some cases to try some class 1 defendants whose alleged acts were directed against all allied powers, Carpenter announced. This also may be done in the cases of some class 3 suspects who are accused of atrocities against the nationals of several countries.

"For instance," Carpenter pointed out, "it would be foolish for us to try a Japanese prison camp guard for slapping an American if we learned he had killed an Australian. There will be close collaboration between the allies and I anticipate no disputes over jurisdiction."

He added that this applied to Russia as well as other allies, altho as yet "the soviet union had made no demands to try any one on our list."

Three Classes of Criminals

Investigations are probing back as far as 1937, when the "China incident" broke out, and include the sinking of the American gunboat Panay near Nanking, he disclosed.

Japanese industrial classes, including directors of the Domei news and propaganda agency, and newspaper leaders, also are being investigated.

The thousands of war criminal cases were classified into these major categories:

1. Political defendants — Cabinet members and other government officials accused of actually fomenting war.
2. Military commanders who permitted or ordered crimes and atrocities committed by subordinates.
3. Minor Japanese officers and authorities who actually carried out the orders to torture and execute.

Tojo Won't Be First

Altho former Premier Tojo is considered number one defendant, his trial is not likely to come up first because evidence against other prisoners has advanced further toward completion, Carpenter said.

In all sections of the Pacific there are approximately 600 Japanese under arrest awaiting trials, and new arrests are taking place daily.

Carpenter said there would be a number of common trials as distinguished from mass trials. By common trials he meant cases where different charges came under the same general category and they might be aired against a series of defendants at the same time.

When feasible, witnesses will be brought into the courts to testify, but in many trials sworn statements will be presented.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 21 (AP)—Four years ago Raymond McGinty went to war, leaving behind a 13 year old foster sister, Martha, still in pigtails.

Yesterday, former Lt. McGinty, 30, and tall, comely Martha, with the aid of Orphan's court, took the first step toward becoming husband and wife.

Orphan's court judges ruled the marriage license could be granted because there were no blood ties. Mrs. Gertrude McGinty, mother of Raymond, signed a consent for her foster daughter. The wedding is to be Nov. 6.

"I won't know which side of the church to sit on," worried Mrs. McGinty.

KOREAN CALLS TRUSTEESHIP PLAN SHOCKING

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 21 (AP)—Kilsoo K. Haan, Washington representative of the Sino-Korean Peoples' league, said here today that the United States state department proposal of an international trusteeship for Korea was "a shocking surprise" and "another slap to the 26 million Koreans."

The trusteeship proposal was disclosed by John Carter Vincent, director of the state department's office of far eastern affairs, in an address yesterday before the Foreign Policy association forum in New York. Vincent suggested that the trusteeship continue until Koreans are ready for independence.

Haan, whose league aided the allies as an anti-Japanese underground organization during the war, declared in a statement that he was assured by representatives of the United States, Great Britain, China, and the Philippines during the allies conference in San Francisco that Korea would be granted independence without a trusteeship. He said the present division of Korea between American and Russian troops was part of a "divide and rule" policy.

REVEAL NAMES OF 15 U. S. FLYERS KILLED BY JAPS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21 (AP)—Names of 15 American flyers who were executed by the Japanese in Formosa last June after being taken prisoner were made public today by the army and navy. The two services, who have notified the slain men's families, disclosed no additional details. Eleven of the victims were navy flyers, the remainder army men. The navy men executed included Lt. [j. g.] Harwood S. Sharp, whose widow, Irene, lives at 11696 Mendota av., Detroit, Mich. The army men executed included: Sgt. Merlin W. Riggs, whose mother, Mrs. Agnes Riggs, lives at 312 7th av., Three Rivers, Mich.

MOCK EXECUTION TORTURE BY JAPS TOLD BY FLYER

Mr. and Mrs. W. Lyle McDaniel, 49 E. Oak st., learned yesterday how their son, Lt. William McDaniel, pilot of a P-47N fighter plane, which crashed in Seoul harbor, Korea, on Aug. 14, was tortured by the Japs the day after the war ended.

Lt. William McDaniel

The details were contained in a dispatch by Arthur Veysey, Tribune correspondent on Korea.

Lt. McDaniel was flying low over Korea seeking a trace of Lt. Dallas Yeargain of Pine Bluff, Ark., who had been shot down the previous day, when his right wing tank was set afire by bullets from a Jap fighter plane. McDaniel climbed and the wind put out the fire, but over Seoul harbor the fire broke out again and the plane went into a spin.

Picked Up by Jap Patrol

Lt. McDaniel bailed out at 1,000 feet and fell into the harbor. He inflated a life raft and paddled to a rock jutting out of the harbor. The next morning a Jap fisherman sighted him, and that afternoon he was picked up by a Jap patrol boat. The next day he was marched to a Jap prison camp.

There on the following day, the day after the war ended, he was blindfolded and led into a courtyard. The Japs shackled his legs with chains and made him kneel.

A firing squad marched into place, and he heard the action of the bolts as bullets were snapped into the guns. A Jap officer shouted "Fire" and a volley rang out.

Jap Idea of Joke

McDaniel was unscathed. The rifles were reloaded and the officer again shouted "Fire." This was repeated two more times.

Then McDaniel was led from the courtyard, placed on a truck, and taken to a military prison, where he found 158 Australians and British captured at Singapore, and Lt. Yeargain.

Yeargain, who had arrived at the prison only a few hours earlier, also had been similarly tortured, except that his mock execution was performed with a beheading sword, which was stayed each time just as it touched his neck. Both men were freed when troops from the 7th division reached the prison Sept. 9.

Home in Few Days

Lt. McDaniel reached San Francisco two weeks ago and now is visiting relatives in Salt Lake City, Utah. He is expected home in a few days.

Lt. McDaniel attended Highland Park High school and was a student at the University of Iowa when he entered the army in February, 1943. His father is vice president of the Massey Concrete Products company.

HOSPITAL SHIP SENT TO U. S. INSTEAD OF JAPAN AFTER PROTEST

MANILA, Oct. 21 (AP)—The United States hospital ship Mercy got hastily changed orders today to proceed homeward with American patients after army medical men protested the original directive to repatriate Japanese prisoners of war.

Japanese prisoners were at the dockside awaiting loading when orders for the Mercy to go to the United States were received. Almost all the medical personnel aboard the ship are eligible for discharge.

Japs to Send Ship

TOKYO, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Japanese hospital ship Takasago Maru will be sent to Manila for the transfer home of Japanese prisoner patients. Supreme headquarters said the ship would sail about midweek and has a patient capacity of about 1,000.

SEEKS TO BAR STRIKES DURING 'COOLING OFF'

Ramspeck Offers Plan to Ease Labor Unrest

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21 (AP)—A new plan to ease labor unrest was projected in congressional quarters tonight on the eve of an expected Presidential statement on the wage-price issue.

The plan, advanced by Rep. Ramspeck [D., Ga.], majority whip and acting chairman of the house labor committee, would bar strikes during a compulsory "cooling off, fact finding" period. It would be patterned after the present working relationship of the railroad brotherhoods with management and the government.

In line with his already stated policy of encouraging wage increases that do not force higher prices, President Truman was reported ready to emphasize collective bargaining rather than government controls.

Ramspeck Tells Plan

Mr. Truman said last week he planned to express his views soon, and he has been conferring with his advisers on the subject, as well as with the president of one of the country's biggest employers, Charles E. Wilson of General Motors corporation.

Ramspeck told a reporter it would be unconstitutional to prohibit strikes entirely, as advocated by some groups. He said he believed legislation could be adopted requiring:

1. If disputes cannot be settled by collective bargaining the President should name a three member impartial board to make a fact finding study and submit recommendations.

2. Strikes be forbidden during the period the board is investigating the controversy.

3. The board's recommendations should not be binding, but should be stated forcefully so that public opinion would be brought to bear on either employes or employers, whichever appeared to have the least justification for their stand.

Allows Plenty of Time

"Under such a plan, which has worked very well for the railroads and the brotherhoods, the investigation period would allow plenty of time for 'cooling off' and the controversy could be settled on its merits," Ramspeck said.

"The government can't compel a man to work for another man, but public opinion and a clear understanding of the facts can make him see what is the right thing to do."

The house military committee went ahead with plans to rush thru repeal of at least part of the Smith-Connally war labor disputes act.

The committee meets in closed session Tuesday, and Chairman May [D., Ky.] told a reporter he expected at that time the group would complete action on a repealer bill. The section providing that the government must conduct a strike vote 30 days after notification by a union definitely will be stricken from the act, he said.

RETAILERS BACK RETURN OF JOB AID TO STATES

The Illinois Federation of Retail Associations recently telegraphed all Illinois congressmen, asking their support for house resolution 4407, which contains an amendment offered by Rep. Dirksen [R., Ill.] to cut off appropriations for federal operation of employment services and appropriate 30 million dollars for state operation of the program.

"The success of this proposal to return this vital operation to the respective states transcends political lines," the federation said. "Insuring of state operation and control of the giving of jobs promises a speeding up of reconversion, more comprehensive and sensible administration of state unemployment compensation insurance procedure, and a far better break for employes, war veterans seeking jobs, and present and future employers of these people."

UNION TO VOTE ON $550,000 GIFT TO MEMBERSHIP

Open Building Service Group Parley Today

BY GEORGE HARTMANN

The Building Service Employes International union [AFL] will open its five day convention today in the Morrison hotel. More than 500 delegates representing 150,000 members of 250 local unions of the international are to attend.

William L. McFetridge, president of the union, who also heads local 1 of the Chicago Flat Janitors union, will preside. William H. Cooper of Milwaukee, Wis., who is secretary-treasurer, will be in general charge of the details of the meeting.

Proposes Four Benefits

Cooper also will report on the international union's treasury growth in the last five years. McFetridge said he hoped the delegates would vote to transfer the $550,000 in the union's fund back to the membership in the form of benefits "because it belongs to them."

McFetridge's proposals for returning the international's funds to the 150,000 janitresses, janitors, scrubwomen, and elevator operators who paid the money into the union are these:

1. Establish a hospitalization plan for members and their families.

Scholarships for Children

2. Set up a scholarship plan for children of members "to fit them for positions far above those of their fathers and mothers."

3. Arrange with leading universities for special courses for local union officials now in office "to fit them for better union leadership."

4. Increase death benefits of members to $500. This would be in addition to those paid by local unions.

GERMANS ASK VARIETY OF NEWS AND MORE PAPER

MARBURG, Germany, Oct. 21 (AP)—Editors and publishers of 12 newspapers in the American occupation zone of Germany asked today for additional newsprint and more licensed journalists, in order "to bring the German name back into the proper light in the world."

The editors, at a meeting here, also complained about the uniformity of their newspapers, caused by the fact that they all use the same official news service.

The delegates were told they would be given enough newsprint for two extra pages to carry reports on the forthcoming trials of Nazi leaders at Nuernberg.

Singapore Poison Liquor Ring Smashed by Police

SINGAPORE, Oct. 21 (AP)—British military police said today they had smashed a poison liquor ring which caused deaths and blindness among allied service men in Singapore. A 50 man marine raiding squad, striking everywhere from slum dives to exclusive clubs, seized thousands of bottles containing methyl alcohol.

3,100 MORE SOLDIERS ASSIGNED TO UNLOAD BRITISH FOOD SHIPS

LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP) — A new force of 3,100 war trained service troops, many of them brought from the Continent, was assigned today to unload food ships in Britain's strike-bound ports.

This move, bringing the total number of soldiers so employed to 10,325, found most of 40,000 idle longshoremen apparently determined to remain on strike, despite efforts of the government and union leaders to steer them back to work.

London dockers formed a five man committee to present their case to the people. The strikers seek wage increases to $5 a day.

30 DAY STRIKE BY 1,500 ENDS AT G. E. PLANT

A 30 day strike involving 1,500 employes of the General Electric X-ray corporation, 2012 Jackson blvd., was terminated yesterday when the strikers were told the walkout was illegal by their officers of the International Association of Machinists [AFL].

Meeting in Machinist's hall, 113 S. Ashland blvd., the workers voted 350 to 146 in favor of returning to their jobs this morning. The strike began Sept. 21 when the local union made demands for a union shop and pay increases.

Operations also will be resumed this morning at the Revere Copper and Brass company, 2200 Natchez av., when 1,400 employes return to work. The plant was closed Sept. 13 when a strike by 100 foremen forced the others into idleness.

Altho normal conditions were restored in the Palmer House after a nine hour strike Saturday by members of the Elevator Operators and Starters union [AFL], a strike involving 33 barbers and 24 manicurists in the hotel barber shop remained in effect yesterday. The shop is operated by the Terminal Barber Shops, Inc., of New York, tenants of the hotel building.

BULLET FIRED INTO PEPPER'S ROOM IN ROME

ROME, Oct. 21 (AP)—A small calibre bullet was fired thru the window of an apartment in which United States Senator Pepper of Florida was dining last night.

Capt, A. A. Burck, Minneapolis, Minn., with whom the senator was having a late dinner after attending the opera, said the shot, reported by a maid, buried itself in the woodwork. "I am certain," Burck said, "the firing of the bullet had nothing to do with Pepper's presence."

Pepper is on an extended tour of Europe and the middle east to gather data for the foreign trade subcommittee of small business committee, of which he is chairman.

TAKE $360 LOOT IN HOME BURGLARY

Burglars took $60, a radio, two watches, a ring, and a suit of clothing, all valued at $300, from his home, Benny Wroblewski, 4811 Komensky av., told police yesterday.

GLASS WORKERS IN 7 STATES SET TO STRIKE TODAY

Columbus, O., Oct. 21 (AP)—No effort was made during the week-end to forestall a walk-out tomorrow of 15,000 glass workers in seven states, a spokesman for the CIO Federation of Glass, Ceramic and Silica Sand Workers of America said tonight.

"I know of no last minute meetings," said Lewis McCracken, federation secretary-treasurer, "and the strike definitely will go as scheduled."

McCracken said workers would be off their jobs by 6 a. m. tomorrow in plants of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company and the Libbey-Owens-Ford company in the following cities: Toledo and Mount Vernon, O.; Ford City and Creighton, Pa.; Clarksburg and Charleston, W. Va.; Ottawa, Ill.; Crystal City, Mo.; Henrietta, Okla., and Shreveport, La.

Negotiations Broken Off

The strike action followed breakdown of contract negotiations, McCracken told a reporter. He said company representatives refused to meet with union officials in Chicago Monday and after vain attempts to get together "we just came home" Wednesday. John D. Biggers, Libbey-Owens-Ford president, said at Toledo that when Chicago negotiations were broken off the "wage discussion had progressed to the point where there was a difference of less than 5 cents an hour between the wage demands of the union and the proposal of the companies."

The company had asked that a strike in its Ottawa, Ill., plant be settled before negotiations continued.

5,000 Steel Workers Idle

Canton, O., Oct. 21 (AP) — Some 5,000 CIO-United Steel Workers were made idle today and all operations were shut down at the Canton alloy division of the Republic Steel corporation by a strike of 144 transportation employes, union officials and company spokesmen reported.

Samuel Stokes, local union president, said the railroad workers walked out last night because the "management violated company-union contract provisions by putting on a new diesel engine without previously notifying the union of the action."

Stokes said the men walked off their jobs because one man operation of the new diesel engine, allegedly directed by the company, would be "unsafe." The union demanded a two man crew.

Power Strike Ends

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 21 (AP)—The Consumers Power company, which serves gas and electricity to virtually all southern Michigan outside Detroit, operated on regular shifts today after settlement of a three day strike. By a vote of 568 to 363, with 14 of 22 locals favoring, the CIO's State Utility Workers' council agreed last night to return to work on the basis of a wage agreement reached with the help of federal representatives. The union accepted a 13 cent an hour pay increase.

Seeks Film Strike End

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 21 (AP)—Eric Johnston, head of the Motion Picture Producers' association, said tonight he would appear before the executive council of the AFL in Cincinnati next Tuesday to urge a "prompt and fair settlement" of the movie strike.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE

FINDS PALESTINE CALM DESPITE JITTERS ABROAD

Hints Ulterior Motive in Outside Agitation

BY ALEX SMALL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

JERUSALEM, Oct. 21 — Despite the alarming reports from abroad of tension in Palestine, residents of the Holy Land today show an attitude of tranquility which admits of no fear that the country is about to witness serious clashes, such as those of 1936 and 1939. Nevertheless British armed forces continue to enter the area.

People here, however, are convinced that present British strength is more than ample to deal with Palestine. Therefore they believe there is another reason for this British activity. Only high quarters in London could explain why there is so much of a British force in this corner of the world, why so much engineering is being undertaken and why so many air fields are being laid out in the region beginning south of Palestine across the Sinai desert to Qantara, the Suez canal, and Ismailia.

In view of present circumstances the world outside Palestine may well wonder if it was hoaxed by stories a few weeks ago of the imminence of bloody strife in this country. The answer is that reports of high tension came from outside sources.

Arabs, Jews Friendly

Relations between the Arabs and the Jews actually have reached a state of amiability that an observer who was here nine years ago finds incredible. Arab and Jewish news reporters were found together today in Jerusalem's coffee houses comparing notes and mixed groups were seen in hotels, restaurants and other public places. An Arab journalist from Jaffa, visiting in Jerusalem, said that in the twin cities of Jaffa and Tel Aviv Jews now go freely and fearlessly about Jaffa and, reciprocally, Arabs about Tel Aviv — a condition previously unknown and believed impossible. Likewise from all over the country come stories of coöperation between Arab villages and nearby Jewish agricultural colonies.

Among the factors entering into this harmony is the Jewish conviction that the present contest is not against the Arabs but against the British or specifically, the government at Westminster. The Arabs thus are regarded as pawns in the game and viewed with tolerance or condescension.

Arabs Feel Secure

The Arabs, if politically minded, feel that for the moment the game is in their hands, that the British, in view of the whole middle east situation, do not dare to antagonize seriously the Arab league and that their role will be simply that of spectators in any controversy.

More important is the simple fact that both Jews and Arabs are far more prosperous than in previous troubled times. The elevation of the standard of living, ascribable largely to war conditions, naturally is much more marked among the Arabs because they had a lower level from which to rise. In any case it has taken the venom out of the average Arab's sentiments about the Jews because previously it was not only a political and religious conflict; it was the more pervasive feeling of hatred of the have nots for the haves.

Immigration Is Issue

There is a third party—the British—in the present controversy, and Zionist sentiment locally is no more friendly toward them than before. It is still difficult for a Jew to pass to any open attack on the agent's mandatory power. In part that is because the dispute temporarily has narrowed to the question of Jewish immigation into Palestine. If any large number of potential immigrants appeared off the Palestine coast or on the land borders they would at once occasion a fierce contest.

The British, however, are taking precautions against such an event happening. They have a firm grip on almost all shipping and ports from which immigrants might start toward Palestine. There is always a chance, of course, that the Russians might give clearance for a ship or ships of considerable capacity from one of the ports they control, like Varna, Bulgaria, but even so they likely would be intercepted before nearing Palestine.

Arabs Help in Ban

On the land side the British, aided by the determination of the Arab states surrounding Palestine—Egypt, Syria and Lebanon—do not allow Jewish migrants to get near the borders. This determination, in which can be seen the work of the Arab league, has worked a miracle with the gendarmerie—the national police—of Lebanon and Syria. They have ceased taking baksheesh. Formerly the normal price was five Palestine pounds per head for those who wanted to cross the borders.

There is still more to the present Zionist inaction, and that is the leaders' sense of favorable publicity. They have no desire to appear as aggressors so long as a decision is awaited from Whitehall. Only when the British refuse their demand to abrogate the 1939 white paper — which they loudly proclaim illegal— or grant so little that the Zionists feel they have a clear case, will strenuous measures be taken.

At present the Zionists feel that they are being reasonable in asking only for unlimited Jewish immigration. They would leave other questions for later discussion.

WOULD REJUDGE THOSE FORCED TO JOIN NAZIS

BERLIN, Oct. 20 [Delayed]—(AP)—Pastor Martin Niemoeller said today he hoped some sort of agency would be set up later in Germany to examine the cases of persons who joined the Nazi party under duress, so that they might be given a new chance in life. The 54 year old Protestant fighter against nazilism was back in Berlin for the first time since the Gestapo flung him in a concentration camp in 1938.

Asked if he had modified his views, expressed after his liberation from Dachau by American forces, that he had done right to volunteer for the German navy at the start of the war, he said:

"I offered myself because I loved my people and my country, and I knew that if Germany were beaten it would be her end. I knew, too, that if Hitler conquered it would also be the end of the Germany I loved. My hope was that at some time during the war Hitler could be overthrown by the Germans themselves and peace could be negotiated. I would have gladly joined in that uprising. I never wanted to fight for Hitler."

New South Wales Plans to Take Over Coal Mines

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 21 (AP)—Prime Minister Joseph B. Chifley today announced plans for the federal government to acquire and distribute all coal mined in New South Wales for at least five years. The scheme originated in talks with mine union officers and is intended to insure employment security.

ZIONIST LEADER ACCUSES ARABS OF NAZI TRICKS

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS

Mrs. Moses S. Epstein of New York, national president of Hadassah, women's Zionist organization, last night sounded the keynote for today's opening of the 31st national convention of the organization by charging Arab overlords in the middle east with the employment of the "scurrilous nazi game" of calling others Fascists in order to retain their autocratic regimes.

This morning's opening speakers at the Stevens hotel will be Mrs. Epstein and Dr. Solomon Goldman of Temple Anshe Emet. They will address the 1,000 delegates of the organization's 150,000 members. Last night's pre-convention meeting was held at Hadassah headquarters, 8 N. Dearborn st.

Cites Roosevelt Letters

Mrs. Epstein last night asserted that the recently released exchange of letters between the late President Roosevelt and Ibn Saud, ruler of Saudi Arabia "indicated no change in our government's traditional support of Jewish aspirations to nationhood in Palestine." The correspondence was made public Oct. 18 by Secretary of State Byrnes.

"There is nothing new or damaging to Zionism in them" [the correspondence], Mrs. Epstein said. "Any one who says so simply doesn't know the facts. When, after their meeting in March, President Roosevelt wrote Ibn Saud that he would take no action that might be hostile to the Arab people, he was saying nothing that he had not said before. What Zionists have created in Palestine cannot be even remotely hostile to the Arabs.

Tells of Doctor's Work

"It is Jewish doctors who are teaching the Arabs the first rudiments of good health, and Jewish enterprise and back-breaking work have given Arabs in Palestine a standard of living that obtains nowhere else thruout the middle east. Men who seek freedom are not content to remain illiterate, starved, and exploited. Ibn Saud knows and doesn't like this. Ibn Saud does not like Jewish settlement in Palestine which he called a form of nazifascism because he and other Arab leaders are afraid of the democratic lessons their people can learn by watching it."

This afternoon's speakers include Rabbi Goldman, Mrs. Samuel J. Rosensohn of New York, Hadassah treasurer; Mrs. Alexander M. Dushkin of New York, vocational education chairman, and Elias Epstein of Palestine. The night speakers include Judge Fisher of the Superior court, Rabbi Jacob J. Weinstein of K. A. M. temple, and Mrs. Nathan D. Perlman of New York, American affairs chairman.

BRITISH DESTROY 5 U-BOAT PENS IN A 2 SECOND BLAST

HAMBURG, Germany, Oct. 21 (AP)—Nazi U-boat pens, which took four years to construct at a cost of 21,000,000 marks [$8,400,000 at the pre-war exchange], were destroyed by the British in two seconds today with 32 tons of explosives.

The push of a button set off charges which almost completely demolished five pens on Finkenwaerder Island in the Elbe river. A terrific explosion and burst of flame were followed by clouds which rose until they were almost out of sight. Army officials said four of the five 12-foot thick concrete walls caved in. A roof over the fifth wall collapsed.

The pens were capable of accommodating 10 large 1,600 ton U-boats or 30 smaller undersea craft at one time.

Slavs Took Greeks Over Border, Athens Charges

LONDON, Oct. 21 [Reuters]—The Greek government has made representations to the Yugoslav government protesting against Greek nationals being forcibly taken into Yugoslavia, the Athens news agency reported today. It is charged three Greeks were taken by an armed band from the village of Arnissa to a Yugoslav village where they were forced to cut wood with other Greeks, Italians, and Germans.

YUGOSLAV KING CHISELS HER PAY, SAYS HIS MOTHER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, Oct. 21—Yugoslav authorities in London have been asked by Queen Marie, mother of King Peter, to pay $145,600 she claims due her and Princes Tomislav and Andrev, brothers of the king, it was reported today. The sum claimed is due under civil list payments made by the Yugoslav government to Peter since October, 1944.

Until Peter's marriage on March 20, 1944, the civil list was paid separately to members of the royal family, Queen Mother Marie receiving $14,400 monthly; the king, who was then a minor, $10,000, and the two princes $4,000 each. Queen Marie alleges that since Peter married Princess Alexandra of Greece the civil list has been paid in a lump sum to him for distribution, and that he reduced the allowances to her and the princes, and since August has given them nothing.

While agreeing Peter ought to have more money since his marriage, the queen is claiming the difference between his previous allowance to her of $10,000 monthly, which she considers ought to have been paid her monthly since March, 1944, and the amount actually paid her since October, 1944, plus the amounts by which the princes' allowances have been cut.

BRITISH DEMAND FOR CASH, SHIPS STIRS CONGRESS

Halifax Firm; Insists on Outright Gift

Firm in Demands

The British are satisfied on the whole with the attitude of the administration. As soon as they manifested their desire for financial aid Assistant State Secretary Clayton was dispatched to London to learn their pleasure and inquire into their financial condition. Once the negotiations were transferred to Washington the administration was more than coöperative.

Halifax, however, was firm and unyielding in his demands. He said the assistance must be an outright gift, as Britain couldn't afford to repay a loan or even to pay interest on a loan. He said that unless Britain got the aid demanded it would be compelled with the greatest regret to conduct a trade war from which the United States would suffer. Britain would emulate the nazi system of foreign trade, which inspired the cry before Pearl Harbor. "You can't do business with Hitler."

The negotiations now revolve around concessions that it is conceived Britain must make if the consent of congress to financial aid is to be obtained.

Favor Long Time Loan

Congress, administration leaders believe, while refusing an outright gift would approve a long term 5 billion dollar loan at nominal interest. Britain, however, would be required to abolish or greatly scale down the imperial preference tariff system which militates against American trade, abolish the dollar pool established with the dominions and break up the sterling bloc of countries barred from trade with the United States. To liquidate the sterling bloc would require Britain to reduce and fund its external debt represented chiefly by 14 billion dollars in blocked sterling accounts.

The removal of British trade restriction is implicit in the Bretton Woods world financial stabilization project, financed chiefly by the United States, which was engineered originally by Keynes. The United States has ratified the plan but Great Britain has not, presumably because the British are loath to remove their trade restrictions except in consideration of a 6 billion dollar American handout. As one senator put it, "The British now want us to bribe them to do what their own Bretton Woods plan requires."

Provide Office Space

The administration has been highly coöperative also in the negotiations for the loan of 1,000 Liberty ships to Britain. Offices were provided in the commerce building next to the maritime commission for the British negotiators, W. O. Hart, Leslie Chance and R. F. S. Edwards. The administration had already turned down a French government request for 100 Liberties.

Of America's 2,500 ten thousand ton Liberty ships, built at a cost of 5 billion dollars, Britain now operates 200 on extended lend-lease and wants 1,000 more for eight or nine years on a strictly loan basis, no cash involved. The British say this is the only way they can quickly replace their merchant marine which was sacrificed to war necessities.

U. S. Ship Owners Oppose Plan

The British plan to use these ships on the principal trade routes of the world, picking up the profitable business lost by the Germans, Italians and Japs. American ship owners are fighting the proposal, contending that this loan would throw away America's chance to become a merchant shipping power. In eight or nine years the British will have built a fast, modern fleet to operate on the most desirable trade routes preëmpted by the Liberties, which then would be returned to the United States suitable only for the junk pile. American ship owners estimate this deal alone would cost American interests several billion dollars.

Opponents in congress are rallying in support of a provision in the pending Bland shipping bill prohibiting transfer of an American ship to a foreign flag until six months after its offer for sale to Americans. The bill was introduced by Rep. Bland [D., Va.].

Say U. S. Will Benefit

The British won the support of the administration negotiators for their argument that, much as Britain needs the money, America stands in even greater need of the trade benefits that the rehabilitation of Britain commercially would assure. The Britishers were firm, however, in the insistence that America to gain this great boon must wipe out the requirement that American ships only may carry goods bought in the United States with the proceeds of American loans. That British ships should lose to Americans the business of carrying 6 billion dollars worth of goods purchased with American money was simply unthinkable to the British.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by BEN MARKLAND

October 21, 1945

MUCH of the confusion which resulted from indiscriminate sales of DDT this fall gradually is being eliminated. Some insecticide dealers, in the first rush to take advantage of the publicity given to DDT, sold formulas which were too weak to be of any value in killing insects and also failed to supply to buyers definite instructions on mixing and applying the material. As a result, buyers of DDT were using cabbage worm formulas against clothes moths and fly sprays against gladiolus thrips.

Information Given Now

On the market now are well labeled DDT mixtures, in both spray and dust form, for specific uses. In addition, state agricultural colleges are using printed matter for the guidance of farmers in the uses of DDT, and manufacturers have prepared pamphlets containing instructions for housewives, gardeners, and farmers. Among the middle western companies which recently have issued helpful instructions on DDT usage are the Dow Chemical company, Midland, Mich., and the Michigan Chemical corporation, St. Louis, Mich.

DDT was called a "miracle insecticide" when introduced to American users, and nothing has occurred to lower that estimate. A few users have reported poor success with DDT, but this probably is due to having used weak formulas or incorrect methods of application. The insecticide also has been found to vary in its effectiveness according to weather conditions. For example, chemists in Colorado report that the effectiveness of DDT is reduced by direct sunlight having strong ultraviolet rays, and outdoor applications in that state have been less effective than in lower altitudes.

1% and 2% of Little Use

The most recent instructions on use of DDT show there is little use of the 1 per cent and 2 per cent dusts which were marketed this fall by many dealers. A dust containing 3 to 5 per cent DDT now is recommended for mosquitoes, flies, fleas, poultry lice, corn borers, pea aphids, potato beetles, leafhoppers, and onion and gladiolus thrips. Insects for which a 10 per cent dust is necessary include cattle lice, roaches, silverfish, house moths, and carpet beetles.

The next insecticide which probably will be introduced is called 666, a development of British scientists. Like DDT, it is both a stomach poison and contact poison and is said to be more effective than DDT against such insects as locusts, grain weevils, and roaches. Only small quantities have been produced for experimental uses.

★ The GARDEN ★

[This is the fifth of a series of articles on winter storage of vegetables.]

MANY gardeners overlook the advantages of winter storage of such leaf vegetables as celery, Chinese cabbage, kale, and endive. All of these will withstand light frosts and need not be harvested for storage until a severe frost or ground freeze is forecast.

A convenient way to store blanched celery is in a square box containing sand. The plants should be dug from the ground, not pulled out. Some soil should be left on the roots. The terminal leaves may be tied together to save storage space, then the plants should be placed upright in a box. Sand should be poured around the stalks, leaving only the terminal foliage exposed to the air. If stored in a basement room at the ideal storage temperature of 33 degrees, the stalks will remain in crisp condition for two to three months.

This same method of storage is recommended for Chinese cabbage and kale. The later vegetable need not be dug until mid-November.

MORE MERCHANT SAILORS NEEDED TO FEED TROOPS

The United States maritime service yesterday issued an appeal for men to help carry food and material to our occupation forces and to help millions of troops to return home.

Under new regulations, waivers for partial color blindness will be granted men 17 to 35 who volunteer for engine training, and men between 17 and 50 will be enroled steward's mates, 3d class, if they have one year's experience in cooking, baking, or butchering.

Training is offered in all phases of merchant seamanship. Men who have sailed for 14 months on salt water aboard vessels of more than 500 gross tons are eligible for officer training. Volunteers may write or visit the recruiting office in room 515, 844 Rush st.

ARMY RELEASES DOUBLE TROUBLE, CHICAGO TWINS

Pair Plays Tricks All Over Europe, Japan

Fred and Frank, identical twins, were separated yesterday for the first time in 22 years. It was a happy occasion, however, because it was a separation from the army after nearly three years of service; service which led them, side by side, thru the major battles in Europe from D-day to the surrender and then to several months of duty in Japan.

The twins are Fred and Frank Matthesius, 2045 Roscoe st., and they emphasized during an interview that they are ex-privates. As in their former civilian life, they have not been separated from each other for more than a day since they entered service Dec. 23, 1942.

Double Is Handy in Army

Having a double close at hand has certain compensations, particularly in army life, both admitted readily. An unauthorized trip to town is much easier to accomplish if you can have your own image parade ostentatiously in front of the duty officer now and then.

Fred and Frank held army jobs, whether by design or accident they refused to say, which allowed them to exploit their similarity to the fullest extent. As couriers for the famous 1303d engineer regiment they were constantly thrown in contact with officers and men who didn't know them apart.

"When we arrived in a new camp," said Fred, or maybe it was Frank, "we tried to stay apart until we had been assigned cots. Then we'd flip a coin to see who got to town without benefit of a pass. Whoever won would trot away and the other would start the deception. First he would muss up his own bed and then hop in to the other's bed.

"When the duty officer came by he would check the empty bed but would check in the missing brother. Before he made his next round the twin would return to his own bed. The record got so confused by morning that nobody knew whom to punish. Usually they just preferred to forget the whole thing."

Change Places on K. P.

The twins also found it convenient to switch around on K. P. duty, relieve each other when one was assigned extra duty, and to share any uncomfortable chore.

Having a double also brought its share of troubles, the twins said. Clerks at the army post exchanges were constantly refusing one of them his cigaret ration on the ground that he was going thru the line twice. Occasionally considerable argument was necessary before some of the mess attendants would serve whichever brother happened to be second in line.

"Some of the company clerks also deserve a Purple Heart for the gray hairs they acquired untangling our mixed up records," Fred said.

Built Bridge Across Rhine

The two brothers estimate that during their army service they have traveled about 40,000 miles, not including the distance traveled at and around each station. They were attached to the unit which constructed the famous 1,100 foot fixed timber bridge across the Rhine river at Mainz, Germany.

In Japan the twins served as couriers between Tokyo and Yokohama. With them thruout their travels was their jeep, "Chicago Twins."

When they arrived home yesterday their sister, Mrs. Dorothy Ash, 222 E. Chestnut st., rushed up with a greeting for Fred. It was Frank.

FUND PLEA CITES NEED FOR FOOD, FUEL IN HOLLAND

Residents of Holland, starved during the German occupation and deprived of farm lands by flood waters covering 500,000 acres, will depend on allied relief for the winter, Walter P. Paepcke, general chairman of the Community and War Fund drive, said yesterday.

Asking support for the drive for American Relief for Holland, Paepcke pointed out that without allied relief, Hollanders will be subject to "sickness and want, starvation and cold" during the winter months.

Members of the women's special gifts division of the fund, which has raised more than 75 per cent of its goal, will hold a victory luncheon in the ballrom of the Casino club tomorrow noon, Paepcke said. Awards will be presented to those members of the division who have completed their goals. The goal for Cook, Lake and Du Page counties is $13,-040,700.

SUPER-HIGHWAY BRIDGE PLANNED AT ONTARIO ST.

Structure with 6 Traffic Lanes Proposed

A super-highway bridge at Ontario st., capable of carrying three lanes of traffic in each direction over the north branch of the Chicago river, is the key structure in the city's latest plans for handling expressway traffic into the near north side, Commissioner V. E. Gunlock of subways and super-highways said yesterday.

The Ontario st. expressway would connect with the proposed northwest super-highway, which Gunlock said should be west of the river and, in that vicinity, west of Milwaukee av. Previously plans had called for a super-highway bridge at Erie st., with the expressway continuing east to Orleans st. and south to the west side of the Merchandise Mart.

Special Elevated Branch

"By locating the bridge at Ontario st. greater facilities could be given for motor traffic into the near north side," Gunlock said. "Ontario would be a one-way street west of Orleans to get motorists onto the super-highway system. Ohio would be a one-way street eastbound.

"Automobiles heading for or away from the northwest corner of the loop would take a special elevated super-highway branch along Kingsbury st.

"From any spot on the proposed super-highway system a motorist could drive to Orleans st. without encountering cross traffic or being held up by a street light."

Additional Bridges

Separate from the super-highway program, city officials plan to erect new bridges at Grand av. and Erie st. to give better access to the near north side. That area has been recognized as the expanding portion of the downtown business district.

From Orleans st. to the vicinity of N. Union av., the super-highway would be elevated. Other portions of the northwest super-highway would be depressed, so as to pass under the surface streets and the North Western and Milwaukee railroad tracks. Because the tracks from the North Western station are elevated, it would be too expensive to have the auto expressway pass over them, Gunlock said.

Plan Traffic Interchange

A traffic interchange, enabling motorists to get to and from the northwest expressway and the Ontario st. branch without the interference of stoplights or sharp turns, has been provided by Gunlock in the area bounded by Grand av., Sangamon st., Huron st., and May st.

Automobiles going north and turning east would make an east turn on a comparatively short arc. Cars coming from the north and wishing to cross the Ontario st. bridge also would turn right to start a big circle which would take them over the depressed speedway. Similar traffic lanes would be provided for cars out of the near north side area.

6 MILLION VETS TO RETURN BY MAY 1, LAND SAYS

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Vice Adm. Land, war shipping administrator, said today that "return of 6,000,000 troops from overseas is scheduled for completion by May, 1946."

Commenting on the current rate of troopship arrivals in the United States, Adm. Land in a statement said heavy European returns were to be completed by January, when a major portion of the troop transport fleet would switch to the Pacific. He disclosed that more than 850,000 men were returned from Europe in the three and a half months between V-E day and Sept. 1. He added that 87.4 per cent of a total of 981,000 men returned were carried in American ships.

The WSA fleet of 470 vessels, including 20 passenger liners and 450 cargo-type ships, has a total carrying capacity of 500,000 men, Land said. In addition, some 250 combat-type vessels, constructed for the army and navy, are being used, principally in the Pacific, the shipping administrator said. A "substantial number" of troops are being returned aboard hundreds of cargo ships on regular runs, he added.

26,000 TROOPS SCHEDULED TO ARRIVE TODAY

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More than 26,000 troops from Europe and the Pacific are scheduled to arrive in the United States today on 12 troop carriers docking at two east coast ports and San Francisco.

Approximately 7,000 service men are due at New York and more than 12,600 at Newport News, Va. At San Francisco five ships are scheduled to bring about 6,600 from the Pacific. Ships and army units arriving:

AT NEW YORK: [Gen. Morton] 3,085 miscellaneous troops, 3 WACs, and 68 army nurses. [Cranston Victory] 1,957 miscellaneous troops. [U. S. Victory] 1,963 troops including headquarters and headquarters battery of 404th field artillery group; 199th field artillery battalion; 125th reconnaissance squadron [mechanized] of 3113th quartermaster service company, and miscellaneous troops.

AT NEWPORT NEWS: [Joseph Gale, originally due yesterday] 825 troops, undesignated units. [Sea Fiddler] 2,102 troops, undesignated units. [Rockhill Victory] 2,011 troops, undesignated units. [West Point] 7,723 troops, undesignated units.

AT SAN FRANCISCO: [Sanctuary] 890 passengers. [Christopher Greenup] 1,432 troops, undesignated units. [Sea Ray] 2,141 troops, undesignated units. [Evangeline] 1,218 army personnel including 687 WACs and 13 army nurses. [George W. Julian] 981 troops, undesignated units.

May Try for Speed Record

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Oct. 21 (AP)—The new American aircraft carrier Lake Champlain was racing back toward New York tonight with 3,660 American troops aboard, and it was reported unofficially that she might try to break the speed record to Ambrose light.

The carrier arrived here yesterday, establishing what her officers said was a new record, of four days 11 hours and 26 minutes for the 3,135 mile trip from Norfolk, Va. On her return voyage the 27,000 ton Essex class ship was on the main trans-Atlantic course between Bishop's Rock and Ambrose light, a distance of 2,938 miles, which was covered in 1939 by the Queen Mary in three days 20 hours and 42 minutes.

DISABLED VETS HAIL MEN WHO WON'T BE BACK

Families of Some Attend Memorial Service

BY THOMAS MORROW

"And what they got was 'The Star-Spangled Banner' a little off key."

The fellow talking was a member of the Disabled American Veterans. The organization was meeting in the Congress hotel.

He wasn't running down the ability of the singer, a comrade. Nor was he particularly bitter. He just realized—as do all the members of the organization—that people forget when a war is over that there was a war.

The DAV story could be told yesterday in the words of Frank S. Mercurio, 287 Vermont st., Brooklyn. He lost both legs by shell fire in Europe.

Urges Making Wants Known

"I'm not bitter," Mercurio said. "This is a great country and all I want is a chance for a job. The way I see it—you vote for the guy on the hill and you vote for your representative. And then you go away and you leave him. If you don't tell them what you want, you can't expect them to know. And that's what we should do. Tell the guy that's representing us what we want him to do. And that's what the country should do."

The DAV session yesterday was a tribute to the war dead. Cicero S. Hogan, assistant national adjutant, read off the names of a lot of kids who got killed in the war.

Families of a number of the lads so honored were in the first three rows. They wiped their eyes, shed tears unashamed and sat with that eight thousand yard stare trying to visualize the places where their sons had died.

Wreaths Placed on Tomb

"At this moment," said Hogan, "wreaths are being placed on the tomb of the unknown soldier in Washington, D. C., and also on the graves of our deceased national commanders.

"This afternoon, thousands of miles from home, in ground consecrated as American soil, sleep thousands of our comrades at arms. They sleep under the frosty skies of France and Germany, under the starry desert skies of Africa, and under the inky canopy of the tropics.

"But despite the distance that separates them from us, they sleep there in the watchful love of every American, as surely as if they were eternally cradled in the soil of their mother land."

Gathering Misty Eyed

The bugler sounded taps and the ceremony was over. For a few minutes the gathering, misty eyed, remained on the lofty plateau of idealism and then came back to the meeting in which the disabled veterans are trying to grab a chance and a few dollars for themselves.

Among those who came to hear their dead sons honored were Henry and Alma Schroeder of South Elgin, whose son La Verne was killed in the fighting. There was Mrs. Franklin E. Smith of St. Petersburg, Fla., who said she was the first gold star mother in Florida, and Mrs. Svea Huck, 1725 N. Central Park av., who lost John, a sergeant during the fighting in Italy.

The ceremony, simple and impressive, was staged on a platform which bore a replica of the grave of the unknown soldier and crosses like those in the cemeteries in Europe and the Pacific.

"Here rests in honored glory," said the headstone, "an American soldier known but to God."

Cites Futility of War

For the navy, Charles Claybourn of Albuquerque, N. M., said war "doesn't mean a damned thing except that some one gets licked." He quoted from a newspaper clipping which said there can be no peace until a deep seated race prejudice is conquered in the United States.

Claybourn got a distinguished service cross from the army, a bit unusual for a navy man. He was on a prison ship that was whacked by Jap bombers off Mindanao.

"The Nips said they'd annihilate us and then worry about themselves," he said. "And that's what they did. They threw hand grenades in the hold—82 of 668 got to shore. All I did was grab some army guys, tell them to lay a course for New York and tell them to swim like hell."

Intruders Mess Up House, but Take Only 9 Bananas!

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Jessie Epperson returned home to find the house in disorder—furniture overturned, garments strewn about the floor, canned goods scattered over the kitchen. All that was missing, she told police, was nine large bananas.

AMERICAN BEGS IN VAIN FOR VISA TO LEAVE RUSSIA

Moscow Says No, and Won't Tell Why

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21 [Special]—The soviet union is holding at least one American citizen in Moscow against his will and in spite of repeated protests by the United States embassy, it was disclosed today.

The citizen is Yan Czechel, 26, son of Polish parents. He was born in Providence, R. I., and was taken by his parents to Poland in 1925 when he was 6. The account of his experiences was told by a reliable informant who refused use of his name.

In the summer of 1939, during the urgent discussions that preceded the outbreak of the war, Czechel applied to the United States consul in Moscow for a passport.

Citizenship Verified

The American authorities in Warsaw testified that he was an American citizen and had not acquired dual nationality in any way or expatriated himself in any other manner. Consequently it was agreed to put his papers in order.

Before this could be done, however, the area of Poland in which he lived was taken over by the soviet union, and the Russians issued to him a "resident permit," on which it was stated that his last citizenship was American.

A long series of attempts to get Czechel to the United States began. Numerous attempts also were made to make public the facts of the case, but according to information available here the Russians not only refused to answer repeated official requests that he receive an exit visa but furthermore denied to reporters in Moscow facilities to print the facts.

Trapped by Germans

In 1941, as in 1939, Czechel applied for a passport just before a great event. The American embassy in Moscow granted him a passport May 22, 1941, a month before the Germans attacked the soviet union, but again he was trapped, this time in the German occupied section of Russia.

After nearly three years under the Germans Czechel was "liberated" by the Red army, but he still yearned for Providence, R. I., so he went to Moscow to have his passport brought up to date.

Czechel's record was again cheked by the United States embassy in Moscow and found to be in order. His passport was validated Jan. 3, 1945. He immediately applied to the soviet government for an exit permit, but this has never been granted despite numerous attempts and protests by our officials in Moscow.

Embassy Gets no Reply

Reliable information available here showed that the United States embassy requested the people's commissariat for the exit permit on Jan. 23, Feb. 26, May 12, and June 6, but never received a reply.

On July 25 American officials in Moscow informed the soviet government that they would have to advise the United States government that an American citizen was being held in the soviet union against his will. This evidently did not impress the Russians, and nothing further has happened, not even the official release of the facts.

The source of this information said that several other United States citizens were being held in the soviet union, but the state department has no record of these. There are a number of persons there who have dual nationality, and in these cases the rights of the Russians are usually equal to those of the United States.

In the Czechel case, however, even the soviet documents concede his American nationality and, as far as is known, he is not charged by the Russians with crimes that would justify detention.

Nazis to Serve Full Time Even if U. S. Forces Leave

LONDON, Oct. 21 [Reuters]—Germans sentenced to imprisonment by United States authorities will have to serve their full sentences, American officials announced today, Berlin radio reported. If the Americans leave their occupation zone before the whole terms have been served, the Germans in question will be transferred to the United States where they will complete their terms.

Frank Healy, 60, was treated in County hospital yesterday for cuts and a possible skull fracture received when he fell down stairs in the hotel at 66 W. Van Buren st., where he lives.

NUN IS SLASHED BY PROWLER IN HALL OF SCHOOL

Sister Marie Dolorise, 46, a Franciscan nun and teacher in Corpus Christi school at 4924 South Park way, was slashed on the hands and wrists yesterday by a Negro prowler whom she discovered hiding in a second floor hall in the school.

The prowler, who carried a knife, put his hand over the teacher's mouth to stop her outcry. She struggled with him until the appearance of another teacher caused him to flee.

Police believe the prowler was attempting to hide until he could enter and a rob a school credit union office in the basement. Credit union collections, which totaled $2,000 yesterday, usually were kept in the office, police said.

270 Rebellious Indian Scholars Reach England

LONDON, Oct. 21 [Reuters]—A party of 270 Indian students arrived here tonight in the 2,300 ton British troopship Orion to take up studies in Britain. The party originally embarked in the 2,700 ton Troopship SS Georgic in India but next day left the ship in protest against the captain's ruling that they should clean their cabins, make their beds, wash their dishes and do other menial work.

REPORTS $300 BURGLARY

Thieves stole $110, two coats, a camera, and a revolver, all valued at $300, in a burglary of his home Saturday night, Walter Kil, 8414 Burley av., a tailor, reported yesterday to the police.

38 UNIONS TAKE 15% WAGE HIKE, STANDARD SAYS

Spokesmen of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana said that unions representing about 2,000 Chicago area tank-wagon drivers, maintenance men, salesmen, and clerical employes have accepted the 15 per cent increase in pay offered by the company.

The unions include eight locals of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen, and Helpers [AFL]. Thirty-eight of 41 union locals in the middle west including the eight teamster locals, with which the sales department of Standard Oil has had contracts, accepted the increase.

Standard Oil made the offer before the 15 per cent formula became a subject of widespread discussion in connection with the recent oil refinery strike. Altho some locals have not accepted the 15 per cent increase, their members remained continuously at work during the oil industry strike.

Catholic-Socialists Win in Luxembourg Election

LUXEMBOURG, Oct. 21 (AP)—Luxembourg's Catholic-Socialist coalition government scored a sweeping victory in today's national election, winning 34 of the tiny nation's 51 assembly seats. Governmental leaders are expected to resign tomorrow, and then receive from Grand Duchess Charlotte orders to carry on. The Communists, altho they achieved only five seats, recorded new gains in Luxembourg city and in the southern provinces.

EASIER TO BORROW EASIER TO REPAY...
A "LOW PAYMENT" PERSONAL LOAN costs only ⅓ of usual small loan rates AT MERCHANDISE BANK

Whatever kind of loan you want, on "signature only," with one "co-maker," or on your auto—repayment is easier, cost is lower, and you save dollars by borrowing at Merchandise Bank.

IF YOU BORROW ELSEWHERE, at usual small loan rates, you have to make 12 payments of about $10.07 each on a $100 loan. That totals $120.84—or $20.84 more than you borrowed.

SEE HOW MUCH CHEAPER it is to borrow, and easier to repay, at Merchandise Bank.

12 MONTHS LOAN ON YOUR SIGNATURE ONLY

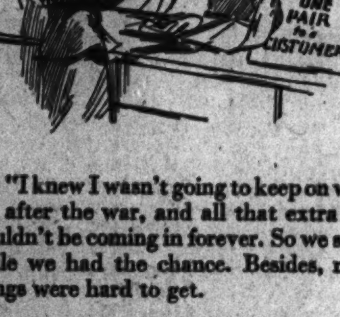
"Was I WRONG, back in 1945!"

1. "Here it is ten years since World War II, and it seems like yesterday! I got a job making penicillin; my husband worked in a machine shop. And with the good pay we both made, we felt pretty rich!

ONE PAIR to a CUSTOMER

2. "I knew I wasn't going to keep on working after the war, and all that extra cash wouldn't be coming in forever. So we saved while we had the chance. Besides, many things were hard to get.



3. "Both of us bought War Bonds practically every payday. We got some more life insurance, and we built up our savings account. When peace came, we had a nice little nest egg salted away.

4. "Then civilian goods started coming back. We'd have been all right if we'd stopped with what we needed. But we bought a lot we didn't need. And before we knew it, most of our savings were gone.

5. "If we hadn't gone overboard then, we'd still have a nest egg today. But now we're not much better off than if I hadn't worked at all—still struggling and scraping along. Was I WRONG, back in 1945!"

BUT IT IS STILL 1945. If we use our savings wisely now, we can help to avoid inflationary price increases . . . and at the same time maintain backlogs for the kind of future we all desire. If we spend our money carelessly now, we may look back some day with regret.

During the war, millions of Americans saved to protect their families, to educate their children, to start a business of their own, to own their own home, to retire. Today they are still following the advice of our Government, buying only what they really need until civilian goods are plentiful, buying Victory Bonds, holding on to their War Bonds and life insurance, and maintaining their savings accounts. Are you one of them?

MEETING IS SET ON REVISION OF BUILDING CODE

Interest in the Problem Growing: Ald. Duffy

A meeting of interested groups to discuss Chicago's obsolete building code will be held probably within two weeks, Ald. Duffy [19th], chairman of the council subcommittee on code revision, said yesterday. Early responses to letters he sent to 18 organizations closely related to the building industry asking their views on suggested code changes have reflected a lively interest, he said.

Among the first to reply was the Chicago and Cook County Building and Construction Trades council, the central body for 125 locals of 40 unions. Altho the code does not specify how the craftsmen shall do their work, there is a generally recognized relationship between the building ordinances and the working rules set up by the unions.

Passes on Suggestions

Patrick F. Sullivan, president of the council, wrote: "Representatives of the council never make or help to make suggestions regarding the building code. Such matters are referred to the respective local unions of the council."

Sullivan said he had sent a copy of Duffy's letter to each local in the council and had added a note of his own advising the local to communicate with the alderman if it had code amendments to suggest.

Other Suggestions Made

Duffy also had a reply from the Chicago Metropolitan Home Builders' association, whose membership includes about 90 per cent of the builders in the city and suburbs. A. E. Fossier, president, said the association was interested especially in simplification of code sections on single dwellings.

Fossier also suggested that instead of requiring the committee on standards and tests to submit its reports for approval, be "clothed with full and final authority."

SUGGESTS NAVY MAY PROPOSE AIR DEPARTMENT

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21 (AP)—The navy may propose to congress this week the creation of a new department of the air, equal in rank with the army and navy.

Sen. Hill [D., Ala.] said he had heard such a suggestion might be forthcoming tomorrow when Secretary Forrestal comes before the senate military committee to oppose a bill to set up a single department of military forces.

The navy generally is against a merger with the army. The army wants it, as War Secretary Patterson, Gen. Marshall and Gen. Arnold made plain last week.

Hill told a reporter it is his information the navy wants three separate branches rather than the one he proposes in his bill.

VOTE TO DELAY ALUMINUM UNIT SALES 30 DAYS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21 (AP)—The senate has voted to delay disposals of aluminum plants for 30 days. The house has yet to act.

Under present law, the surplus property administration could have sold or leased the plants after Oct. 21 in accordance with a plan submitted a month ago. The delay was asked by Sen. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.] and others members of the military, small business and post-war planning committees which are considering the plant disposal program.

War Bond Drive Speakers to Be Guests at Dinner

Volunteer speakers who served in all past war bond drives and who are now appearing before local groups in the victory bond drive will be guests tonight at a dinner in the Hotel Sherman.

COL. E. M. WALSH, 6TH SERVICE AID, TO GET RELEASE

Lt. Col. E. M. Walsh

Lt. Col. Elmer Michael Walsh, in charge of the security and intelligence division for the 6th service command here, will be released from army service this week, it was announced yesterday. Col. Walsh will return to law practice after 43 months in active service.

He has been in charge of the intelligence division since February, 1942, except for a short period last spring when he was assigned to temporary duty in Alaska and Canada.

Col. Walsh, married and the father of four children, lives with his family at 7707 Bennett av. He has been active in south side civic organizations and was the founder and attorney for the East 79th Street Business Men's association.

5 GROUPS UNITE TO PRESS FIGHT FOR GLOBALISM

Cleveland, O., Oct. 21 (AP)—Five world federalist organizations united today at the end of a three day national conference and named an executive council to campaign for formation of a world government to secure peace.

Mrs. M. Riorden Blake of New York was appointed temporary chairman of the executive council of the "world federalist" and Robert Wheelwright of Wilmington, Del., was named vice chairman. Other delegates placed on the council were Mark Van Doren, author; Miss Georgia Lloyd of Chicago, John R. Williams of Cleveland, Dr. Robert J. Moon, atomic bomb scientist; Freeman H. Seymour of Los Angeles, and Bruce Weinhold of Youngstown, O.

Groups combining into the "world federalists" organization included: Federal World Government, Inc., of New York, sponsors of the session; World Federalists of Southern California, Los Angeles; Delaware Committee for Federation, Wilmington; Utah committee, World Federalists, Inc., Ogden, and the Ohio committee for a united nations federal constitution.

Societies voting to affiliate with the group included Campaign for World Government, Chicago.

PEARL HARBOR WAS THE INEVITABLE TARGET

The report of the army Pearl Harbor board states that "from informers and other sources the war department had complete and detailed information of Japanese intentions" before the Japanese carrier plane attack upon our battleships. The course taken by the Jap fleet from the home islands to Oahu was traced after the disaster thru information obtained from prisoners and captured documents. The known facts in the possession of the Roosevelt government inescapably suggest that the attack not only could have been foretold, but that it could have taken place nowhere else than at Pearl Harbor.

The Japanese main fleet which attacked Oahu reached its rendezvous at Tankan bay on Nov. 22, 1941. On Nov. 26 Secretary of State Cordell Hull presented to the Japanese emissaries in Washington Mr. Roosevelt's 10 proposals for a settlement of all Pacific issues. These 10 points would have forced Japan to evacuate Indo-China, get out of China, and abandon its alliance with the axis. They were clearly inacceptable to Japan, as Mr. Roosevelt undoubtedly knew they would be.

"Whether or not Mr. Hull now disclaims that this document was an ultimatum," the army board states, "Ambassador Grew testifies that the Japanese so regarded it. They so acted upon it." Grew, from Tokyo, aptly said that the document "touched the button that started the war." Hull, himself, admitted at the time that this was its effect. He told Secretary of War Stimson, "I have washed my hands of it, and it is now in the hands of you and Knox, the army and the navy." Thus, as the army board observes, a belligerent act by Japan after Nov. 26 "was not a question of fact; it was only a question of time."

When Secretary Hull touched the button, the main Japanese fleet waiting at Tankan bay got its orders. On Nov. 27, the day after the ultimatum was submitted, it steamed eastward for Oahu, taking a northerly route south of the Aleutians to avoid being sighted by shipping. When it reached a point due north of Oahu, it turned south under forced draft to a point some 250 miles from Oahu. There the attacking planes were launched. Radio silence was maintained thruout.

What did Washington know of the movements of the Jap fleet in the last days of November and the first days of December? It definitely knew of three movements of Japanese warships. On Nov. 25, army intelligence learned that a Japanese expedition had started southward and was then south of Formosa. On or about the same day, the army report relates, a second Japanese task force, principally composed of two carriers and 15 to 20 submarines, was discovered at Jaluit in the Marshall Islands, 72 hours away from Pearl Harbor and nearly a thousand miles closer to Pearl Harbor than the Japanese fleet resident in Japan, "from whence," the report says significantly, "the main attack was expected if it ever did arrive."

The American navy and the Roosevelt war council in Washington knew that, in addition to the two carriers in the Marshalls, Japan had six other carriers. They knew that the principal strength of the Jap fleet was present neither in the task force south of Formosa nor in that at Jaluit. On Dec. 1 Washington received even more definite information. On that day a British intelligence report was received, saying that the remaining Japanese carriers had left home waters. Whether the British reported, also, that the date of the departure had been Nov. 27 is not at present known, but at any rate, Washington knew that a third Japanese fleet, consisting of its principal war vessels, was now at sea.

It was obvious that this force, representing the main strength of the Japanese fleet, was a different force from those sighted off Formosa and at Jaluit, for those task forces had been located six days earlier and one day before the Hull ultimatum, while the British intelligence of Dec. 1 referred to fleet movements after the ultimatum and affecting the main Jap carrier body. There could have been no confusion on this score. The only questions concerned the direction the main fleet was taking, and its probable mission. Where could it go?

As the succeeding days passed [10 in all preceding the attack on Oahu on the 11th] any one in possession of the facts could have figured out the answer. There was no other worthy target in the whole Pacific, except Singapore, than the great American fleet base at Pearl Harbor. If the Jap fleet had sailed south for Singapore, it would have cut across lanes constantly traversed by commercial shipping. It could not have avoided detection by merchant craft or by British or American plane and submarine scouts between Manila and Hong Kong. In addition, the first Japanese task force seen south of Formosa was obviously entrusted with any mission in the waters off southeast Asia. Its efforts would hardly be duplicated.

Similarly, the main Jap fleet could not have escaped detection if it had steamed for the East Indies and then loitered about waiting to strike. There was only one route it could have taken—thru the sub-Arctic waters of the North Pacific, devoid of shipping which might have sighted it. A process of elimination alone would have established this, for where else could a great fleet lose itself for 10 whole days? It is equally obvious that an attack by this route could only have Pearl Harbor as its objective. In fact, as late as March and April of 1941 joint army-navy studies had prophesied flatly that this was the route that Japan would take in any assault on Pearl Harbor.

But with the Jap fleet known to be at sea, and lost from sight, what did Washington do? It did nothing, first of all, to warn the commanders in Hawaii, Adm. Kimmel and Gen. Short, that the main fleet was even at sea. Beyond that, it misinterpreted the radio silence of that fleet so flagrantly that this silence was used by the navy department in Washington as a basis for transmitting false assurances to Adm. Kimmel.

On Dec. 3, when contact with the Japs had been lost for a full week, Kimmel was informed by Washington: "Almost a complete blank of information on the carriers today. . . . Since over 200 [Jap] service calls have been partially identified since the 1st of December and not one carrier call has been recovered, it is evident that carrier traffic is at a low ebb." Any military man knows that exactly the opposite conclusion was warranted: That radio silence is known by the navy to be the third and last and most dangerous phase of the movement of an enemy fleet, pointing to action almost at once.

Even if the breaking of the Japanese code had not placed information in the hands of the Roosevelt government 16½ hours before the first bomb fell on Pearl Harbor that the attack was then only hours away, the other evidence that attack was impending was utterly conclusive. Where could that attack fall? Where else but Pearl Harbor? Even the shrewd analysis of Lt. Comdr. Kramer in Washington was not required to draw this conclusion. Kramer, on the basis of an intercepted Jap code message advising Japanese consuls in America that relations with the United States would be broken at 1 p. m. Dec. 7, pointed out to Secretary of the Navy Knox that 1 p. m. Washington time was sunrise over Honolulu and dark night over Manila. Dawn is the established hour for a surprise air attack. This final, unanswerable deduction was neglected by Kramer's superiors. The fleet, Short, Kimmel, and the 3,000 Americans destined to die were left to their fate without a word of warning.

The joint congressional committee investigating Pearl Harbor has here all of the evidence it needs to trace to its source the foulest crime in America's history.

A LONG WAY FROM ARGO

In an article in Friday's TRIBUNE, Thomas Furlong, our financial editor, pointed out that the Corn Products company, with its most important manufacturing activities in the middle west, pays top salaries to persons located at the home office in New York.

The proxy statement sent to stockholders at the time of the annual meeting last March showed that there were seven jobs with the company paying $50,000 a year or more. All were held by men at the general offices at 17 Battery place, in Manhattan. The stockholders were asked to vote for five directors whose terms were expiring. These consisted of the chairman of the board, the new president moving up from a vice presidency, two other vice presidents, and a man from Wall Street. The hold-over directors consist of two more men from Wall Street, the head of another New York company, and eight other easterners.

This company, which is commanded from New York, without even a representative from the middle west on its staff of officers or directors, operates in an industry which is as characteristically middle western as farm implements or mail order houses.

The business of Corn Products Refining is exactly what the name suggests. The company couldn't get its raw material any place else in the United States except in the middle west. The rest of the country takes corn from here, because it doesn't raise even enough to feed its animals, let alone spare some for industrial processing. Corn Products doesn't even try to get its corn from the vicinity of the main office, where all its highly paid men are. It buys its supplies of grain in the spot market of the Chicago Board of Trade.

Some concerns don't have their offices where they get their supplies, but where the processing is done. That enables the executives to have some contacts with the people who do the actual work. Corn Products does its processing almost exclusively in the middle west. The plant which the company operates at Argo is the world's largest corn refining plant. It also has a large plant at Pekin, Ill., and one at Kansas City.

Corn Products sells its Karo sirup, Argo gloss starch, Mazola salad oil, dextrose sugar, Kremel dessert all over the country. The middle west as the center of population is the center of the market, but the selling is not directed from Chicago, but by a vice president located in New York. Chicago happens to be also the world's greatest candy center. Chicago, as the No. 1 candy town, is Corn Products' best market.

This big concern operates a research laboratory at the great refining works at Argo. However, the vice president in charge of research makes his headquarters a thousand miles away.

There was a reason once for having the office in New York. The company grew out of the glucose trust, and trusts were the creations of Wall Street men who saw to it that the directorships went to their buddies and that the head-offices were close at hand. After the glucose trust was created the oil trust got mad at it and set up a competitor with a Standard Oil vice president in charge. The offshoot of the oil trust brought the glucose trust to terms, and made it into a bigger and better trust. This was dissolved by a Supreme court decision in 1916.

An additional excuse for keeping an office in New York was the necessity to be where the money could be borrowed when needed. That doesn't apply to Corn Products and hasn't for years.

All the reasons for keeping the Corn Products office in New York, away from the plants, the employes, and the market, have ceased to exist. If the company doesn't move its offices here, it will be because the officers, with their magnificent salaries, feel that they ought to be where there are superior facilities for social climbing rather than where responsibilities lie.

FEATHERS FROM THE SWAN

Shakespeare's seldom acted play, "The Winter's Tale," will come to Chicago a week hence, and the first-nighters are brushing up on its traditions. Their customary attitude toward exhibitions of the Bard is to announce that in their long experience with Shakespearean acting they have often seen such and such roles acted better, or worse. But this time they are in a quandary.

* * *

Within the memory of the passing generation, "The Winter's Tale" was staged in Chicago [at the Great Northern] by the New Theater company of New York—an endowed, cultural project of magnitude and brilliance. The time, we say offhand, was the winter of 1911. The performance is not widely remembered because it was an incident in a large repertory. It lingers in our mind chiefly because of a lovely 18 year old named Leah Bateman-Hunter, who appeared as Perdita.

* * *

Leah lived up to the name of her character. After this one performance she vanished from our ken and returned to her native England, where the family name of Bateman is almost as powerful as that of Barrymore in this land. If she has survived, her present age will be 53, and so, like the darling Clementine, she is lost and gone forever, for us.

* * *

That name Perdita, incidentally, has a high romantic tradition, especially in association with Florizel, also among the characters of "The Winter's Tale." In the Georgian period, an English actress named Mary Robinson entranced the prince of Wales, afterward George IV., and their love story was the talk of London. They exchanged numerous billets doux, signed "Perdita" and "Florizel," and of course, after she had been discarded by the alleged First Gentleman of Europe, Mrs. Robinson wrote a book telling all, with sobs and gestures of indignation.

* * *

Another name in "The Winter's Tale" has passed into the common speech of the literati: Autolycus. Vincent Starrett uses it as a pen-name for occasional contributions of verse to this column. [See the new Linebook, page 42.] The original Autolycus, from whom Shakespeare borrowed the name, was a petty thief on the lower slopes of Mount Olympus, son of Hermes, in Greek mythology. He is mentioned in the "Odyssey."

GHOSTHOUSE

It seems that you are haunted—so they say—
And footsteps quicken as the passers-by Avert their eyes, and children never play
Among your shambles, ancient and awry.
Yet no one knows this desolation, born
Of tragedy perhaps, or heartlessness;
Man whispers of your history with scorn,
And fear, and wonder, hazarding a guess.
But if you are as evil as they claim,
Would trumpet vines dare blossom on your roof?
Or swallows nest beneath your eaves? I came
To search within your lonely walls for proof,
And found the sunlight sleeping on your floors,

Why Father Moved to the Club

Fifteen minutes after the morning newspaper is tossed into my bed and board it resembles nothing quite so much as it does a patchwork quilt . . . with most of the patches removed.

Mama clips the latest fashion ads and the reviews of the new films. Hig II. rips out Terry and the Pirates, the serial radio programs, and a few dozen other items which seem important at the moment. And Lela, the cook, snips interesting recipes from Mary Meade's column.

There's no hiding behind my favorite family journal after it has been air conditioned by the family. You can't ignore requests for an extra $25 for a shopping trip, 50 cents more for school lunch, or a check for the milkman when calculating eyes stare at you thru a ventilated interruption in the latest murder mystery.

Of course I complain—bitterly! But what good does it do? All I get is, "And who cut the column out of the middle of the editorial page?" . . . O, well, I could live at the club. Hig

WOODPECKER WISDOM

(A Brookfield Ballad)

Tho not an ornithologist,
And there's so much that I have missed,
I never walk a wooded mile
Without at least one rueful smile,
For when woodpeckers ballyhoo
Their old, imperative tattoo,
I know their hammering reveals
An earnest search in quest of meals.
And there are times, if we would live,
When there is no alternative—
Tho it's a choice we always dread,
We simply have to use our head!

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks will answer questions of service men, veterans, and their dependents by mail if a stamped envelope is sent to 435 N. Michigan av. The Tribune's veterans' bureau, 1 S. Dearborn st., Superior 0200, gives personal interviews.]

G. M. asks: "Does the government pay a pension to widows of World War I. veterans if they have an income? How much?"

Widows of World War I. veterans may be eligible for a pension of $35 a month if they are without children under 18 and their income does not exceed $1,000 a year. If there are children under 18 [or under 21 if attending school] the widow's income may not exceed $2,500 a year. The additional payment for minor children is $10 for the first and $5 for each additional child with a maximum of $74.

R. B. K. writes: "I received 40 per cent disability compensation when I was discharged a year ago because of flat feet and arthritis. If I take advantage of public law 16 for vocational rehabilitation will I have to give up the pension from then on? Will the expense of the training be deducted from any future bonus? I enlisted at 35 and am too old to take an extensive course of study."

Public law 16 is a vocational rehabilitation act to provide education and training for veterans to restore them to employability. To qualify, you will have to show need for training to overcome an incapacity resulting from service. If you can qualify under public 16 and devote full time to study, your compensation may be increased. Whether you continue to draw 40 per cent after training depends upon how the board rates you. No benefits received under public 16 may be deducted from any future bonus.

PROGRESSIVE MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY

SEVERAL years ago I was called by an acquaintance to see his young son who was developing a peculiar muscular helplessness. As I entered the living room this youngster, who was about 2 years old, was playing on the floor. He looked the picture of health. His calves and forearms were larger than average and my first impression was that there was undue concern about the lad.

This thought was dispelled immediately as the tot stood up to greet me. In order to rise, he first rolled over on his abdomen and laboriously got on all fours. His back was so weak that to attain an upright position he pushed himself upward gradually by placing his hands successively on ankles, knees, and hips in a climbing fashion.

I was witnessing the beginning of a rather uncommon illness known as "progressive muscular dystrophy." In this disorder, a disturbance of the muscles leads to degeneration and wasting of its elements. In some, this may not become evident because the legs increase in size and look stronger than usual. A more careful study will reveal, however, that the plumpness is fat and scar tissue which, in the late stages, may replace practically all of the muscle fiber. The calf, hip, shoulder, back, and tongue structures are most frequently involved.

The male sex is more susceptible and, in over half the victims the onset occurs before the age of 10. That heredity plays a significant rôle is indicated by the high percentage having a family history of the ailment.

Ordinarily, it starts in one muscle and slowly affects others. The face usually escapes. In most instances, pain is absent altho weakness may be preceded by cramping of sufficient degree to keep the patient awake. As the tissues in the hips become feeble, the sufferer walks in a waddling manner; when the back muscles are impaired there is marked sagging of the trunk. Should those in a lower extremity lose their power, the foot cannot be lifted and the entire leg must be raised in walking. This is called a "high stepping gait."

The malady progresses slowly and in time the victim cannot navigate at all. Ultimately, he becomes chair and then bedridden altho some learn to use other muscles to forestall this outcome. The disease may last between 20 and 30 years but the outlook is worse in those who are afflicted at a tender age.

Treatment to date has been unsatisfactory. It is best that early sufferers avoid physical exertion. Massage, baths, and mild electric stimulation can be employed. The diet should be high in protein, including beef extract and gelatin. Since there appears to be an abnormality in creatine metabolism, with the excretion of large amounts of this material, drugs directed toward the correction of the derangement are advocated. Aminoacetic acid and testosterone have been administered but with questionable benefit.

More recently vitamin E [tocopherol] has been recommended because of certain laboratory experiments. Apparently lack of this vitamin causes an analogous condition in animals but when applied to human beings, the situation seems to be different. Milhorat and Bartels combined tocopherol with inositol and incubated the mixture, suggesting that the compound may be effective because of its ability to lower the quantity of creatine eliminated. Time will tell the results of this investigation.

ALLERGY AND EYELIDS

Mrs. H. R. writes: My eyelids are cracked, swollen, and oozing. A friend told me she had attacks like this, caused by eating chocolate, nuts, and several other items. Is this possible?

REPLY

Yes. Foods that are perfectly wholesome to most individuals may set up a reaction in those who are sensitive. The tender skin of the eyelids is a favorite site for manifestations of this type. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on allergy.

IMPAIRED INTESTINE

R. M. L. writes: Is considerable ileocecal incompetency a symptom or a result of colitis?

REPLY

Many X-ray men consider ileocecal incompetency a sign that spastic colitis exists. But it is in no way a causative factor.

One of the most decorated [via paint brush] ships of this war is the U. S. S. Chotauk, a floating filling station which has been operating with the Pacific fleet. On its side is painted an American Indian [in navy dungarees] with a feather over one ear and a ball and chain holding back one ankle. The Indian's ballooned war cry: "They got us!" Beneath him are the names of six American warships—not the ships which merely rammed the 26 year old tanker when being refueled by her [the ship's own marker says: "Snafuel oil. Sorry. No gas today."], but those which pierced her sides. One is starred. It pierced twice.

It Can Happen Here

The Museum of Science and Industry possesses one of the early cyclotrons, or atom smashers, and with it and a few other scientific odds and ends gives a daily demonstration of atomic energy. One day recently the lecturer was going along so well that he had his audience tense with mingled awe and horror. Just then one spectator looked up. Down the long north hall of the museum was a Weasel, a walking boat that crawls on land with caterpillar treads. The woman gasped, looked frantically from cyclotron to Weasel and back. "Some one help me out of here," she cried. "This thing even makes boats walk."

Notes from Tokyo

We have a house left vacant by some hon. navy muck-a-mucks and two houseboys: Mr. Moto, morning, and Mr. Moto, afternoon. Moto, A. M., is a Nip jerk, just that, and he looked as if he has an option on a forthcoming funeral. Mr. Moto, P. M., is an upstanding young man who endeavors at all times to make his superiors comfortable and clean. He is now working on washing my clothes.

Domei, by the way, is the cesspool of Japan with its skilful propaganda boys. Right now [Sept. 9] they are working overtime, and MacArthur had best put a lid on. They showed us around. Their boys are giving our correspondents the works—free pressroom facilities, hand-outs, beer, money, anything to get their hospitality across. Here is how thoro they are: We went from Domei to the Asahi, which is Tokyo's big daily. We walked in the front and a wizened looking gal, in Jap clothes, sat at a sign reading "Information?" We hiked up, asked to see some one to whom we had been introduced, and she spoke up in Oxonian English. It was startling to have that accent from that face on top of that body. She turned out to be the wife of the Jap actor, Sessue Hayakawa, that Polynesian passion purveyor. She said he is now in Paris making a movie. She had been in the United States 35 years, first on the New York stage, then in Hollywood. The point is that Domei had planted her there so she could talk our language.

The whole populace is impassive now, but underneath is a spirit that says, "You got us this time, friend, but wait until the next one." It becomes apparent every so often. Incidentally, a fellow I know went down to Hiroshima to visit the site of the atomic bomb. It was really razed, but typifying the Jap attitude is this: He went in to visit a local municipal official, and the guy was most cordial. They sat and talked for a while, and the Jap official nonchalantly said, "O, those two boxes there are the ashes of my father and mother." Then he went on to invite this fellow for lunch.

MAKING THE PACIFIC LIKE HOME

Clarksburg, W. Va., Oct. 14—My nephew writes from Eniwetok, Marshall Islands, "You asked what we are doing on this island. Well, since our battalion has been here, we have worked on four islands—Pany, Runit, Engebi, and Eniwetok. On this island, we set up our camp, built a few huts for another outfit to live in, built some large warehouses, and now they are building a fleet recreation center and some receiving barracks. On Runit, we built three officers' clubs, for junior and senior officers and for admirals.

"The junior officers' club has a bar in it 180 feet long, and the senior club has one over 100 feet long. They had 30 bartenders, and the largest number of officers who have been in it at any one time is 40. You can decide if anything like that is essential. The enlisted men drink their beer [two cans apiece] out in the sun and rain. They don't even have a shelter. These bars are for fleet officers. They have modern fixtures in them, record players, and expensive refrigerators. On Eniwetok they are building a 3,000 man laundry. They have gone all this way, thru the war, without these things, and now they decide that they are needed.

"Here is the pay-off: The navy did not include these islands in the published list of bases that they will retain after the war." ESTHER S. STEALEY

THE ARMS THAT DIDN'T REACH CORREGIDOR

Providence, R. I., Oct. 14—In Life magazine there is a picture of Gen. Wainwright addressing congress. In the course of the address he said that if Corregidor had been armed it wouldn't have fallen.

We would like to know if the munitions that should have been in Wainwright's hands were put at foreign governments' disposal for their protection, while leaving Americans to fate.

"WORTH A HUNDRED SERMONS"

Chicago, Oct. 16—Many thanks for Carl Somdal's cartoon on the front page of today's TRIBUNE, which points out that the Golden Rule would prove the salvation of the world if sincerely observed among all nations. It is the kind of a cartoon which is worth a hundred sermons. It recognizes frankly the place of the right kind of religion in our post-war world.

FOR OFFICERS ONLY?

SINDAI, Honshu, Japan, Sept. 20—I am a Chicago boy and I accidentally saw an overseas edition of your paper printed in Tokyo Sept. 1, 1945. I inquired about getting one for myself and was told they were "for officers only." I didn't think THE TRIBUNE would allow anything like that, so I thought I'd inform you of this incident. After all, is there a law forbidding enlisted men to read home town newspapers? PARATROOPER

WHAT WAS GOOD ABOUT HIM?

Chicago, Oct. 16—I must take issue with Mrs. K. H., who protests changing the name of Balbo dr. What was great about Balbo? The fact that he did the bidding of a dictator and forced the "castor oil" cure on those who refused to obey should be enough for any real American to wish the name of that particular drive changed.

MISS I. M. G.

FOOD AT MANTENO

Berwyn, Ill., Oct. 14—Now that the food situation at the M. T. S. has been exposed, it's about time something was done with conditions at the Manteno state hospital. It's bad enough that the inmates are poorly fed without trying to squeeze the last few nickels from them by charging exorbitant prices at their commissary. I believe charging an unfortunate inmate 15 cents for a piece of pie and 10 cents for a cup of coffee is away out of line. Being a state hospital, it should be a nonprofitable organization, and the inmates should be able to purchase these articles at cost. F. Z.

WHEN THE VET GETS OUT

Fort Custer, Mich., Oct. 5—I wonder if our government and the civilians back home realize what rough sledding the returning war vet is faced with? I am speaking particularly of vets who are married, but who still do not have their furniture or their homes.

Today one can look in the want ads to try to find an apartment or a home and you may as well butt your head against a brick wall. There just aren't any, and if so, the rents are ridiculous. I myself have seen ads where some civilian who has been on a gravy train since 1941 offered to pay as much as $100 to $150 a month for a four or five room apartment. What chance has a vet under conditions like these?

To make matters still worse, every one and his brother is out on strike, and for a 30 per cent increase! If this increase goes thru, and it no doubt will, then prices, rents, and homes will go still higher and the public will pay for it, not the big fellow. How is GI Joe going to pay it? With that enormous $300 mustering out pay? Somebody had better do something about it, but fast! SGT. PAUL W. BRANDT

AN EYE FOR AN EYE

River Forest, Ill., Oct. 19—Mr. Jno. W. Anderson believes the attitude of THE TRIBUNE regarding the "homeless swine" of conquered Germany to be disgusting. He is apparently shocked to find that there are still a few Americans who have weathered the poisonous propaganda and the other morally debasing effects of World War II. He seemingly cannot comprehend why any one would be as foolish as to feed, or even pity, starving women and children.

The world can never expect peace if its people forever harbor grudges and the principle of an eye for an eye. Only by clear thinking and a truly Christian attitude toward others can another devastating war be avoided. FRED NOHL

REGULATIONS AMBIGUOUS

Chicago, Oct. 15—The house we rent is for sale. Are we obligated to show the premises to prospective buyers? At the time we rented nothing was said about the possibility of the building being offered for sale or about our showing it. H. B.

The rent ceiling regulations are ambiguous on this point. They authorize eviction for unreasonable refusal of a tenant to permit inspection, but do not indicate whether arbitrary refusal when he has made no agreement to permit inspection is "unreasonable." Except for the regulations, such refusal would be within the tenant's legal rights and therefore "reasonable." TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT

DETROIT MAYOR RACE FREE OF MACHINE TAINT

Nonpartisan System There Since 1918

BY ARTHUR EVANS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 21—One feature of Detroit's mayoralty contest between Mayor Edward J. Jeffries Jr., seeking a fourth term of two years, and Richard T. Frankensteen, vice president of the United Automobile Workers, biggest of the CIO unions, is the absence of a city hall patronage machine. For more than a quarter century under its 1918 charter Detroit has elected its city officials, from mayor down, under a nonpartisan system.

Mayor Jeffries boasts that he has never indicated whether he is Republican or Democrat, altho both parties have made repeated efforts to pin him down. He says the mayoralty is a nonpartisan office, and he will not tell.

Civil service is in effect, and a mayor is unable to build a personal precinct machine based on jobs, which is different from some other cities.

Unions Active in Race

The campaign here is a rather pale affair compared with the fury of battles over mayor in Chicago. And a complaint is growing that it comes too often and the term should be made four years.

The unions are organized, and are active. CIO headquarters and its political action committee are busily working for Frankensteen. American Federation of Labor unions are supporting Mayor Jeffries.

The peak registration of 802,761 for a municipal election which is regarded as aiding Frankensteen is largely a holdover from the registration for the Presidential election last year. The CIO-PAC that year, as in other industrial centers, concentrated on getting its members registered.

The big vote in Wayne county rolled up by the CIO-PAC for the fourth term gave President Roosevelt Michigan by a margin or about 22,000.

Led in Primary

At the August mayoralty primaries the registry was only a few thousand below the present. Some dopesters point out that Frankensteen led Jeffries by 14,000 as against a primary lead two years ago of 37,000 for Frank Fitzgerald, CIO candidate, who then was beaten by Jeffries in the election by 32,000.

Municipal elections have much smaller total voting than Presidential, and the results Nov. 6 may depend on how large a vote is polled. At present some impartial observers regard it as close, with chances that the next two weeks may see a swing toward Jeffries. But nobody is discounting Frankensteen's strength.

One phase in the campaigning is which candidate might have the more influence in getting post-war federal aid from Washington. Frankensteen has been saying Detroit was entitled to more federal aid than it has received, and has blamed Jeffries' attitude toward the administration for the inequality.

Jeffries says Detroit is prepared to meet post-war problems with a program providing 24 million annually for needed facilities. The mayor's supporters ask whether Frankensteen, who carried the banner for Wallace against Mr. Truman in the struggle over the Vice Presidency at the Democratic national convention in Chicago last year, would fare any better at Washington than the mayor.

As a background issue, some are arguing that the election of a CIO mayor in Detroit might thru the prestige gained give the CIO-PAC increased influence in shaping administration labor policies at Washington.

Mayor Jeffries in his speeches is asking Detroit whether it wants to become a "guinea pig." He says the CIO-PAC leaders want to elect a mayor "so they can make of the city an experimental laboratory for their social, labor, and industrial programs and ideas. It is out to reshape the government of the United States to meet its own pet notions."

Frankensteen, who accuses the mayor of "mental dishonesty" by accusing the national CIO-PAC of helping finance the local campaign, says he is not running as a labor candidate but as a candidate for all.

"I'm trying to prove that I'm human, that I don't have horns, and am deadly in earnest in wanting to give Detroit a good administration," he says.

G.O.P. to Win Control of Congress: Brownell

Pierre, S. D., Oct. 21 (AP)—The Republican party will regain control of congress in 1946, National Chairman Brownell of New York told South Dakota party workers today. "It is not enough to harp at the New Deal," he said, adding that election of 28 more Republican representatives and eight more senators would "return government to the American people and provide veto power over excessive extravagance."

Their mother, Mrs. Virginia Conrad, was present, but another daughter, Mrs. Marie Fischer, is in New York. A son, Maj. John T. Jarecki was absent on military duty.

ORPHAN ANNIE CREATOR SUED; LIBEL CHARGED

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 21 [Special]—Robert C. Flack, New York lawyer who lives in near-by Fairfield, has filed suit here for $10,000 damages against Harold Gray, creator of the Orphan Annie comic strip, it was learned today. The suit charges libel.

Flack, who was chairman of the Fairfield ration board until its liquidation last month, said in his complaint that a character named Fred Flask who appeared as a ration board chairman in the Orphan Annie strip between Aug. 13 and Aug. 22, 1943, was a thinly disguised caricature of himself. Flack said he was held up to ridicule and shunned by his friends as a result.

Gray, who lives in the adjoining village of Greens' Farms, Westport, said he had never met or seen Flack or heard about him before the suit was started. He said he was in Chicago when he laid out the strips in which Flask appeared and that his use of the name Flask was "purest coincidence."

Flack denied a report published in a Bridgeport paper that Gray put Flask into the strip after Flack had curtailed Gray's gasoline allowance. The lawyer said that "at no time did any of Mr. Gray's gas applications come before our board. He made his applications to the Westport board."

SLAIN GANGSTER BOASTED HE'D 'SHOOT IT OUT'

Companions of 2 Killed in Chase Tell Story

John Luchetz

Victor Puzzo, 16 year old desperado who was slain in a battle with police under the Humboldt Park-Logan Square elevated tracks near Wolcott and Milwaukee avs. Thursday night, prided himself on being a "tough guy" and boasted he would shoot it out with police if they chased him, two companions said yesterday at a police showup.

They were Philip Puzzo, 18, his brother, and Frank Randazzo, 26, of 1047 Belden av., an ex-convict from New York state, uncle of the Puzzo boys. They were captured after Victor Puzzo and Charles De Cola, 19, of 2941 Arthington st., were slain, and two other members of the gang were wounded.

Admits Five Holdups

Also present at the showup was another member of the holdup gang, John Luchetz, 16, of 1230 S. Washtenaw av., who, altho not present at the gun battle, admitted that he had accompanied Victor Puzzo on five previous holdups.

In one of these, he said, they robbed the same garage at 3453 Roosevelt rd., where the gang stole a car Thursday night in which they were riding when intercepted by police.

The slain Puzzo and Luchetz were identified by James Coffee, 4009 Nelson st., a pharmacist, who said they robbed him of $86 and a ring May 17 in Jundt's pharmacy at 4958 Diversey av.

Robberies Were Intended

Philip Puzzo said that altho he knew his brother, Victor, had been committing holdups, Thursday night was the first time he had gone along with the gang. They all knew when they started out, he said, that they were going to commit some robberies.

Randazzo said Victor told him, "I've got a pistol, let's go out."

Luchetz mentioned that the gang had been chased once before by police, but that they abandoned their car and escaped.

Tin and Fat Salvage Still on Critical List

A reminder that waste fats and tin are among the most critically needed items for reconversion and shipping of supplies to troops abroad was issued yesterday by Mrs. Walter J. Kelly, chairman of grease and tin salvage committees. Tin cans should be washed, opened, and flattened in the usual way, Mrs. Kelly said, and placed in piles beside garbage. Trouble in having the cans picked up should be reported to Franklin 2654.

Book De Lordo on Charge of Operating Handbook

Anthony De Lordo, 38, south side hoodlum, who was acquitted of a charge of murdering Martin [Sonny Boy] Quirk, was booked on state charges of operating a handbook yesterday after victims of criminals failed to identify him at the police showup. He will be arraigned today in South State st. court. De Lordo was seized Saturday in a raid on the handbook at 9060 South Chicago av. He said he lived at 6755 Wood st.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

Oct. 22—Chicago Nullifies Slave Law

On Oct. 22, 1850, citizens of Chicago, in a crowded mass meeting in the city hall, enthusiastically indorsed the action of the city council in setting aside a law of the United States.

The law was the fugitive slave act, which had just been passed by congress. It provided for the recovery of slaves who had escaped and made their way to free territory, and it required that citizens everywhere aid in executing the law.

The penalty for harboring, concealing or rescuing a fugitive was set at a $1,000 fine, civil damages of a like amount, and six months imprisonment.

* * *

"Honor, eternal honor, to the Chicago common council," one of the speakers at the mass meeting exclaimed. "Damnation eternal to those who voted for or dodged the vote on the infamous slave bill." He drew cheers when he trampled a copy of the law underfoot.

The council resolution thus indorsed, which had been adopted only 24 hours before, used equally strong language. It declared that the free state senators and congressmen who had assisted in the passage of the law or had dodged the vote on it "are only to be ranked with the traitors Benedict Arnold and Judas Iscariot."

* * *

The council declared the law unconstitutional and announced that it would not require the police to render any assistance in the apprehension of fugitive slaves.

A later mass meeting, under the spell of Sen. Douglas' oratory, repudiated the action of the council as anarchic altho there was no diminution of the horror with which the people regarded the law. The council, however, stood firm. It reconsidered and toned down its original resolution but refused to have it expunged from the record.

LYONS' GIRL, 15, TO TESTIFY FOR FATHER TODAY

Mrs. Alice Murdock Lyons, 45, who is suing her husband, Dr. Horace Lyons, 54, ear, nose, and throat specialist, for separate maintenance, will hear her daughter Jane, 15, testify today when the girl takes the witness stand before a jury in the court of Superior Judge John A. Sbarbaro. She will be a witness for her father.

Dr. Lyons, who has filed a cross-bill for divorce, has charged that Mrs. Lyons is a habitual drunkard. Alice Lyons, 22, an older daughter, already has testified that her mother was drunk several times a week in the last four years.

Mrs. Lyons has charged that she gave Dr. Lyons $400,000 and that he told her he preferred Mrs. Jeanette Gartz, 51, heiress to the plumbing fortune of her late husband, Adolph F. Gartz Jr.

GUNMAN STRIKES AND RAPES DICE GIRL NEAR HOME

A dice girl in the tavern at 123 N. Pulaski rd., reported to police yesterday that a man about 20 years old dragged her into an alley near her home and raped her. She said the attacker threatened her with a gun, then struck her.

A 21 year old unmarried woman, returning to her home from a dance early yesterday, was raped by one of three men who forced her into Eckhart park, near Chestnut and Noble sts., she reported to police. She said one of the pair with the rapist wore a soldier's uniform.

3 CALIFORNIANS HELD FOR FBI IN THEFT OF AUTO

Leroy Cowell, 18, Thomas Dugan, 18, and Floyd Newton, 17, all of Los Angeles, Cal., were held by Bedford Park county highway police for the federal bureau of investigation after they were arrested early yesterday at 87th st. and Harlem av. in a car they admitted stealing in Glendale, Cal.

Cowell is a striking R. K. O. studio employe. His companions are marines, absent without leave. With them in the car were Mrs. Betty Jones, 22, of Norcatur, Kas., and Mrs. Mary Bullis, 32, of Detroit, both soldiers' wives, whom the trio picked up in Rolla, Mo. The women were not held.

Deputies Max Gorenstein and Frank Righton, who halted the car, found a revolver in it. They said all three men denied ownership of the weapon. The trio is expected to face a federal charge of transporting a stolen car interstate.

19 Arrested in Dice Game to Face Court Thursday

Nineteen persons, 16 of them Negroes, were arrested early yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Frank Hart and Jack Burke in a raid on a dice game at 6312-14 S. Archer av., Summit. Elwood C. Clark, 53, Negro, 6552 W. 64th st., Summit, was booked as keeper and released on $100 bond. The others were booked as inmates and released on $25 bonds each. All will appear before Justice of the Peace Henry Pendl in Bedford Park county highway police court Thursday.

The pupils in the Temple auditorium, from 5 to 17 yetars old, enthusiastically greeted Philip Maxwell, who directs the broadcasts.

Respect for All Religions

Maxwell introduced Edwin A. Lederer, principal of the Temple Sholom religious school, who has been an administrator in Chicago public high schools since 1928. Lederer explained Jewish biblical education.

After the hymn, "We Meet Again in Gladness," was sung Rabbi Louis Binstock read from the 28th chapter of Job, verses 20 to 28, and the 2d chapter of Isaiah, verses 1 to 4. Eleven year old Marlene Toubin, a member of the religious school, then sang a solo. "May the Words of My Mouth."

Quiz Is Highlight

A highlight of the half hour program was the Bible quiz, in which three boys and three girls competed. Leather bound Bibles were given for the best answers in a quiz on persons and events in the Book of Isaiah.

Contestants were Sue Smart, 15; Geraldine Fisher, 14; Alan L. Gordon, 14; Robert Postel, 15; Donna Hendelman, 14, and Ira Wehlman, 15, all members of the Bible class.

The story of "Little Sarah and the Leper," a dramatized religious lesson, was presented by Jerry Walker, radio writer and narrator.

Rabbi Binstock of Temple Sholom said the program will be valuable because it will "acquaint many people with the American Sunday school."

PREDICTS EARLY END TO BUTTER RATIONING RULE

Owen M. Richards, manager of the American Dairy association, yesterday predicted that butter rationing will end shortly after the abandonment of the government subsidy scheduled for Nov. 8. He added that a reduction in butter points from 12 to 8 per pound is in the offing for Oct. 28.

Richards said there will be no real change in the price of butter with the removal of the government subsidy.

"People will pay 5 to 6 cents more a pound," he explained, "but the government, which is really the people, will cease to pay a like amount in the form of a subsidy."

He pointed out that butter purchasers have been paying more than the advertised market price for butter right along, but that part of the price was collected from them in the form of taxes, from which the subsidy was paid.

Rep. Dirksen to Discuss Peace at Bakers' Dinner

Rep. Dirksen [R., Ill.] will speak Wednesday night at a dinner in Hotel Sherman sponsored by the Bakers' Club of Chicago. The congressman, one of the first government representatives to circle the globe on a war time inspection tour, will discuss problems of peace and recount some of the things he saw on his five month trip.

FM IN SCHOOLS TO BE DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE

WGNB to Present a Special Program

BY LARRY WOLTERS

The application of frequency modulation [FM] and television, as well as standard broadcasting, in promoting education will be considered at the school broadcast conference today and tomorrow at the Morrison hotel. Several hundred delegates will be on hand from all sections of the country. George Jennings, director of the radio council of the Chicago board of education, is director of the conference. A demonstration of FM broadcasting is to be given by station WGNB between 8 and 10 p. m. tonight in the Casino room of the Morrison hotel. From 9 to 9:15 WGNB will broadcast a special program.

The manufacture of full color television transmitters and receivers is under way, CBS has informed the federal communications commission. The first receivers to be made by the General Electric company are expected in January, Dr. Peter C. Goldmark, in charge of the color development at CBS, said. A public demonstration of the color pictures is planned around the end of this year.

Joel Ashley of "The Two Mrs. Carrolls" company, will make an appeal for contributions for the Christmas stocking drive of Bundles for America on Stella White's Best Jobs broadcast at 11:30 a. m. today over WJJD. Bundles for America will send gifts to men in hospitals, serving in occupation zones or aboard American ships.

A tiny gadget developed by the General Electric company to improve radio reception aboard B-29s will be a factor in bringing better reception into homes, according to C. W. Frick, a company engineer. This radio noise filter, he said, is being widely introduced to eliminate static or buzzing in household electric appliances.

Neighbors found three of the children, Barbara, 4, Sharon Lee, 3, and Susan, 2, playing in the mud and rain behind their home. All were scantily clad. The youngest, Edward, 9 months, suffering from neglect, was found in a bed.

Policemen Peter Garramone and James Madden reported Mrs. Doherty was quoted by neighbors as saying she intended to leave so that the children "could find a better home." The two older children were taken to Juvenile home; the younger ones to St. Vincent's orphanage.

STREW FLOWERS IN LAKE TRIBUTE TO NAVY HEROES

Tribute was paid yesterday to the memory of Chicago's naval heroes of World War II. who sleep in the sea. Flowers contributed by families of the men who died in service were strewn on Lake Michigan from the gunboat U. S. S. Wilmette after a pre-Navy day ceremony on the lake front plaza near Buckingham fountain.

The flowers were blessed by Capt. R. W. Schrum, senior chaplain of the Great Lakes Naval Training center, after invocation had been pronounced by Chaplain Eli E. Shelby of Navy pier. Perce Brautigan, past Cook county commander of the American Legion and Navy day chairman, was in charge of the program, which was held under auspices of the Chicago council of the Navy league.

Navy day will be observed next Saturday. Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, deputy chief of naval operations for air, will review a parade of 3,000 9th naval district personnel in the loop. Adm. Mitscher will speak at a Navy day dinner in Hotel Sherman at 6:30 p. m.

A 9 month old girl was found abandoned yesterday on the front porch of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Perz, 3825 Elm st., East Chicago. The baby was clothed in a dress and a coat. A bag containing other clothing and a bottle of milk was found near by. Police took the child to St. Catherine's hospital in East Chicago.

Rio Grande 75th. ANNIVERSARY

1870 Civil War Reconstruction . . . Opening of the West . . . Incorporation of the Denver & Rio Grande, originally projected to Mexico City . . . Called the "Baby Road" because its tracks were narrow gauge, 3' wide instead of the standard 4'8½".

1883 First thru Rio Grande train between Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Grand Junction, Salt Lake City and Ogden . . . In the wake of fabulous precious metal discoveries a network of rails followed.

1890 The Royal Gorge Route—Denver, Pueblo, Salt Lake City, Ogden—became standard gauge . . . Fame of the Rio Grande as "Scenic Line of the World" universally recognized.

1928 Pioneer dreams came true with completion of the Moffat Tunnel, 6.2 mile bore under James Peak.

1934 Moffat Tunnel Route, via Dotsero Cutoff, opened another direct central transcontinental route vital to Chicago gateway, just as Royal Gorge Route thru Pueblo is to St. Louis gateway.

1941 Pearl Harbor . . . war in the Pacific . . . war in Europe . . . railroads became nation's lifeline. Rio Grande, prepared for expansion by vast pre-war improvements, plays vital role.

1945 VE Day . . . VJ Day . . . 75 years of Rio Grande service crowned by full-scale participation in Victory . . . ready for years of continuing usefulness . . . soon to present for approval of American travelers a new streamlined transcontinental train featuring new-style accommodations and the ultra-modern Vista Dome cars.

Teacher-Librarians to Have Program in Broadcast Meeting

Teacher-librarians will attend a special program and demonstration arranged for them at 12:15 p. m. today in connection with the ninth annual school broadcast conference, scheduled for today and tomorrow in the Roosevelt room of the Morrison hotel. Similar programs of interest to radio chairmen of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs have been arranged for 2 p. m. and 3:30 p. m. today. Mrs. Anna Burtram, teacher-librarian at the Holmes school, will present the program. The parent-teacher session will be on "Radio Education and Public Service Programs," ending with a panel discussion led by Harold B. McCarty, radio chairman for the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Relatives Often Interfere with Child Training

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1945: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Relatives sometimes are harder to train than children themselves. I am sure many a mother will nod her head in vigorous agreement and then end up with a sigh. They have learned from experience that Uncle John, Aunt Sue, Grandpa, and Grandma may be much more difficult to handle than the boys and girls themselves.

For one thing, you hurt their feelings if you suggest that their way with children is not a good one. They think, then, only of the fact that you are criticizing them and not of what is best for the little boy or girl of whom they are fond.

The fact that they adore your small son or daughter, or are interested in your big boy or girl, doesn't seem to lessen the effects of their handiwork. And to add to the trouble these very grownups will resent the results their own wrong approach has brought about, and expect you to discipline them.

You know what I mean:

There are the adults who overindulge their young nieces and nephews.

There are the ones who smother them with attention, playing with them, watching them and, worst of all, talking about them all the time, within their hearing.

There are grownups who interfere when you discipline, calling you harsh. But also, there are the one who order a child about, arousing his ire and calling you lax.

Then there are the ones who "personalize" constantly, making a child self-conscious.

And there are those who tease and ridicule a child, causing him to get what they call "fresh" in self-defense, if for no other reason.

Yes, it often is the adults who need the training. Some rare ones are open-minded—I even have met a few like that myself—but most of them can't see your point of view. Are there any of our readers who have worked out this problem successfully?

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 21—Did you know that a Californian named John Montgomery is believed to have flown a plane in 1883, long before the Wright brothers? I didn't. Neither did Bill Wellman until he ran across the story some weeks ago. He became so enthusiastic about it he got Bryan Morgan to work with him on it for a picture. They dug up facts from the San Diego Chamber of Commerce and found that many people thought Montgomery a little touched. But the priests at Santa Clara had other ideas. They built a shack for him where he experimented for 10 years. You might say he had the first flying school because working with him were a German, an Irishman, an Italian, and an American. The little girl who worked the bellows in the church became his wife. A year and a half after they were married he died. His wife, a brother, and two sisters are still living. The love and human interest angle of the story is as great as his development in flying. Wellman, as you know, was the heart, soul, and director behind "G. I. Joe."

Korda Retiring from M-G-M

Alexander Korda, whose last English picture is "Vacation from Marriage" starring Robert Donat and Deborah Kerr, is retiring from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. He's been head of Metro's English group for more than five years. Illness was given as the reason for his retirement. . . . Lt. Comdr. Doug Fairbanks Jr. is all set for "Adventures of Sinbad," a swashbuckling tale like the sort of thing his father did better than anybody else on the screen. Walter Slezak and Maureen O'Hara are also in it. . . . Jack Haley's having to get up early these mornings. Part of "Bad Man's Territory" is being shot on his ranch, and he's out there to see that his cattle get their share of close-ups. . . . Jackie Cooper arrived from Pearl Harbor with the Halsey fleet.

Nice Gesture from Buffalo

Joseph J. Kelly, mayor of Buffalo, N. Y., took time out to suggest that Charles Morati, tenor who's directing their Civic Opera company, would be perfect for Enrico Caruso. "During his last Los Angeles appearance," wrote Mayor Kelly, "your Times headlined him 'Double of Caruso Heard at Grauman's Chinese'." On the mayor's letterhead is this slogan: "Buffalo, the City of Good Neighbors." . . . Esther Williams was met in Mexico City by their great star, Cantinflas, who brought so many flowers to the plane she and two companions couldn't carry them. They're giving her a time down there. She wrote after seeing her first bullfight that it was better than any football game. I wonder whether she'll feel the same after she's fought her first bull.

Star Rave by a Star

Cary Grant really put on a rave about Virginia O'Brien's singing for Adm. Halsey at the Cocoanut Grove. Said he, "Gosh, if I could pry her away from Metro and book her in England, she'd be a riot." When Ray Bolger danced with an imaginary partner, Grant said, "I don't understand why he's not the biggest star here. There's great talent!" No doubt about it, and when Ray does "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" on Broadway with Oscar Serlin, then puts it on the screen, he'll be one of our greatest. It's just too bad he's had to wait so long. . . . The Andrews Sisters are wasting no time. They're recording six of their top tunes in Russian for Russia. . . . This did it to me. "Some Must Watch," a best selling novel, is now "The Silence of Helen McCord."

Pen Slipped, Not Gracie

Poor Gracie Fields. In an interview from Australia, she said she was "tired," and it got out somehow that she was "retiring." If I know my Gracie she won't retire until she hears Angel Gabriel blow that trumpet. . . . Irene, Metro's designer, and husband, Capt. Eliot Gibbons, joined the Gary Coopers at Averill Harriman's lodge in Sun Valley for some shooting. Bet, Coop, and Rocky are the sharpest shooters. They proved they were really expert in one of my movie shorts a couple of years ago. . . . Louis B. Mayer has nine camera crews at the race track every time the Busher runs. They cover every part of the race, so he can see if she's ever fouled. . . . We have the cutest little schemes here for getting what we want. All agents were after newcomer Nancy Guild, but she wouldn't sign. They sent their handsomest employes to take her dining and dancing, but not until she danced with Mike Levee's young son did she sign up with Papa Mike. . . . When Marlene Dietrich was introduced to Jerome Zerbe some years ago, she said, "What a beautiful name! How ever did you think of it?"

ANSWERS TO SATURDAY'S QUIZ

Q. 1—Partner opens with one heart and you hold:

♠A62 ♥75 ♦9762 ♣10432

What is your response?

A.—Pass. You have only one honor trick in one suit and no reasonable chance to develop another trick. The chances of making game are so remote as to render it against the odds to keep the bidding open.

Q. 2—As South you hold:

♠KQ63 ♥A964 ♦7 ♣KJ97

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 diamond	Double	?

What do you bid?

A.—Redouble. This is a good hand opposite a partner who could open the bidding, and offers a fair prospect for game. The conventional manner of announcing this strength is by a redouble, even without diamond support. The redouble requests partner to pass the next bid around to you. If it happens to be two clubs a terrific set is in sight. If it happens to be one of the majors you can still operate to good advantage. Don't let the opponents off the hook by bidding at this point.

Q. 3—As dealer you hold:

♠AK4 ♥6432 ♦AQ3 ♣AK5

What do you bid?

A.—One club. If your answer was one no trump take a big demerit, and that despite your argument that you use the strong no trump. This hand is much too big even for a big no trump. In fact you will be excused for bidding two no trump. You have 5½ honor tricks but the hand lacks intermediates and also has no heart stopper. The best opening bid is one club with intent to make a powerful bid if partner responds.

Q. 4—As South you hold:

♠J54 ♥KJ765 ♦K652 ♣4

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 club	1 spade	?

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. If you should make a free bid of two hearts at this point partner would be forced to speak again and if the rebid is three clubs you would be most uncomfortable. If partner has a strong opening bid, he is at liberty to speak again over the spade bid at which time you may decide whether it is good policy to show the hearts. Beware of the misfit.

Q. 5—As South you hold:

♠63 ♥A95 ♦52 ♣AKJ754

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 heart	1 spade	2 clubs	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Five hearts. You have not yet shown the full strength of your hand by the free bid of two clubs. You have distinctly more than an opening bid and partner has opened and made an enormous jump [not three hearts but four hearts]. If partner is protected against the loss of two spade tricks, he should be able to make a slam.

Q. 6—You are South, opponents are vulnerable, you are not and you hold:

♠KQ97 ♥AJ ♦K43 ♣Q1083

East has opened with one spade.

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. Which offers a better chance of showing a profit—trying for game or penalizing the opponents? The latter definitely. The better policy is to sit back and give the opposition enough rope to hang themselves. If you play possum they may overestimate their strength and bid themselves into trouble.

Q. 7—You are South vulnerable, opponents are not, and you hold:

♠J5 ♥KQ10 ♦AQ104 ♣KJ95

The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 heart	1 no trump	Pass	Pass
2 hearts	Pass	Pass	2 spades
Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Do not be too much impressed by your partner's bid of two spades. Remember that he did not bid the first time, even tho you showed a strong hand. He was willing to let you play at one no trump and is therefore persuaded that you cannot go game. He merely did not choose to let the opponents play at two hearts. You have probably missed your chance for a good score by failing to double two hearts.

Q. 8—As South you hold:

♠KJ10974 ♥KQ ♦9 ♣J1094

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	Pass	1 spade	Pass
3 spades	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Five spades. You would have jumped to four spades if partner had given you a mere single raise. With a double raise you should think mildly of a slam. Partner should realize that you have no aces on the side. If you had you would take this opportunity to make the display.

Fisher Is Fur of Beauty and Durability

BY REA SEEGER

So many high voltage adjectives have been spent on such furs as sable, mink, broadtail, and chinchilla that one of the most beautiful and patrician furs has become known to only a very discriminating few. It's the skin called fisher. Fisher is classed next to granny's favorite otter for long wear, surviving in its lush brown beauty years longer than the more fragile and much more publicized pelts. Luxurious and costly sable is often confused with fisher even by eagle eyed experts, so you will realize its comparative beauty and sheen.

It is well known that sable is to be cherished because of its fragility, that its beauty is synonymous with prohibitive costs, but the lovely sheen and color of fisher, costly tho it is, will survive and outwear any of the sables and other delicate skins—so the price marks are justified. Fisher is the skin of a small medium haired animal from eastern Canada, equal in size to sable, with the smallest skins preferred for both beautiful scarves and jackets. Fisher pelts vary in size from small to skins the size of a small fox. Soft, supple pelts from the female fisher make most perfect and supple coats and scarves.

The color is most flattering. The undertone is a rich brown and there are long guard hairs of black. There isn't a hint of gray, blue, or yellow, just a deep brown and black contrast. A perfect blend is the outstanding quality, as coats are worked or made in the same manner as those of sable. Stoles, two, three, four, and six skin scarves, capes, and three-quarter length jackets of these superbly matched skins make furs of breathtaking glory.

Inquiring Camera Girl

By Maryon Zylstra

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Mrs. M. Harpol, Seattle, Wash.]

THE QUESTION

If you had a brother or sister who left clothes lying around how would you break them of the habit?

WHERE ASKED

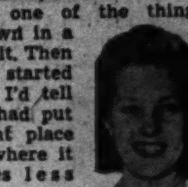
THE ANSWERS

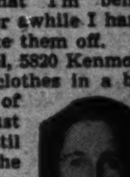
Gloria Alegria, 5452 N. Paulina st.—In the most convincing manner that I knew, I would try to tell them they should pick up their clothes because in later years they will benefit by it. Picking up clothes and keeping them in order is a good habit to get into and it's such a pleasant feeling to know your room is neat.

Joe Matz, 2218 Arthur av.—Every one has favorites in his wardrobe. I mean they like one sweater better than another, etc. If I had a brother or sister who threw clothes around I would suggest to my mother that she restrict the offender from wearing certain favorite outfits. That would cure them in a hurry.



Bernice Simkus, 6033 Winthrop av.—I'd take one of the things they had thrown in a heap and hide it. Then when they started looking for it I'd tell them if they had put it in the right place they'd know where it was. It takes less time in the long run to put things where they belong and it's easier on clothes.

Jerry Jacobs, 6334 Sheridan rd.—My sister has a good cure for me when I throw my clothes around. She drapes them on the bed, over my desk, and every place she can think of where they might get in my way. That reminds me that I'm being careless and then for awhile I hang them up when I take them off.



Nancy Rhotehamel, 5820 Kenmore av. — I'd put the clothes in a big heap in the middle of the room and just keep doing that until finally they'd get the idea to put them away. One piece of clothing lying in a heap by itself doesn't get so wrinkled but if you pile all in one place it would make an awful mess.

Betty Hanson, 1456 Catalpa av.—This is the way my mother does it. My brother doesn't always pick up his clothes and she says, "Pick up your clothes before you go out of the house." He naturally wants to go out so he picks up his clothes. Any kind of restriction as a penalty for not picking up clothes would work.

- Rich suds even in ice water

Dishes SHINE WITHOUT WIPING!

IT'S TRUE! . . . No soap ever made can perform the dishwashing miracles that Dreft can! It makes dishes positively gleam without wiping. For Dreft leaves no streaks or cloudiness the way all soaps do. Gets even glasses so clean they sparkle—without touching a towel to them!

Stockings LOOK SHEER AS NEW!

NEW Woolens WASH SOFTER, FLUFFIER!

WOOLENS are a joy when washed with Dreft. Because Dreft's suds rinse absolutely clear. No soap deposit to harshen woolens and dim their colors. Lovely new woolens stay soft and fluffy far longer than with even the most expensive soap flakes.

Lingerie STAYS COLOR-FRESH LONGER THAN EVER BEFORE!

LINGERIE stays color-bright and fresh, wash after wash. There's no chance of soap-fading to make undies look all washed out! Dreft keeps your nice things brighter than any soap could ever do!

The demand for Dreft is tremendous. If your dealer is out of Dreft now and then, please be patient—there will be more Dreft soon. Keep asking for Dreft.

Three Guggenheim Fellowships Given to Chicago Area Men

Three of 36 post-service fellowships announced in New York yesterday by the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial foundation were awarded to Chicago area university teachers. The fellowships grant approximately $2,500 each to scholars and artists who served in the army or navy during the war.

Lt. Comdr. G. La Verne Freeman, associate professor of psychology at Northwestern university, received his fellowship for a projected book on nervous tension in man.

Dr. Revilo P. Oliver, assistant professor of classics, Spanish, and Italian at the University of Illinois, and until recently an army research analyst, received his award for his future studies of the ethico-philosophical content of humanism of the first half of the 15th century.

The third Chicago area fellowship was awarded to Dr. Roy Overstreet, research associate in the radiation laboratory of the University of Chicago. His project will be a study of the absorption and behavior of inorganic ions in plant nutrition.

Miss Cochran Is Engaged to E. A. Cudahy III

BY JUDITH CASS

Of romantic interest is the announcement Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy Jr., are making today of the engagement of Mrs. Cudahy's daughter, Miss Nancy Lee Cochran, to Mr. Cudahy's son, Edward A. Cudahy III. Their wedding this winter will follow by two years that of Miss Cochran's mother and Mr. Cudahy, which took place in January, 1944, and will culminate a long friendship between the two young people.

Miss Cochran, who was one of the loveliest young models in the benefit St. Luke's fashion show last week, was educated at the Girls' Latin school and the Ethel Walker school, and made her debut during the Christmas holidays in 1942. She has an elder sister, Mrs. Louis Lee Hemingway Jr. of Portland, Me., the former Eleanor Cochran. Their father is John L. Cochran of Chicago.

Young Mr. Cudahy attended the Bell school in Lake Forest and the Canterbury school and left Princeton university to enlist in the merchant marine. He became an ensign and was discharged on Oct. 8 following three years of service. He has a sister, Mrs. Giorgio Pellegrini, who with her husband lives in Lake Forest, and a younger brother, Lt. Anthony B. Cudahy, who is at Camp Le Jeune with the marines. Their mother was the late Margaret Carry Cudahy.

The announcement marks the second event of romantic interest over the week-end in the large Cudahy family, as Miss Leonore Cudahy, daughter of Edward I. Cudahy, became the bride of Harry B. Clow Jr., son of Mrs. Clow of Lake Forest, in a small ceremony at noon Saturday in Lake Forest. Edward I. Cudahy and Edward A. Cudahy Jr. are cousins.

Our Today's Calendar

The auxiliary board of the Children's Memorial hospital will give its annual tea for volunteers from 4 to 6 o'clock this afternoon in the Nellie A. Black residence, 700 Fullerton av. Volunteers who have served 200 hours or more will receive recognition pins. Mrs. Augustus K. Maxwell and Mrs. Herbert H. Kennedy, who head the committee on volunteer service, will make the awards. Mrs. Edward Morris is in charge of the tea. Pouring will be Mrs. Bruce Borland, Mrs. John Clay, Mrs. Dexter Cummings, Mrs. James J. McKenna, and Mrs. William H. Mitchell.

The Winnetka Music club will open its 22d concert series tonight in the New Trier High school auditorium with a program by Jesus Maria Sanromá, Puerto Rican pianist. Later concerts in the series will be given by Zino Francescatti, violinist; the Budapest String quartet; Lotte Lehmann, soprano; and a popular dance team. Mrs. Edward F. Hamm Jr. is the group's new president. Mrs. Dwight C. Orcutt is chairman of the committee for the series and other members are Mrs. Holman D. Pettibone, Miss Frances Anderson, Mrs. Channing Coolidge, Mrs. Audley Harnsberger, Mrs. John Hattsteadt, Mrs. Calvin Selfridge, and Mrs. Orval Simpson.

Miss Annie Versary, the chic mannequin who has graced the windows of the Roseland Thrift shop since she was presented to the Beverly Hills center of the Infant Welfare society last year on the shop's 15th birthday anniversary, will be the special guest at a luncheon today in the home of Mrs. Hartley Laycock. Celebrating the shop's 16th anniversary, guests will be asked to bring a gift of used clothing in size 16 to fit Miss Annie and to be sold in the busy little mart, whose receipts now amount to more than $16,000 a year.

Other Happenings Today

The second in a series of amateur model contests will be held today at the Key club. Young married women will be the contestants this time. They are Mrs. Paul Butler, Mrs. William A. Callison, Mrs. David L. Chambers, Mrs. Herbert W. Hoover Jr., and Mrs. Daniel Kennedy, and Mrs. Thomas M. Smyth. Seeing the show as guests of Mrs. Marcy T. Weeks will be Lt. and Mrs. Harvey T. Weeks, who are visiting his aunt, Mrs. George F. McLaughlin, and the Russell T. Sterns while looking for an apartment in Chicago. Lt. Weeks, who is a half-brother of Marcy Weeks, and his wife were married in Hawaii. This is her first visit to the United States.

The Kenwood Social Service club will hear the results of its recent Good Neighbor cocktail party in the Racquet club at a meeting at 2 p. m. today in the home of Mrs. Dorothy Tillinghast. News of the party literally has gone half-way around the world, for the club's president, Mrs. Victor Essroger has received a Tribune clipping mailed to her from Guadalcanal giving the first announcement of the benefit.

The 700 volunteer Travelers Aid workers will have a chance to meet Mrs. Muriel C. Henry of New York, new extension secretary of the Chicago society, at a tea which the woman's board of the society is giving today in the Knickerbocker hotel.

A lecture by Clayton Hamilton, author, editor, and critic, at 8 o'clock tonight in the Cordon club will follow a 6:30 p. m. dinner.

On Committee for Arden Shore Benefit Ball

In an 8:30 p. m. ceremony on Friday in the First Methodist church of Oak Park, 1st Lt. Peter Robertson Thom Smith of the army air forces will take as his bride Miss Dorothy Jane Bridgen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence James Bridgen of Oak Park. A reception will follow in the west lounge of the Edgewater Beach hotel. Miss Bridgen was graduated from the University of Michigan. Her fiance, a graduate of Robert Gordon college in Scotland, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Fraser Smith of Stoney Wood, Aberdeenshire, Scotland. They will live in Hilo, Hawaii, where Lt. Smith is stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Gilmore of Riverside, formerly of Secane, Pa., have announced the marriage on Oct. 7 of their daughter, Miss Jean Thompson Gilmore of the WAVES, to Robert Edward Curtis of the marine corps reserve, son of William C. Curtis of Washington, D. C., and of Mrs. Nellis Lee Curtis of Lincoln, Neb. The ceremony took place in the marine corps air station chapel at Ewa, Oahu, T. H. The bride was a student at Juniata college in Pennsylvania when she enlisted in the WAVES. Both she and Mr. Curtis were on duty at Parris Island, S. C., before being assigned to their present stations in the Hawaiian Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. Alois Richmond Clarke of Little Rock, Ark., formerly of Hyde Park blvd., announce the marriage on Oct. 6 of their daughter, Sara Elizabeth, to Sgt. Amon English Gross, son of Mrs. A. E. Gross of Lakewood, O. The ceremony took place in the First Presbyterian church of Little Rock. The bride was graduated from the Faulkner school and attended the University of Chicago. She and Sgt. Gross are living in Washington, D. C.

In a ceremony on Oct. 5 in St. Stephen's Episcopal church Donald Montanye Kastler of Chicago took as his bride Miss Sylvia Titian Weaver, daughter of Sylvester Laflin Weaver of Los Angeles and the late Mrs. Weaver. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Irwin St. John Tucker. Mr. Kastler and his bride will live in Chicago.

Announcements have been received from Adolph Madsen of Maywood of the marriage of his daughter, Mabel Madsen Norcross, to Clare McKee on Oct. 13 in Highland Park. Mrs. McKee was the widow of the late Dr. Edward P. Norcross of Highland Park. The marriage took place in her Highland Park residence, where Mr. McKee, a painter, and his bride are at home. He is superintendent of grounds at Fort Sheridan.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

Little Acorns

At a club meeting of high school girls several mothers were present. One of the mothers, alert, and enthusiastic, remarked that the course in shorthand and typing which she took in high school 25 years ago had supported and educated her two children. Those hours in the classroom had turned out to be invaluable to a woman, left a young widow with heavy responsibilities. From such small beginnings—from the little acorn of schoolgirl study had grown a strong sturdy tree of knowledge.

How little she anticipated this when, in her teens, she went day after day to her typing or shorthand class! What better example could be set before the eyes of this attractive group of students to impress upon them that no effort is wasted, no skill is lost, no achievement is negligible!

Salutation

My boss also addresses letters occasionally to Miss Mary Jones and Mr. Samuel Smith. The only salutation which seems to sound right is "Dear Miss Smith and Mr. Jones." In case the letter is directed to a married couple the salutation reads, "Dear Mr. and Mrs. Smith."

ARLINE OF HAMMOND

It isn't customary to address both a man and woman as individuals in the same business letter so there is no customary salutation. "Dear Mr. Jones and Miss Smith" however, is simple and clear, therefore logical. If you want to be extra polite, then put the lady first. Of course, if it's a friendly, personal letter, "Dear Hank and Hannah" will suffice.

Dancer Loses Way in a Maze of Alien Styles

BY ALBERT GOLDBERG

Felicitas Gobineau, making her debut in a recital at Kimball hall yesterday afternoon, revealed herself as a dancer who strives to blend the Mary Wigman style with the Angna Enters type of dramatic episode. The result generally impressed us as being synthetic rather than a synthesis.

From the Wigman school Miss Gobineau has appropriated the unrestrained freedom of movement and emancipation from all suggestion of classical ballet technique, plus the tailor made music which was an integral part of the Wigman doctrine. Since this is a manner not too difficult of imitation, Miss Gobineau succeeds tolerably well in that direction.

But when she dresses up these dances in self designed costumes vaguely suggestive of nationalities and historical periods and attempts to portray a dramatic idea, she reaches that point where genius might flourish but where talent flounders. Almost all of this dancer's efforts start with a promise of interesting development; but almost without exception they lose themselves in an aimlessness that lacks either dramatic or choregraphic point.

The best, to our taste, was the opening "Intrada," which was pure Angna Enters, a style which carried over with decreasing conviction into the tryptich, "Figures from a Spanish Court," in which panels depicting a page, the Infanta, and the inquisitor relied heavily on fancy program notes that were seldom recognizably realized in the dances. Debussy's "Evening in Granada" was scarcely more authentically Spanish then a mazurka was Polish; Fauré's "Elegy," originally written for cello and orchestra and badly played on the piano, was danced in a costume that might have belonged to a Chinese mandarin, and was certainly far removed from any conventional expression of grief; while "Dances of a Night" left us merely puzzled as they sought to portray "Night with her quiet majesty, her all-embracing darkness in whose depths are born emotions and passions of man; vile and noble, terrifying and soothing, depressing and exalting."

Daniel Sternberg's music, played on the piano by himself, is the sort that forms pretentious background for dancing but that you wouldn't care to meet face to face on a concert program.

Barere At Best When Fabulous Technique Flares Into Lisztian Brilliance

At Simon Barere's recitals you take your fun where you find it, and it seems to me you have at least two choices in reaction. One is to feel that he gives you little more than the ornamentation on the musical cake and leaves you hungry for the inner substance that is music's daily bread. The other is to admit that his playing is no more to be quarreled with than the journey of a mountain stream which has shallow stretches and turbid muddlings, which you accept in return for its rare flashes of shining clarity, its sheer drops down the lovely scale of tonal mist, its exhilarating way of shooting the rapids with a foaming brilliance—a brilliance that at Barere's peak of performance is almost unique in contemporary technique.

At Orchestra hall yesterday I inclined toward the mountain stream theory, and sat patiently thru some rather pudgy Corelli and Rameau until Mr. Barere, in a manner of speaking, came to his own recital for Godowsky's way with a lighthearted gigue. And Schumann's Symphonic Etudes were worth the wait, for the serene statement of intention, the occasional outburst of breathtaking bravura, the headlong, superbly Schumannesque signature of the finale, that almost convinced you of the validity of all that had gone before.

Mr. Barere's Chopin consisted of a satiny nocturne and a scherzo concentrated on the crest of the spectacular; his Scriabine of three etudes intent on display rather than their own inner elegance; his Rachmaninoff of a prelude and etude tableaux that clung shining to the keyboard surface without penetrating the haunted realm of their composer. But his Liszt, now there you had something! "Valse Oubliée" was a tantalizing fragment evoked out of the nowhere into which it vanished. "Gnomenreigen" was audacious gossamer that melted in the unbelieving ear. And the 12th Rhapsody hurtled across the piano at about the pace of Barere's unforgotten way with the Tschaikowsky Concerto. Remember that one? Cool as a cucumber, he clipped seven minutes off the usual playing time while the audience mopped its collective brow.

Thru the Looking Glass

Got the feeling that you're looking a bit drab and uninteresting lately? Then maybe it's time to try a new type of coiffure. Most of us get tired of wearing our hair the same way, month after month, and even get a little indifferent about caring for the tresses as we should when dressing them in the same style has become monotonous.

That's the time to skip out to the beauty shop and try something definitely new and different. Put yourself in the hands of an expert hair stylist and get the benefit of professional opinion on the most becoming line and sweep of the hair. You might want to experiment a bit yourself, but the professional stylist's judgment is better to be relied upon than our own amateurish decisions.

There's a broad leeway now in styling and almost anything goes in the way of a coiffure as long as it's becoming. If you've been clinging to an updo for ages you might find a smooth topped, casual sort of hair style a becoming change that will add new interest to your looks. Or maybe a sleek, sophisticated kind of coiffure will give the zip and sophistication that's been lacking from the finished portrait.

A single type of hair style, worn indefinitely and without alteration, becomes monotonous to your public as well as to you. It might even date you and put you among the back numbers who don't seem to realize that a change of coiffure is as good as a new gown for adding a new note to the appearance.

Even tho you may not want to stay with the changed style for long, you've still stimulated renewed interest in your looks and will be inclined to spend more time dressing your hair carefully so that it always make a becoming frame for the face.

"Rumor Had It" . . . . By Christopher Hale

(Copyright: 1945: By Mrs. Frances Stephens)

INSTALMENT XXXVII.

A PLANT

There was a flurry at the outer door and in the hall. A crowd of people seemed to explode thru the doorway. Two troopers were pushing Hester and Harry Duke before them.

Mrs. Duke cried hysterically, "Will you order this insolent brute to take his hands off me? I told him what happened once. Why should I be forced to repeat it?"

"What's all this, Preston?" French asked.

"This lady was seen going into the Duprez woman's apartment at 8:43," repeated the trooper stoutly. "Nobody saw her come out."

"It's a lie," said Hester Duke.

"The lady who saw her lives across the hall from Miss Duprez. She was hurrying up to her flat from the drugstore so she wouldn't miss a radio program that starts at 8:45. She saw Mrs. Duke slipping into Mrs. Duprez' place just before the program came on."

"Where were you at 8:43, Mrs. Duke?" French asked.

"I was taking a walk," she answered promptly.

Nobody believed her. When he asked where, she said up and down the road in front of the Duke house.

"And where were you, Duke?"

"I . . . I was in my car. I'd gone for some . . . some cigarets. We were all out."

"Check on that, Preston," French nodded toward the telephone. Harry Duke put out a hand.

"Uh . . . don't bother. I didn't get them. I forgot. I was thinking of something else."

The words were futile enough without the hesitating, impromptu manner and unsteady voice. French leaned back in his chair looking from one to the other of his perspiring victims.

Just as the silence was getting ready to explode, a trooper came in. He drew from his pocket a string of flame and blue fire.

"There's the necklace, sir. It was behind the sofa, under a rug."

"Any one recognize this?" French asked.

"That," said Erica, "It not grandmother's. In hers, the sapphires form little blue forget-me-nots."

French tossed the thing to Mr. Izenga.

"Would you give me $25 for it?"

Mr. Izenga needed only one quick look. "I would say $15 would be ample."

"This must be the imitation. Jim, ask Lieberwitz if this is the one he made for Duprez."

French tossed the necklace to a trooper. They seemed to know a great deal about it, Mr. Izenga thought, dismayed.

Mrs. Duke lit a cigaret and blew out a scornful wand of smoke. "Who says she ever had the real one?"

"I do!" French finished that.

The door opened and a pleasant looking white-haired woman walked in. Her face was far from beautiful but honesty and character made it attractive.

French said. "Mrs. Vinson lives across the hall from Miss Duprez. Mrs. Vinson, you saw some woman going into Miss Duprez' apartment this evening?"

"Yes, lieutenant. It was that lady there. Mrs. Duke. She was wearing that same dress. We belong to the same church, and have been introduced a couple of times, but I don't think she remembers me."

Hester said nothing.

"And are you sure of the time, too?"

O, yes. It was her favorite radio program at 8:45, otherwise she'd have lingered in the hall a little. Just to make sure everything was all right. Mrs. Duke seemed to act a little odd. Like she didn't want to be seen.

Hester Duke's eyes never left the woman's mouth.

"I'll want to talk to Mrs. Duke in a few minutes," French said. "But first there's the matter of that necklace. It's likely that was what was being hunted in Miss Duprez' apartment. The place had been ransacked."

"If I were handling this job," Ridge Dawson said curtly, "I'd search every one here at once. In fact, as Erica's uncle I insist she be searched and Hester, too. Altho it's crazy to suspect either of them of that woman's death. It would have taken a man to throttle Lucianna."

French, with his quiet smile, glanced at Erica's healthy body, her golf-hardened muscles, her resolute air. Then he looked at Hester, wiry, whiplike, malevolent.

"We'll search everybody," he said.

Mrs. Duke wrapped her arms about her as if to make a tight searchproof package.

"And who's going to do it?" she shrilled.

"If you and Miss Pomeroy will step over there," French began in a matter-of-fact voice. Every one shifted about in the small room. Suddenly the lights went out.

"Green! Preston! Turn that switch on." French shouted. "Open the hall door." A strip of light poured in, then the room lights went on again. French looked at his two troopers as if ordering to freeze their memories at this point, and report to him later. One of the men moved in front of the wall switch.

"We'll get on with the search," French said.

He walked around Ridge Dawson and began to slap his coat pockets.

French moved toward Harry Duke who was almost green. His lower lip sagged. He looked as if he were dying on his feet. But at the very moment French reached out a hand to touch him, Toby Newcomb spoke.

"Wait. I can save you a lot of time, lieutenant."

Toby's right hand was in the pocket of his coat. His eyes were fixed on Huntley Price's face. Huntley stood beside him, chin up, ready to take his turn in this mortifying farce.

"Here you are." Newcomb pulled out of his pocket a string of blinding blue and gold and orange dazzle. It was a necklace, mostly diamonds, but with small blue flowers every inch of its length, composed of clusters of sapphires.

French gazed into Toby's narrowed eyes. Only little points of light showed between the lids.

"Some one planted this on me. Just after the lights went out." Toby spoke composedly. "I think it was Price."

Huntley drew in air audibly. "My . . . what nerve you've got Newcomb! Caught red-handed and you try to brazen it out. No thanks. I never saw that necklace before except once on Aunt Letty."

French took the necklace, still dripping fire, from Toby Newcomb's steady brown hand. His eyes went slowly from face to face. Ridge Dawson, aloof, handsome, faintly contemptuous. Huntley Price in his outraged innocence, vibrant with denial. Harry Duke, not quite so far gone now that the necklace was found, but still in terror. Hester Duke, disdainful, relieved to the point of being able to smile nastily. And Erica Pomeroy, on her feet, dividing her frightened attention between Toby and French.

French dropped the jewels into his own pocket. He had lost this round, but the fight wasn't over yet.

"I'll talk to Mrs. Duke now. Nobody is to leave."

The troopers shouldered out every one but Mr. Izenga.

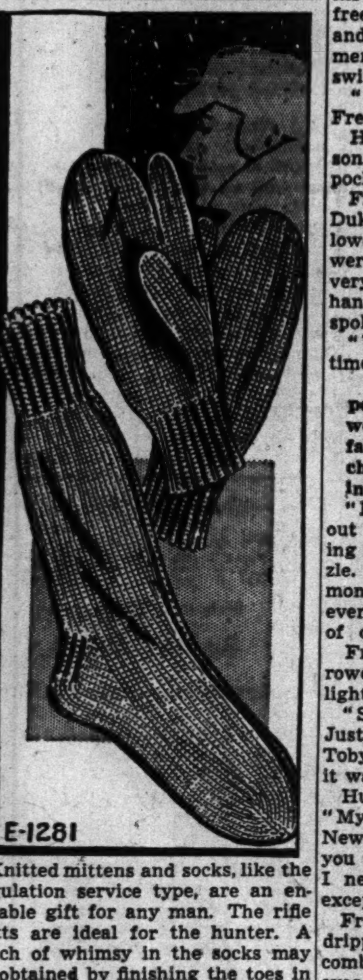
Gifts for Men



Knitted mittens and socks, like the regulation service type, are an enjoyable gift for any man. The rifle mitts are ideal for the hunter. A touch of whimsy in the socks may be obtained by finishing the toes in a vivid, contrasting color. The directions are for sock sizes from 10½, 11, and 11½.

For instructions in knitting the mitts and socks, No. E-1281, send 15 CENTS in coin [wrap coin securely] to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth av., New York 1, N. Y.

Hyde Park Nursery Group Will Hear Judge Braude

Judge Jacob M. Braude of boys court will discuss "The World We Are Facing" at an open meeting of the Hyde Park Nursery association at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the Windermere East hotel. Mrs. Lee Turoff, an association member, will tell of the threatened discontinuance of the federal subsidy for the nursery, where 100 children of working mothers are cared for six days each week. The Benefit Resale shop, a permanent rummage shop at 4205 Cottage Grove av., is conducted for the nursery.

Campion Mothers' Club to Hear 2 Speak Today

The Rev. R. A. Bernert and C. T. Shinners of the staff of Campion High school, Prairie du Chien, Wis., will speak before the Campion Mothers' club at a 12:30 p. m. luncheon today in Marshall Field & Co.'s Wedgwood room. The women's group will discuss plans for a rummage sale to be held next month.

Sheil School Classes

Labor and trade union classes sponsored by the Catholic Labor Alliance will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Sheil School of Social Studies, 31 E. Congress-st.

Women's Alliance to Hear Schools' Vocational Aid

The Alliance of Business and Professional Women of Chicago will have Lester J. Schloerb, director of the Chicago board of education's bureau of occupational research, as special guest and speaker at a dinner tonight in the Chicago College club. Mr. Schloerb's talk will be on "Vocational Adjustment of Young People in This Post-War Period." In addition to having charge of vocation counseling and placement of high school boys and girls, the speaker is chairman of the veterans' counseling committee of the board of education.

Dr. Piszczek to Speak to Woman's City Club

The need for a county public health unit in Cook county will be outlined by Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, Cook county public health director, at 1:30 p. m. today before the Woman's City club. The meeting was arranged by the club's public health committee, of which Mrs. T. H. Ludlow is chairman.

Mothers of Flyers

The Mothers of Flying Army Officers will install Mrs. Agnes Trick, newly elected president, and her assisting officer staff at a noon luncheon meeting today in the Y. M. C. A., 19 S. La Salle st.

"My Mummie never misses—not once!"

SNEAKY FELLAS, germs! Never know when they're lurking in a house. Only way to feel safe is never to take a chance when you clean. So don't wait for someone to get sick! Always use the proved "hospital" germ-killer—Lysol disinfectant. Every time you clean floors, bathroom, kitchen, add Lysol to the cleaning water. Helps clean because it's "soapy". Powerful germ-killer . . . you need up to 6 times less than of bleach disinfectants. Don't risk being without it. Get a bottle of Lysol today at your druggist's.

Every single time you clean : : : disinfect with Lysol

Miniature "fried eggs" are attractive on the hors d'oeuvres tray. To make them, cut small rounds of bread and saute on both sides in a little margarine or butter. Then spread with cream cheese softened with a little milk or cream. In the center of each, place a ball of grated yellow cheese. Pop under the broiler just long enough for the cheese to melt, and serve at once. These are tempting and good, but should be served fresh from the broiler.

Peanuts are a funny nut. They really aren't nuts at all, but beans. The plant grows like an ordinary plant, but when it blossoms and leaves drop, the stems bend over, enter the ground and develop the peanuts beneath the soil. Peanuts were grown in the Americas long before Columbus came.

They're one of our most important southern crops, valued more for the peanut butter and oil they yield than for the crunchy nuts we munch at ball games and carnivals. Rich in protein, fat, and carbohydrates, peanuts also are a fine source of thiamin or vitamin B1.

Peanut butter saves shortening in cookies, and almost always produces cooky jar stuffing that children will climb high for. Here's a sugar saving peanut butter cooky the whole family will enjoy.

Honey Peanut Butter Cookies

[About 60 2-inch cookies]

½ cup honey
½ cup brown sugar
1 egg
¼ cup vegetable shortening
½ cup peanut butter
2½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts

Place honey, sugar, egg, shortening, and peanut butter in bowl and mix until well blended. Add sifted dry ingredients, then nuts. Mix well and shape into two rolls, about 2 inches in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper and store in refrigerator overnight or for several days, to ripen. Slice and bake at 375 degrees about 10 minutes.

I have always held that strong-flavored vegetables should not be cooked in a pressure saucepan, but now concede that they can be cooked perfectly in this manner if directions are followed. I have a beautiful new 4-quart pressure saucepan, the kind that will get up 5, 10, or 15 pounds of steam, and even may be used for canning 3 pints of vegetables. So I've done a little experimentation and find that in the briefest time cauliflower or broccoli can be cooked to perfect texture, with no development of odor. I like the cooker especially well for dried beans and other foods which ordinarily require long cooking, but 4 minutes at 15 pounds will do a head of cauliflower just the way you want it. Globe artichokes are wonderful after 10 minutes of pressure cooking.

Expert on Smoke Evil to Address City Club

Raymond R. Tucker, head of the department of mechanical engineering, Washington university, St. Louis, Mo., will speak before the City club of Chicago at 12:15 p. m. today on "The Smoke Nuisance: an Unnecessary Evil." The meeting will be a luncheon in the club dining room in the La Salle hotel. Mr. Tucker was commissioner of smoke regulation for St. Louis from 1937 to 1942.

$5 Prize Recipe

Russian Cabbage

[Serves six]

3 tablespoons chopped onion
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
3 tablespoons butter
2 cups cooked tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 cups cooked cabbage, chopped
½ cup grated cheese
½ cup buttered bread crumbs

Saute onion and green pepper in butter until lightly browned; add tomatoes, salt and pepper. Arrange with cabbage in alternate layers in a casserole dish. Sprinkle cheese and bread crumbs, mixed together, over top and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 20 minutes.

Sally Requests Stamps to Aid Needy Veteran

[Sally Joy Brown Activities are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

Mr. B., philatelist, former army man, and father of two small children, a boy 3 years old and a girl 8 months old, is attending a professional school under the GI Bill of Rights. He is working after school hours to supplement his subsistence pay, and generally trying to look after and support his family while getting his education. However, income cannot keep pace with mounting living costs, and he is having a difficult time stretching his resources to meet his family's needs. He is turning to his stamp collecting as a means of furthering that end. Any used postage stamps from letters and packages that our readers send him will aid him. The address will be supplied upon request.

Has one of our south side friends a piano which is no longer in use or is taking up needed space, and which could be placed advantageously with a housing project group? The project is broken up into neighborhood units, each made up of about 130 families. Every "neighborhood" has a small social room which is the center of group activities, serving young and old alike. A piano would be the means of enlarging the scope of entertainment possibilities. Mrs. F., spokesman for her group, has informed us that transportation can be arranged.

Red Cross Appeals for Nurse's Aids; Opens Class Today

Anticipating the usual increase in illness during the fall and winter months, Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross has issued an appeal for enrollment of women as day time volunteer nurse's aids in civilian hospitals, and has announced the opening of a new class today to train the volunteers.

"The demand for nurse's aids is always greater when the weather becomes colder and upper respiratory diseases spread," Mrs. Arthur H. Spiegel, chairman of the volunteer nurse's aid corps, explained.

Need for aids has become particularly acute this fall because of the cessation of volunteer work by many women after the surrender of Japan. Civilian hospitals are still understaffed.

Women between the ages of 18 and 50, able to give at least two days each week to the program are eligible to enroll. Applicants should call at Red Cross headquarters, 529 S. Wabash av., or telephone Wabash 7850.

M-M-M! It's nuts 'n' apple time!

Just arrange juicy, red-skinned apple wedges around Borden's—the Creamy Cottage Cheese. Then top with a dab of mayonnaise and a sprinkle of tangy, chopped nut meats.

Try it—in salads, sandwiches, desserts, hot dishes. Ask for Borden's—the Creamy Cottage Cheese. And be sure to ask your Borden milkman for Borden's cottage cheese recipe folder, too—it gives you lots of other tasty and economical ideas!

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 21—It was Don Hutson day at the state fairgrounds this afternoon and the old master satisfied every one of the 20,846 spectators who saw him lead the Green Bay Packers to a smashing 38 to 14 victory over the Yanks of Boston in a National Football league game.

Hutson did all of his work in the first half, being used only for points after touchdowns and an attempted field goal after the intermission, but what he did when he was in the lineup seemed to demoralize the visitors, who went into the game undefeated.

Don Given Automobile

The lanky end caught six passes for 155 yards, two of which were good for touchdowns, and kicked five points after touchdown in showing his appreciation of the receipt of a new automobile during half time ceremonies.

Hutson's first touchdown was a beauty, a typical sideline romp of 65 yards after receiving a pass from Irv Comp, who played a bang up game all-afternoon. The touchdown followed by only a minute the Yanks' first score, made by Pug Manders on a line plunge after Augie Lio had intercepted a pass by Comp on the first play of the game.

Roy McKay put Green Bay ahead as the second quarter opened after he had set the touchdown up with a pass to Hutson on the Yanks' 30 yard line, from where McKay slipped thru a half dozen tacklers to score on the next play.

Hutson Scores Again

Hutson, with the passing aid of Comp and Roy McKay, made his second touchdown late in the second quarter. With the ball on the Packers' 43, Comp laid a pass in Hutson's arms and he went 49 yards before being run out of bounds. Two plays later, McKay tossed another to him in the end zone from nine yards back.

That completed his day's work, except for his point kicking and a wide attempt at a field goal from the 28 yards line.

The other Packer touchdowns were made by McKay, Lou Brock, and Fritsch, who kicked a 45 yard field goal from placement in the third quarter.

The Packers tackled with certainty, bottled up the Yank passers after the first two quarters, and never gave the visitors a chance to get away after Don Currivan scored on a pass from Frank Sachse just a couple of seconds before the end of the second quarter. The touchdown play was good for 80 yards, longest of the season. Sachse's toss was 30 yards and Currivan raced 50 more to score.

Penalty Stops Yanks

From the beginning of the third quarter until the end of the game the Yanks had few chances to count again, and on those occasions their attack was either broken up or their gains nullified by penalties.

The Packers went into the second half leading, 21 to 14, then scored 17 points in the third quarter when Fritsch sliced off tackle from the 19 yard line to score standing up after the Yanks had opened with a drive to the Packers' 5, which was smashed by a 30 yard penalty for holding and unsportsmanlike conduct.

The Packers' next drive started from their 41 yard line with Lou Brock doing most of the work. After Fritsch had picked up eight yards, Lou cut thru center for 28 and then repeated for 16 more and a touchdown. Statistics:

Giants Lose 1st Game to Steelers, 21-7

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Buist Warren, a Philadelphia Eagle discard who joined Pittsburgh only 10 days ago, passed and ran the New York Giants dizzy today to give the Steelers their first National Football league victory, 21 to 7, before a Polo Grounds crowd of 43,070.

The defeat dropped the Giants into third place in the eastern division with one victory, one defeat, and one tie. The Giants were compelled to present a patched up lineup since Ward Cuff was out nursing a broken finger and Tackle Vic Carroll was able to play only a few minutes.

Steelers Lead at Half, 21-0

Led by the 175 pound Warren, former Tennessee star back, only a month out of the army, Pittsburgh, massacred by the Giants only two weeks ago, 34 to 6, took a 21 to 0 lead before the first half was over. Warren scored one touchdown and paved the way for another. The third Steeler score was the result of an intercepted pass.

The Giants' lone score came in the third period when veteran Arnie Herber shot a 15 yard pass to Howie Livingston between the goal posts.

Warren set up the first score by flipping a 13 yard pass to End Dick Dolly to the Giants' 21 and followed with a 13 yard plunge a couple of plays later to the 3. Full Back John Lucente went over and John Naioti kicked the first of his three extra points.

Warren sparked the Steelers to an 80 yard touchdown drive in the second period. Starting from his 20, Warren carried twice for a first down and pitched two passes to Dolly, putting Pittsburgh on the Giants' 13. Then, on a pretty reverse, Warren faked the Giant line to the right and spun to the left to score.

Doyle Intercepts Pass

New York had hardly begun when Ted Doyle, former Nebraska tackle, intercepted a sloppy pass by Herber on the midfield stripe and romped 50 yards for the Steelers' third score.

The Giants came close to scoring in the second quarter when Steve Filipowicz, who spent part of the summer with the New York Giants baseball team, ripped off three straight first downs, advancing the Giants to the 2 yard line where the ball was lost as the half ended.

Filipowicz's down-the-middle charges and Herber's sideline passes set the stage for the Giants' score. Needing 4 yards for a first down on the Steelers' 15, the Giants finally scored when Herber passed to Livingston. Line-ups:

REDSKINS WHIP EAGLES, 24-14, FOR 2D VICTORY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21 (AP)—The unpredictable Washington Redskins packed a terrific scoring wallop today and extended this season's run of pro football upsets by whipping Philadelphia's Eagles, 24 to 14, before 34,788. Underdogs by at least a touchdown, the Redskins went on one long parade after another in handing the Eagles their second consecutive setback.

Frank Akins, 215 pounder from Washington state, smashed over two of the Redskin scores. Sal Rosato, 228 pound former Villanova star, scored once and the veteran Joe Aguirre booted a 35 yard field goal.

Van Buren Does His Bit

Only Steve Van Buren, league leading ground gainer up to today, could break away from Washington's vastly improved defense. He went over standing up for both Philadelphia touchdowns.

Only once were the Eagles ahead. After Aguirre's field goal in the opening period, Van Buren did the expected by streaking over from the 15-yard line to cap an 80-yard Philadelphia drive in the second quarter. But Sammy Baugh took the wraps off his throwing arm and the Redskins shot back into the lead to stay when Rosato drove across from the 2 yard line for a 10 to 7 half time lead.

Rosato's score wound up a Washington drive that began with a kick-off to the 5 yard line. In this series Baugh once passed 21 yards to Steve Bagarus when the Redskins were in a hole, third down and 19 to go. Akins then became the most stubborn man on the field to bring down and Washington's underrated running game came to life.

Completes Ten Passes

After Van Buren had pulled the Eagles back to a 14 to 17 status by smashing thru from the 4 on the end of an 87-yard push late in the third period and early in the fourth, Akins applied the clincher.

Along with Akins, Baugh kept the Eagles on the defensive much of the time. The passing master completed 10 of 13 for 161 yards to Philadelphia's 50.

Fenenbock Stars as Lions Defeat Cardinals, 26 to 0

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 21 (AP)—Chuck Fenenbock's passes connected for three first half touchdown passes today as the Detroit Lions beat the Chicago Cardinals, 26 to 0, in a National Football league game before the year's largest crowd here—32,644.

Fenenbock, former U. C. L. A. star recently released from service, threw scoring passes to Ends Johnny Greene and Jack Matheson and Full Back Bob Westfall during a 10-minute stretch in the first two periods as the Lions took a 20 to 0 half time lead.

Lions March 93 Yards

Bob Callihan added two extra points to run his string of successive placements to 10 before missing the last two.

Fenenbock, who completed nine of 21 passes for 186 yards, threw 36 yards to Greene in the first period and the Detroit end outran Leo Cantor the remaining 25 yards to score.

Bill Reynolds' short punt that traveled only 12 yards gave the Lions the ball on the Cardinal 39 in the second period and in four plays three of them completed pitches by Fenenbock, Detroit scored again on Matheson's 8 yard catch.

Radovich Recovers Card Fumble

Barely a minute later Bill Radovich, Lion guard, recovered Paul Christman's fumble on the Chicago 9 yard line and Westfall scored on a screen pass from Fenenbock.

After Ryan passed 43 yards to Westfall in the final period the Lions stuck to the ground to move the last 36 yards of their long drive, Ryan crashing over from the 1 yard line to end the scoring.

Elmer Hackney broke thru tackle and ran 15 yards to cross the Cardinal goal line a minute later, but the score was nullified by a holding penalty.

Lions Miss on 3 Field Goals

The Lions outrushed Chicago, 75 yards to 31, and gained 251 yards thru the air to the Cards' 82. First downs were nine for Detroit and eight for the Cards, who have now lost four of five games this year.

Tobin Beats Blackhawks to Chicago; Shouts Their Praise

BY EDWARD BURNS

The Blackhawks will spend today in Chicago, but their adoring constituents will have to wait nine long days to see them in action, unless they can get past the gatekeeper at Chicago Stadium this afternoon to watch a pre-view Manager Johnny Gottselig will direct between 4 o'clock and 6.

The team is due at 9:45 o'clock this morning, but President Bill Tobin got in yesterday, gurgling merrily about the showing of the team in its three Winnipeg exhibition games with the New York Rangers. The Hawks, by the way, won all three games, 4 to 2, 6 to 1, and 5 to 2. And the Rangers are the team with which the Hawks will open the Chicago National league season on Oct. 31.

Tobin Praises Team's Balance

"Best balanced team the Hawks ever had," shouted Tobin on his arrival here. "There have been quite a few years when we have had one great line, but had to hold our breath while alternates were on the ice. This year our second line has looked better than our first, and our third line has shown symptoms of being as productive as the other two.

"I also am enthusiastic about our defense lines, and I believe that Manager Gottselig probably will open the season with young Doug Stevenson at goal."

Tobin, on casing the till in the ticket room, said the fans apparently believe the Hawks are going to be greatly improved. He said the advance sales are almost twice what they were 10 days before the season opener a year ago.

Open in Boston Wednesday

The Hawks will depart tomorrow noon for Boston, where they will open the National league season Wednesday night. This league opener will mark the return to hockey of the Bruins' famed kraut line, composed of Bobby Bauer, Porky Dumart, and Milt Schmidt, all released from Canadian military units since last season.

The Chicago home opener is expected to draw almost capacity in Chicago Stadium, tho week day sellouts are not common here or anywhere. The first two Sunday night games here, Nov. 4 and Nov. 11, will present the Toronto Maple Leafs, Stanley cup winners, in both engagements.

WIFE OF CUBS' CATCHER DIES IN AUTO CRASH

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Betty Wray McCullough, 30, wife of Chicago Cub Catcher Clyde McCullough, was killed today when two automobiles collided.

The baseball player's brother, Nolan, suffered serious injuries.

Highway police said the McCullough car and one driven by an unidentified service man crashed on a hill four miles from Nashville. Clyde McCullough reached here by plane tonight from Norfolk, Va.

BY EDWARD PRELL

The Chicago Bears led the Cleveland Rams in the third quarter yesterday, 21 to 20. But don't stop here, please, or you'll get the wrong idea. The new wonder team of post-war professional football went on from there for a 41 to 21 victory in the rain at Wrigley field.

Cleveland's victory was as convincing as the rain which splashed against 28,273 fans most of the dark and dreary afternoon. The wonder of it all was that the downtrodden Bears were able to lead briefly the team which seems headed for all of the National Football league's 1945 spoils.

It was the Rams' fourth straight victory and their second over the Bears. They also have whipped the Green Bay Packers, 1944 champions, and the Chicago Cardinals and now turn eastward to put themselves on display in Philadelphia and New York the next two Sundays.

4th Defeat for Bears

The unhappy Bears, at the end of yesterday's battling on five widely scattered gridirons, are now the only team which has yet to post an entry in the league's victory column. It was the fourth straight loss for the one-time professional kings.

The Rams won in much the same manner yesterday as they had a week before in Green Bay. In that game they entered the fourth quarter trailing, 14 to 6. They forthwith roared to three touchdowns and a 27 to 14 triumph over the champions. Yesterday the Rams duplicated the three touchdown feat after the Bears had forged into a 21 to 20 advantage.

The Rams were a facsimile of the Bear teams which used to thrill Wrigley field fans by sudden touchdowns. In those days the Bears sometimes were on the slim end of the statistics. So it doesn't mean a whole lot that the Bears compiled 22 first downs to the Rams' 19, with a 16 to 5 edge in the rushing department.

Bears Weak on Pass Defense

Cleveland won on quick strikes thru the air and the Bears were almost defenseless to stop the pitches of young Robert Waterfield of U. C. L. A. He was the new Sid Luckman as he completed 15 of 22 throws for 252 yards. He had the same kind of protection the powerful Bear lines used to give Luckman. Bob was rushed badly only once. And there was something vitally wrong with the Bears' pass defense. Most of Waterfield's tosses were completed with ease, especially those aimed at big Jim Benton.

The Bears sent the wet crowd into an ecstasy in the third quarter, which started with the Rams ahead, 20 to 7. This high spot in the losers' game effort saw them push over two quick touchdowns and threaten to score the biggest upset of the year.

Bob Margarita, who measured up as the best back on either team, lugged the third quarter kickoff from the goal line to the Chicago 23. Then started a 77 yard march with Ed [Special Delivery] Jones, one-time Pitt star, who was sprung as a surprise against the Rams, giving spectacular help.

Margarita Scores on Pass

Jones started the rally with a 7 yard gain, then picked up 3 for a first down. Hugh Gallarneau hit for 3, 11, and 3 on successive smashes to reach midfield. Luckman pitched to George Wilson for 6 and Gallarneau moved up 2 yards. Then Luckman pitched to Margarita, who caught the ball on the 22 and ran over. Pete Gudauskas' kick cut Cleveland's lead to 20 to 14.

After the Chicago kickoff, the Rams were held and Waterfield punted to Ray McLean who returned 23 yards to the Bears' 46. The Chicagoans quickly marched for the touchdown and extra point which gave them a 21 to 20 lead. They did it by blasting thru the Cleveland line on 10 running plays.

Margarita slammed for 4 and Jones got 5 and 7 in two tries. McLean pounded for 6 to the 31. After Jones' pass was incomplete, Margarita ran over right guard for 13

It was St. George's third straight league triumph and enabled the Dragons to remain behind Fenwick's Friars, who routed De La Salle, 38 to 0, in Winnemac park, for their fourth consecutive league victory. St. George and Fenwick are scheduled to meet Nov. 4.

In a north section game, St. Mel remained undefeated by whipping Holy Trinity, 48 to 13, in Key Branch stadium for its fourth straight victory. St. Ignatius, with three victories and one tie, is in second place. It defeated Loyola academy, 14 to 6, in Loyola stadium. Bill Keefe and Joe Small scored the winners' two touchdowns, while Bill Roche raced 72 yards for Loyola's touchdown in the final period.

Leo's Lions invaded Joliet and won, 12 to 6, from Catholic High in a south section contest. Dan Ryan scored the winning touchdown on a 36 yard sprint in the fourth quarter. In the north section, Weber, defending league champion, triumphed over St. Patrick's, 25 to 6, in Lane Tech stadium, while St. Philip beat De Paul, 18 to 0, in St. Philip's stadium. Jack Melligan sparked the winners' attack, scoring twice. Lineups:

END OF LONG GAIN FOR EVANSTON ELEVEN

Rams Bear Up Under Bears' 2 Surprises

Adam Walsh, coach of the Rams, spotted a player wearing No. 19 and asked Hunk Anderson of the Bears: "Isn't that Special Delivery Jones from Pitt?"

It was no one else and Full Back Jones was a busy man in the Bears' two touchdown third period. He carried the ball eight times for 45 yards and sped back 47 yards on a punt return.

Jones, who recently was discharged by the navy, practiced only twice with the Bears. They plan to use him as a full back. Special Delivery can pass and he will be the first full back with this skill since the days of Bronko Nagurski.

The other mystery man was Jim Daniell, former Ohio State star, whose play at left tackle will win him a starting assignment Sunday in Detroit against the Lions. George Zorich, who suffered a wrist injury three weeks ago, may be able to return to left guard.

Jim Benton was deadly serious about it. The lanky end, who as a Cleveland lend-lease player, helped the Bears win the 1942 title, admires the Chicago coaches. He startled Co-Coach Luke Johnsos after the game by asking in all seriousness, "Luke, wasn't your pass defense a little weak today?"

Benton caught seven passes for an aggregate of 150 yards and one touchdown.

Bob Margarita was the busiest Bear on attack. He carried 19 times for 91 yards and was held without gain only once. He took two passes, one for 42 yards and a touchdown, the other for 26.

Bob Waterfield's stanchest rooter was his wife, Jane Russell of the films. She has a three month furlough from Hollywood and the couple has set up housekeeping in a small Cleveland apartment. The Rams have an added Hollywood touch. Chile Walsh, the general manager, and his brother, Adam, the coach, are from the film capital.

One of the Bears' observers thought the break of the game came late in the third quarter after the Bears had taken a 21 to 20 lead. The Rams were on the Chicago 25 and it was third down when Waterfield passed to Benton. Margarita tried to intercept the ball, juggled it, and Benton caught it as he was falling on the Bear 8. Then Don Greenwood scored to restore a Cleveland lead.

Babe Didrikson Wins Texas Golf Title, 7 and 6

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias of Los Angeles won the 1945 Texas Women's Open golf title today, defeating Mrs. Albert Becker Jr. of Englewood, N. J., 7 and 6. The Los Angeles champion was 4 up at the end of 18 holes and never dropped below that margin in the final 12.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

And Life Goes On

The world series is over and done with,
The players have scattered and gone,
And life goes quietly on.

The newsreels thrillingly show
The huskies dashing about the field
As the game moves on blow by blow.

The ladies are all of a dither
Over fall styles, each fashion and fad,
With arms heaped and loaded, they'll say, irked and goaded,
"My dear, there's not a THING to be had!"

In the offing the pheasant and duck,
While even for some the time soon will come
For the trek north for deer, if there's luck.

The kids on the sly have that look in their eye,
For soon it will be Halloween.
All the old pranks on the neighborhood cranks—
Take it easy boys, don't be too mean.

The leaves on the hill back of ancient Moore's mill
War and carnage are gone, but the pattern flows on
In life's indestructible story.

Scientific Conclusions

Consider well the humble bumblebee:
He nonchalantly flits from flower to flower;
But many famous scientists agree
The little insect's motor lacks the power
To lift him from the ground if he should try
To rise and soar. Hence, this profound conclusion:
The foolish bumblebee that tries to fly
Will end in utter failure and confusion.

But bumblebees are silly little things;
They love to fly around when days are sunny,
And listen to the rumble of their wings
While gathering enormous stores of honey.

His stinger totes a ton of TNT.

Racing Enters 2d Week at Sportsman's

Racing at Sportsman's Park enters its second lap today after the first week saw new wagering records set and attendance figures that went well over the corresponding total for last year.

The regularly scheduled meeting at Sportsman's will run thru next week after which a full week of racing, sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., will be offered. Following the Tribune event another week of charity racing will be presented.

This week's featured race will be the running of the John A. Brown Memorial handicap which will be run Saturday. The handicap is for 2 year olds at 7 furlongs and is expected to draw a large field.

Job Dean Jessop was an easy winner of the $100 victory bond which went to the leader of the jockey's contest in the first week.

Detroit Entrant Breaks National Walking Mark

Springfield, O., Oct. 21 (AP)—William Mihalo of Detroit won the National A. A. U. 40 kilometer walking marathon here today, setting a new record of 3 hours, 57 minutes and 5 seconds for the 24 mile course. The old mark was 4 hours and 5 minutes. Mihalo was trailed by 10 minutes by George Wieland of Detroit. Another Detroiter, Walter Fleming, was third, and John J. Abbate of Philadelphia, defending champion, was fourth.

RAMS WIN 4TH STRAIGHT; BEAT BEARS, 41 TO 21

yards. Then he clipped off 9. Luckman ran wide to the 5 yard line. Margarita hammered the left side for 2 and made only 1 at the same spot on his next try. Then he went over for the score in 9:50 of the period.

Greenwood Scores Standing Up

The Rams took the kickoff and went 68 yards for their fourth score. Waterfield passed to Fred Gehrke for 12 yards. Don Greenwood, the old Illini, smashed for 4 and Jim Gillette cut thru center for 12 to the Bears' 40. Waterfield's pass to Gillette was good for 15. Steve Pritko reached for Waterfield's pass as he collided with the goal posts but this mishap only delayed the inevitable. Waterfield hit Benton for 17 yards to the 8. Greenwood then slipped over right guard and went over standing up. Waterfield kicked goal for a 27 to 21 lead and that was the score when the fourth quarter started with the Bears on the Rams' 30 after Jones had whirled thru for 12 yards.

But here the Chicago attack was turned back. The Rams stalled a bit, then Waterfield's 59 yard punt rolled over the Bears' goal. Luckman punted to Waterfield, who returned to the Bears' 43. A 15 yard penalty for roughness set back the Bears to the 21. Waterfield then passed to the left to Benton, who caught the ball on the 2 and stepped over. Waterfield kicked goal. Shortly after this the Bears gambled but lost on fourth down and the Rams took over on the Chicago 38. Waterfield pitched to Howard Hickey for 20 yards before leaving the game for the first time. Albie Reisz, his replacement, however, passed to Tom Colella in the end zone for the last touchdown.

Berry Steals Ball from Gillette

The Rams scored their first touchdown after the opening kick-off by going 72 yards, not including a 15 yard roughing penalty. Colella, Gillette, and Greenwood led the attack, tho the ball was moved into scoring position on Waterfield's 12 yard pass to Gillette. Then, from the 11, Greenwood went over standing up. Frank Ramsey blocked Waterfield's kick for the point.

The score was still 6 to 0 when the second quarter opened. Connie Berry stopped a Cleveland drive by stealing the ball from Gillette on the Bears' 33. Luckman punted badly and Hickey returned it to the Chicago 35. Greenwood hit for 5 and Benton took Waterfield's pass, running to the 3. Colella swept to his right for a touchdown.

Rams Lead at Half, 20 to 7

The Bears came back with their first score on a 76 yard march, with Tipp Mooney, Gary Famiglietti, and Gallanarneau doing most of the running until the Cleveland 36 was reached. Luckman then passed to Margarita who ran to the 10. Gallarneau hit for 4 and 5 yards, then Margarita drove over right guard. Gudauskas' kick cut the Rams' margin to 13 to 7.

Cleveland came back with a touchdown for a 20 to 7 half time lead. There was a 20 yard pass to Benton which put the ball 36 yards away. Then Waterfield hurled to Pritko for 12 and to Gehrke for 10. Gehrke promptly dashed around the Bears' left end for the touchdown. Statistics:

Purdue's Shifting Attack Leaves Buckeyes Baffled

BY WILFRID SMITH

Purdue's 35 to 13 victory over Ohio State Saturday, which leaves it undefeated in the Western conference race, was achieved by a Boilermaker squad ready to play its best game of the season. Ohio State was not prepared for the test Purdue offered.

The second reason for Purdue's mastery was accurate passing by Bob De Moss, whose effectiveness was enhanced by Ed Cody's charges thru the Ohio State line. These complementary plays were worked from one formation. The ball was handled by De Moss, an essential in the deception which puzzled the Buckeyes. Bill Canfield's success on wide running plays, when Purdue whipped Iowa, also may have contributed to the Buckeyes defeat Saturday, for certainly the Ohio State scouts made a complete report on Canfield.

Purdue Has Speed, Power

In any event, Purdue had speed for sweeping runs, power after deception thru the line, and De Moss, who completed nine passes in 13 attempts. Here's a perfect attack which became astonishingly effective because Purdue's linemen outcharged their opponents.

Most fans had believed Ohio State's personnel ran too deep for Purdue. And they thought of Paul Sarringhaus and Dick Fisher as individuals and not in relation to the style of play. Just as last year, Ohio State mixes the T formation and the single wing back. Fisher can throw, but he passes from the wingback system without the deception possible in the T formation.

In particular, Ohio State partisans may well explain the defeat of their champions thru loss of Capt. Bill Hackett, who has not played this season because of injury last spring in an automobile accident. Hackett was badly needed Saturday. But no one can explain the lack of coherence in the Ohio State attack. This previously was apparent when Iowa held the Buckeyes 7 to 0 for a half and when Ohio State stumbled to a 12 to 0 victory over Wisconsin.

Gophers May Have Trouble

Ohio State now may spurt with the spur of defeat unless the Columbus downtown coaches talk too loudly of 25 year old veterans who do not fit into a team of 17 year olds. That was street conversation two weeks ago. If the Buckeyes' morale has not been shattered, Minnesota may have more trouble than it now believes possible in view of its own 30 to 7 victory over Northwestern Saturday.

Should Ohio State fail to rally its forces it quite likely will drop out of the race next Saturday against Minnesota in Minneapolis.

Seven Conference Games

Ohio State plays seven conference games. Thus defeat by Purdue is minimized provided Minnesota, playing six conference games, is beaten once. Indiana university is the other challenger at this time by virtue of victories over Michigan, Illinois, and Iowa. Indiana's tie with Northwestern will eliminate the Hoosiers unless Minnesota and Purdue are beaten. But if Indiana wishes to be a true champion, that can be arranged by the Hoosiers since Minnesota and Purdue are their remaining Big Nine opponents.

Michigan is the team to watch, however. The Wolverines also can control the race altho they lost to Indiana. Michigan meets Minnesota, Purdue, and Ohio State after this week's engagement with Illinois in Champaign.

Injuries Hamper Illini

Michigan rested last Saturday following its game with Army—and an injury riddled Illini team, which is on the way to a record for fumbling, scarcely figures to stop the Wolverines. Illinois and Wisconsin tied 7 to 7 Saturday. The Badgers now take time out from the conference race before meeting Iowa.

HAKOAHS AND HANSAS PLAY TO 2 TO 2 DEADLOCK

BY OFFSIDE

A 2 to 2 tie between the Hakoah-Centers and Hansas and a 3 to 3 deadlock between the Swedish-Americans and the league leading Vikings highlighted Chicago's soccer schedule yesterday. The first match was played in Weber stadium, and the second in 83d-Yates av. stadium.

In the third major league contest on the card, the Rangers dealt the Sparta club a 3 to 2 upset defeat at 59th and Paulina sts.

Ronald [Scotty] Buckland, recently released from the Canadian Royal air force, was the first to score in the Hakoah-Hansa contest, beating Bill Stein, Hakoah goalie, from 15 yards. The first period ended with the Hansas keeping their one goal margin.

Ten minutes after the second period opened, Manfred Lehman tied the score at 1 all by pouncing on a ball driven by Eli Field towards the Hansa goal and which Larson sought to deflect. Eddie Linderman then placed the Hakoahs in the lead by following thru with his team's second goal a few minutes later. Effective defensive playing by both goal keepers kept both squads from scoring again until Oscar Gieseke lofted a high shot into the Hakoah net beyond Stein's reach to tie the score at 2 all. Lineup:

Hansa [2]		Hakoah [2]

A. S. HIBBARD, 85, PIONEER PHONE LEADER, IS DEAD

Started Long Distance Service in Nation

Angus S. Hibbard

Angus Smith Hibbard, pioneer telephone engineer, inventor, executive, churchman, and Chicago civic leader, died of pneumonia yesterday in Augustana hospital. He was 85, and had been confined to the hospital since Nov. 7, 1944, when he broke his hip in a fall. As the first general superintendent of the American Telephone and Telegraph company Mr. Hibbard, then 26, inaugurated the company's long distance lines and designed the blue bell of the telephone used thruout the Bell system.

Patented Basic Devices

Earlier, in Milwaukee, Wis., he had patented many of the basic devices in telephone appliances. Later, as vice president and general manager of the Chicago Telephone company, he installed the first air conditioned room in the world to protect telephone switchboards.

Mr. Hibbard was born in Milwaukee and attended Racine college, Racine, Wis. Entering the telephone business in its infancy, he became superintendent of the Wisconsin Telephone company in 1881, general superintendent of the A. T. & T. in 1886, and head of the Chicago firm in 1893.

Served in France

He remained head of the firm until 1911, after which he became a consulting engineer and adviser to the executive department of the Bell system. During World War I. he served as chairman of the Illinois council of defense and as a Red Cross captain in France.

The controling interest in the Western Union Telegraph company was purchased by his associates in the Bell system in 1911 and it was decided to combine the two services. Mr. Hibbard lived in New York City and in London, England, for several years to bring about the merger. The merger idea, however, was dropped later because of the anti-trust laws.

Received Many Honors

Many honors came to Mr. Hibbard. He was the first layman to receive the gold cross of service of the Episcopal church. He helped create the church's pension system which became a model for other churches, and filled many important posts in the church and its associated activities.

Carleton college, Northfield, Minn., conferred an honorary degree of doctor of science on Mr. Hibbard and he was an honorary member of the Chicago Association of Commerce where he was once a director.

Mr. Hibbard's home was at 2440 Lake View av. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Lucille Ray Hibbard, and a daughter, Mrs. Janet Henneberry. Services will be held in St. Chrysostom's church at 11 a. m. tomorrow. Burial will be in Milwaukee.

Fire Destroys Large Cabin at F. D. R. Retreat

Thurmont, Md., Oct. 21 (AP)—A large cabin at "Shangri-La," the Catoctin mountain retreat disclosed to have been the late President Roosevelt's "secret White House" during the war, was destroyed today by fire. The story-and-a-half structure, approximately 150 yards from the main lodge where President Roosevelt and former Prime Minister Churchill conferred, was occupied by G. B. Williams, superintendent of the preserve.

7 Killed by Collision of Train and Dairy Truck

Carlisle, Ark., Oct. 21 (AP)—Seven persons were killed in a collision of a Rock Island passenger train and a dairy truck at a crossing near Carlisle today. The train locomotive and five baggage cars were derailed. The dead included Engineer George J. Kugler, 65, and Fireman A. L. Falkner, 55, both of Little Rock, and five persons in the truck.

Car Crashes as Driver Dies of Heart Attack

Walter Allan, 45, of 6545 S. Mozart st., died yesterday of a heart attack while driving his automobile near the intersection of 95th st. and Western av. in Evergreen Park. After Allan's death, his car swerved across the street and crashed into a parked car on the southwest corner.

URGE U. S. BARE 'SECRET FILES' ON FRANCO SPAIN

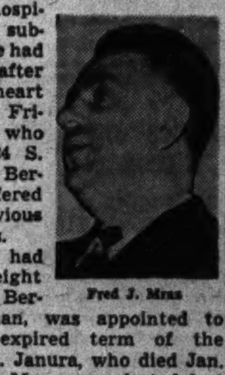
New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—The American Committee for Spanish Freedom, headed by the Rev. Dr. Lewis O. Hartman, Methodist bishop of Boston, today urged the United States government to make public what it called "secret files" in the state department concerning the Spanish government.

"Now that the war against Germany has been won," the group declared in a message to President Truman and other government officials, "we believe that only good can come from making public the detailed record of how Franco's fascist government served the axis war machine in the western hemisphere and the Philippines.

"We feel that the time has come for a final reckoning with the Franco Nazi-Falange regime whose agents helped the Japanese seize Manila, guided and fueled the nazi submarine wolf packs in the Caribbean and South Atlantic, and developed and manufactured robot bombs for the German army." The group also urged that the United States demand at a pan-American conference "The hemispheric severance of all diplomatic and commercial relations with the Franco regime" and "recognition of the Spanish republic in exile."

FRED J. MRAZ, BERWYN MAYOR, IS DEAD AT 51

Fred J. Mraz, 51, mayor of Berwyn, died yesterday in MacNeal Memorial hospital in the suburb where he had been taken after suffering a heart attack last Friday. Mraz, who lived at 1424 S. Lombard av., Berwyn, had suffered several previous heart attacks.



Fred J. Mraz

Mraz, who had served eight years as a Berwyn alderman, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Anton J. Janura, who died Jan. 11, 1943. Mr. Mraz was elected last April to a full four year term. He was a building contractor and a member of Bohemian lodge, A. F. & A. M., and the Berwyn Moose.

He leaves his widow, Louise, and a son, Ralph. Services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in the chapel at 6301 Cermak rd.

G. S. BARTLETT, 87, CONCRETE PIONEER, DIES

George S. Bartlett, 87, whose activity as a concrete salesman and promoter in the use of concrete roads won him the title of "Apostle of Concrete," died yesterday in his home, 2600 Lakeview av.

Mr. Bartlett was credited with having sold more concrete than any other living man. In 1916 and in 1928 the industry presented him purses containing $6,000 and $10,000 respectively to honor his activity.

Mr. Bartlett started his career in 1879 in Milwaukee, Wis., with the Chicago and North Western railway. He served with many cement companies and in 1931 he became assistant to the chairman of the board of the Portland Cement association and occupied the position until his death. The industry established the George S. Bartlett award in his honor. Services will be held in Tarrytown, N. Y., on Wednesday. The body will be in the funeral chapel at 25 E. Erie st. until Tuesday noon.

STEEL RATE RISE ON COAL STRIKE END TO BE SLOW

Steel production had fallen to 65 per cent of capacity before striking soft coal miners voted to return today to their jobs, the trade publication Steel reported yesterday.

It may be two weeks or more before steel production begins to show appreciable recovery, principally because of the time required to get coal moving to steel plants and to get cold ovens ready for coke production, Steel said.

SHIFT TO PEACE AFFECTS GROUP POLICIES LITTLE

Job Cutbacks Largest Adverse Factor

Reductions in employment caused by the end of the war thus far have had little over-all effect on the amount of group life insurance outstanding in the United States, the Institute of Life Insurance announced. It reported at least 33 per cent more persons are protected thru group policies than at the start of the war.

Few insurance contracts have been canceled by employers since V-J day and the major direct effect has been a reduction in the number of workers insured where there have been heavy cutbacks in employment, the institute said.

Add 600 Millions in 1945

At the start of this year 24 billion 446 million dollars of group insurance was in force on 13,410,000 workers in 41,000 companies, compared with 15 billion 382 million dollars on 10,080,000 workers in 1940. During the first half of this year almost 600 million dollars of additional group life insurance was purchased under new contracts with employers.

The reduction in insured workers thru job cutbacks has been felt most in the policies of war industries, the institute said. Some insurance companies, with relatively few such policies, have had no reduction in their total group insurance, altho others, whose group policies were extensive in such fields as aircraft and motors, have had a reduction of 10 to 15 per cent.

Big Increases Forecast

"The high degree of stability in the group insurance protection of the nation's workers holds promise of important post-war gains," the institute said. "New sales are continuing and will continue. Existing policies will increase in aggregate coverage as the post-war production program is intensified. New industries are coming into the field, many of which will want group protection.

"There is also a rapidly growing extension of other group insurance plans, group annuities having increased sharply since the start of the war, and more and more credit concerns are using group life insurance to insure all borrowers. Those now insured by group policies represent one-third of all nonagricultural workers in the country, and there is reason to believe that this proportion will increase materially in the early post-war years."

CITIZENS FIDELITY BANK & TRUST COMPANY

LOUISVILLE

FROM inquiries and plans in the development stage, we believe the commercial building trades and building labor in Louisville will experience unprecedented activity. At the conclusion of World War I, Louisville had hundreds of vacant stores and some idle industrial facilities. On V-J Day, Louisville's commercial stores, industrial plants and storage buildings were approximately 100% occupied.

Post-war plans of Louisville merchants were in the advanced stage at the close of the war in respect to site and building requirements. More than twenty-five new building and modernization projects are ready to start in the Louisville area for our clients. These include the enlarging of the building at the northeast corner of Fourth and Jefferson Streets, the new addition to Stewart Dry Goods Company's building, and the razing of the Gaston Apartment Building, 554-562 South Fourth Street, to be replaced by a new, modern commercial store building. These three alone are estimated at about $1,500,000.

The number of out-of-town manufacturers visiting our office immediately after V-J Day was both surprising and gratifying. The availability of aluminum from Reynolds Metals Company's Louisville plants was a big factor in turning out-of-town manufacturers toward this city. If only a reasonable percentage succeed in finding their requirements, their influence will help to stabilize Louisville's recent and large population growth.

It might be interesting to note that commercial building had its peak in Louisville in 1920, with a volume of $3,500,000. Roughly, the volume of building originating in our Bank and Trust Company alone for the first unrestricted post-war commercial building year will amount to upward of $3,500,000.

Our post-war plans include many building projects on the extensive real estate holdings under our management, including our own home on Guthrie near Fourth. Individual projects range from a few hundred dollars to one million dollars, and they cover most types of commercial developments.

All of the officers and employees of this Bank and Trust Company have dedicated themselves to facilitating local commerce and industry in its vital task of reconverting to peacetime business and the job of creating full employment in this community.

Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company

MILWAUKEE 1, WISCONSIN

Notice of Partial Redemption of 4% Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock, $100 Par Value

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that, pursuant to the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation, and the Certificate Setting Forth the Designation and Certain of the Terms of the 4% Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock of Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company, and to Resolutions of the Board of Directors and Executive Committee of said Company, 100,000 shares of 4% Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock of said Company of record on the books of the Company at the close of business on October 16, 1945, have been called by lot for redemption on November 23, 1945 at the redemption price of $104. per share, plus an amount equal to accrued dividends thereon from September 5, 1945 to and including November 23, 1945 in the amount of $.88 per share.

Certificates representing shares called for redemption should be surrendered to Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Redemption Agent, Corporate Trust Division, 140 Broadway, New York 15, N. Y., on or after November 23, 1945, and upon the surrender thereof the holders will receive payment at the rate aforesaid for the shares called and so surrendered for redemption. In the event payment is to be made to someone other than the registered holder of a certificate surrendered for redemption, such certificate should be endorsed in blank with the signature witnessed and guaranteed by a bank or trust company having an office or correspondent in the City of New York, or by a firm having membership on the New York Stock Exchange or in the New York Curb Exchange Securities Clearing Corporation, and appropriate transfer tax stamps should be affixed to said certificate when surrendered.

EACH SHARE OF 4% CUMULATIVE CONVERTIBLE PREFERRED STOCK CALLED FOR REDEMPTION MAY BE CONVERTED INTO COMMON STOCK ON THE BASIS OF $40. PER SHARE OF THE COMMON STOCK (2½ SHARES OF COMMON STOCK FOR EACH SHARE OF PREFERRED STOCK). THE RIGHT OF CONVERSION OF SUCH PREFERRED STOCK CALLED FOR REDEMPTION WILL TERMINATE AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS ON THE REDEMPTION DATE, NOVEMBER 23, 1945, AND IS SUBJECT TO ALL RIGHTS AND TERMS AS ORIGINALLY PROVIDED. HOLDERS OF SAID PREFERRED STOCK CERTIFICATES SO CALLED FOR REDEMPTION, WHO DESIRE TO CONVERT THEIR SHARES INTO COMMON STOCK, MAY DO SO BY SURRENDERING THEIR CERTIFICATES AT THE OFFICE OF GUARANTY TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, CORPORATE TRUST DIVISION, 140 BROADWAY, NEW YORK 15, N. Y., AT ANY TIME UP TO THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS ON NOVEMBER 23, 1945, DULY ENDORSED AND ACCOMPANIED BY WRITTEN NOTICE THAT THE HOLDERS THEREOF ELECT TO CONVERT THE SAME INTO COMMON STOCK AND STATING THE NAME OR NAMES IN WHICH THE COMMON STOCK CERTIFICATES ARE TO BE ISSUED.

The transfer books for the certificates called for redemption will be permanently closed at the close of business on November 23, 1945, and no transfers or conversions will thereafter be made.

The Company will deposit in trust with Guaranty Trust Company of New York prior to the redemption date, the redemption price of all shares called for redemption, and all rights with respect to the shares of Preferred Stock so called for redemption shall forthwith on the redemption date cease and terminate, except only the right of the holder to receive the redemption price of the shares so redeemed, without interest.

Information as to the certificate numbers and specific shares to be redeemed and the other provisions of such redemption may, upon inquiry, be obtained at the office of the Company, Milwaukee 1, Wisconsin, or at the above-mentioned office of Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

IMPORTANT

BEFORE SURRENDERING CERTIFICATES FOR REDEMPTION, STOCKHOLDERS SHOULD CAREFULLY CONSIDER THE MARKET VALUE OF THE COMMON STOCK INTO WHICH THE SHARES OF SAID PREFERRED STOCK ARE CONVERTIBLE, SINCE IT MAY BE TO THE ADVANTAGE OF THE STOCKHOLDERS TO CONVERT RATHER THAN REDEEM THEIR SHARES. STOCKHOLDERS MAY WISH TO CONSULT WITH THEIR OWN BANK OR BROKER IN THIS CONNECTION.

THE RIGHT OF CONVERSION OF CALLED CERTIFICATES CEASES AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS ON NOVEMBER 23, 1945, AND HOLDERS OF SAID CERTIFICATES DESIRING TO CONVERT THEIR SHARES INTO COMMON STOCK MUST DEPOSIT THEIR PREFERRED STOCK CERTIFICATES WITH GUARANTY TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, CONVERSION AGENT, BEFORE THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS THAT DAY.

SLASH BRITISH NATIONAL DEBT INTEREST RATE

Affects 24 Billions Short Term Notes

BY JOSEPH CERUTTI

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, Oct. 21—Britain's Labor government has slashed interest rates on 24 billion dollars of short term debts to provide cheap money to finance its post-war socialization and reconstruction program. The cut, averaging 0.5 per cent, will save the government 120 million dollars yearly, largely at the expense of private banks and financing institutions.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton said, beginning tomorrow, the interest on 8 billion of treasury deposit receipts—government securities issued in exchange for six month loans from banks—will be ⅝ instead of 1⅛ per cent.

Treasury Bill Rate Cut

The interest on treasury bills, money borrowed on the market on a three month basis, also will be cut from 1 to ½ of 1 per cent. The government's current treasury bill debt was estimated at 16 billion dollars.

These bills are issued weekly to meet the government's requirements, but despite the interest shrinkage there was no slackening in the demand this week-end. Applications for the bills, usually issued in units of $20,000 and $40,000, exceeded 940 millions, approximately 50 per cent more than the amount available.

Faced with an estimated reduction of nearly 50 million dollars yearly in income from treasury deposit receipts and bills, the British banks immediately reduced their own interest payments to safeguard their profits.

Deposit Interest Halved

From Nov. 30 the maximum interest on deposit accounts will be ½ instead of 1 per cent and interest on checking accounts will be abolished. At the same time the banks made no change in existing interest rates on small savings accounts, some of which pay as much as 2½ per cent. It was estimated 10 million small investors hold deposits averaging $800 each in British banks.

Financial interests predicted the government's action would encourage many bank clients to transfer their accounts to the state owned postoffice savings bank, which also pays 2½ per cent.

The postoffice bank imposes no ceiling on the size of individual accounts except to limit deposits to a maximum of $2,000 yearly. Increased public demand for various war bonds, which yield 2½ to slightly more than 3 per cent, on a long term basis, was predicted.

Government Shares Rise

On the stock market government and industrial stocks rose and banking shares showed moderate declines. Selling was light, however, and observers expressed belief the curtailment of banking profits will not endanger existing dividend rates immediately.

Altho the banks reacted swiftly to the cheaper money policy, observers generally appeared surprised at Dalton's announcement. No such drastic reduction of interest payments, apparently, was expected, tho Dalton made no secret of the government's determination to lower rates.

Czechoslovakia to Issue New Money, Calls in Old

PRAGUE, Oct. 21 (AP)—Sweeping currency reforms to rid Czechoslovakia of billions of crowns printed by the Germans and to combat inflation were announced tonight by Prime Minister Zdenko Fierlinger. All paper currency with the exception of one-crown notes must be deposited in banks by Oct. 31. Depositors may receive immediately up to 500 crowns in new money. After that they may receive new money in graduated amounts—according to when and how the old currency was acquired.

Spring Supply of Underwear May Be Scant

All underwear items, especially lower priced ones, will become scarcer unless manufacturers obtain relief from present price ceilings, Chicago trade representatives asserted yesterday.

Normally buying for the spring trade would be done this month, but a survey of 36 jobbers showed 23 have been able to buy no supplies and the remainder have bought only a fraction of their needs. Unless the supply situation is reversed immediately, no underwear will be available at retail next spring, said Roy A. Cheney, president of the Underwear institute.

In their replies to the survey, made by the institute, jobbers in almost every instance said ceiling prices that would force manufacturers to sell at losses were the reason they were unable to obtain stocks.

Shirts Made at Loss

On light weight athletic shirts, the survey disclosed, 71 items were produced at a loss as high as 48 cents a dozen; 17 items manufactured at a profit of less than 10 cents a dozen; 15 items at a profit of less than 20 cents a dozen, and 27 items made at slightly higher profits, most of them insufficient for adequate return to the manufacturer.

On light weight union suits, 33 items were manufactured at a loss ranging as high as $2.60 a dozen. Three items, costing as much as $12.08 a dozen to manufacture, brought a profit of less than 20 cents a dozen.

Four items of men's and boys' knitted shorts sold at losses up to 88 cents a dozen on an item costing $4.98 a dozen to manufacture. One sold at a profit of 5 cents a dozen on a production cost of $2.70, and another at a profit of 37 cents on a production cost of $6.28. Men's and boys' T-shirts and other articles of underwear disclosed a similar condition.

Reports Mounting Costs

Altho ceiling prices have remained the same, costs of yarn have risen 38 per cent during the war and labor costs have gone up 45 per cent, Cheney said. The price relief asked by the industry would mean an increase of approximately 4 per cent, or only a few cents more per item purchased by the average consumer, he said.

Underwear manufacturers polled by the institute agreed that production must be cut further and employes must be discharged unless relief is granted. One large mill said it would reduce the number of styles offered for the spring season by 70 per cent, and probably would cut employment and production 40 per cent.

Another said it would not resume output of 90 per cent of its light weight numbers, because ceiling prices are below cost. The same mill said it would be able to operate on only 50 per cent of normal output. Another said it would be forced to abandon its entire light weight line.

More Locomotives, Rail Frate Cars Are on Order

Class 1 railroads had on order 38,315 new frate cars and 535 locomotives on Oct. 1 the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday. A year ago frate car orders totaled 32,224 and locomotives 499. Current locomotive orders include 406 diesels and 129 steam.

AMERICAN SUMATRA

I have seen references to American Sumatra Tobacco company's land holdings. What information is available on these?—N. H.

This company, a leading producer of shade grown cigar wrapper tobacco, owns about 5,000 acres of land in Connecticut of which 3,000 acres are described as cultivable, and Massachusetts holdings consist of 1,150 acres of farm lands. In Georgia and Florida it holds some 28,000 acres of which 16,000 are farm land and the remainder is in timber.

The total is equivalent to about 0.17 acre per share as applied to the 192,351 shares outstanding. The significance of changing land values is limited in the company's case by the probability that it would expect to retain most of its farm properties indefinitely for tobacco growing. In event of continued price inflation, higher prices might be obtained for its crops.

The industry's position in recent years has been improved by reduction or cessation of competitive imports, but in time imports may be resumed on the former scale. American Sumatra's profits per share, amounting to $3.37 in the fiscal year ended last July 31, have exceeded $3 each year since 1941 when they were only 97 cents. In the four fiscal years ended with 1940, the share earnings averaged $1.47. Dividends in 1942-'44 were $2 a year, and 1945 payments have totaled $1.25. The company has no funded debt or preferred stock. Net working capital July 31 was $4,419,000.

ASSERTS SMALL BUSINESS MUST MAKE NEW JOBS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21—Expansion of small businesses will be necessary to absorb most unemployment, Maury Maverick, chairman of the Smaller War Plants corporation, said today in a report to congress. He estimated 6 to 8 million persons would be jobless by spring.

Maverick said that large industries expanded so much during the war that they "naturally" must contract. Many already have decreased in size and operations, he continued, and their future demands for workers to produce automobiles, radios, farm machinery, airplanes, and other consumer goods will not employ the armies of men and women they employed in war production.

He said that industries which show an increased demand for labor are those made up of small businesses. These must be expanded far above present levels. The 500,000 small firms which went out of business between 1941 and 1943 must be replaced and another 500,000 added, he said.

ORE USE INCREASES

Asks Release of All Enemy Scientific Data

Vital scientific and industrial information obtained from enemy sources still is withheld from American industry tho much of it has been made available to allied nations, the American Chemical society said yesterday. It appealed to Reconversion Director Snyder for prompt release of such data.

"Thousands of reports of scientific, industrial, and technological processes and developments in enemy countries now rest in the files of various government departments and in repositories abroad," said Dr. Charles L. Parsons, society secretary. "In this huge mass of material is information which will accelerate reconversion, create new industries, and make additional jobs for returning veterans and released civilian war workers."

Dewey Heads Committee

To help expedite the free flow of enemy data in possession of government agencies, a committee has been formed by the society under the chairmanship of Col. Bradley Dewey, president-elect of the society and former rubber director.

"American industry needs these reports now, when it is trying to convert from production for war to production for peace," Parsons asserted. "Men should be made available immediately to pack for shipment all documents now stored abroad. Cargo space should be supplied at once to bring the records, samples, and source material to this country."

Asks Original Data

He emphasized that "original reports, documents, photographs, drawings, samples, and source material are of far greater value to industry at this time than edited compilations, summaries, or monographs."

He urged that no further delay be caused by such undertakings, adding the omission of a relatively minor item, which might be left out in compiling, might be the most valuable to a producer.

SYNTHETIC HERE TO STAY, RUBBER EXECUTIVE SAYS

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—A. L. Viles, president of the Rubber Manufacturers association, said today synthetic rubber had established itself permanently as a basic material.

He reported a continuing demand for synthetic rubber in products "requiring its special properties of high resistance to abrasion, oil, and corrosives."

"New synthetic rubbers with broader fields of use and service are on the way," he predicted, and will be manufactured for substantially less than was paid for natural rubber just before the war.

SHIFT IN TAXES TERMED VITAL TO PROSPERITY

Economists Agree on Pay Policy

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Six American economists agreed today in the Twentieth Century Fund's symposium on "financing American prosperity" that the country's chances for sustained prosperity depended on tax changes, wage policy, and government support of the economic system. The six disagreed on means and amount of change.

John Maurice Clark, former president of the American Economic association, said, "Very heavy taxes on the high brackets not only cut into savings, but also reduce the incentive to venturing capital in business undertakings."

Urges Stiff Tax for Some

Sumner H. Slichter, chairman of the research advisory board of the Committee for Economic Development, suggested "a stiff surtax on general income [mostly salaries and interest], and a lower surtax on incomes derived from self-employment and dividends and on that part of incomes devoted to expanding plant and equipment."

John H. Williams, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, proposed that benefits of increased productivity be distributed only in part thru higher wage rates, the rest to be passed on to the consumer thru lower product prices.

Seeks Stable Level of Prices

Howard S. Ellis, with the federal reserve system in Washington, D. C., wished stable price levels maintained and all the increase in average productivity translated into higher wage rates.

Benjamin M. Anderson, professor of economics at the University of California at Los Angeles, said, "Proposals for expanding federal expenditures after the war must be fought all along the line."

Alvin H. Hansen, Littauer professor of political economy at Harvard university, was the only one to advocate continuous applications of a fiscal program and government action to obtain full employment in an economy faced with long run underemployment, and to urge the use of budget deficits for chronic stagnations.

4 Million Ton Deficit in Lake Coal Expected

Cleveland, O., Oct. 21 [Special]—Altho Solid Fuels Administrator Ickes has ordered Great Lakes shippers and ship operators to accelerate movement of bituminous coal to Lake Michigan and Lake Superior docks, this season's deficit will aggregate 4 million tons, fleet operators said today.

The coal movement dropped 2 million tons behind schedule in the late spring and summer months because of a late start and lack of tonnage. The recent mine strike cut another 3 million tons off shipments.

Time Required to Build Stocks

Operations in the mines are scheduled to be resumed tomorrow, but at least two weeks will be required before depleted stocks at Lake Erie shipping docks are built up to normal size.

The coal fleet had been loading an average of 1,600,000 tons weekly prior to the mine shutdowns. Surplus stocks enabled coal carriers to load on schedule the first week of the strike, but shipments dropped to about 900,000 tons the second week and then to 610,000 tons.

May Make Up Part of Deficit

The coal movement has been near a standstill the last few days and it will be at least the first of next month before ships are able to load on schedule. With only five weeks left before the close of the navigation season, it will be impossible to make up more than 1 million tons of the present deficit.

If weather conditions remain favorable and Lake Superior is not isolated by ice fields, some vessel operators may attempt to relieve the upper lake shortage by moving coal until the middle of December.

Eastern Plans to Start Detroit Air Run Nov. 15

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Eastern Air Lines announced today it has formally requested civil aeronautics board approval of Nov. 15 as starting date for its new air service linking Detroit, Mich., Cleveland and Akron, O., Charleston, W. Va., and Roanoke, Va., with its present network.

PEOPLE AND EVENTS

Bernard T. Malter has been named general production manager in charge of all production, research, and laboratories of Flavor Service corporation, Chicago. Malter formerly was with Glidden company.

Alex Marks, formerly of the sales engineering department of the Otis Elevator company, Chicago, has been made general sales engineer, as assistant to Arthur Lundeen, vice president and general zone manager.

Appointment of Gustav S. Swanson as sales manager of the Oscar W. Hedstrom corporation was announced by Russell W. Hedstrom, president.

James E. Skidmore, Chicago, vice president of General Mills and general manager of the company's central division, announced the appointment of Louis B. Falb, Roy E. Swenson, and Clay W. Smith as property managers in the central division.

Rodger R. Meier has been transferred from Delta Air Lines' New Orleans office to the new Chicago station as reservations manager, Charles J. Payne, supervisor of Delta reservations and schedules, announced.

UNION CONTENDS G. M. CAN BOOST PAY, NOT PRICES

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 21 [Special]—A three way split of General Motors corporation's "assured post-war profits" was proposed today by Walter P. Reuther, vice president of the CIO United Automobile Workers and director of its G. M. department. The union proposal was made in reply to President C. E. Wilson's "renewed plea of poverty," Reuther said.

"Not only can G. M. pay the 30 per cent increases in wages without increase in prices, but it also can cut at least $100 from the price of Chevrolets, f. o. b. Detroit, and at the same time earn for its stockholders at least 100 million dollars more than the pre-war 1936-39 average of 180 millions," said Reuther.

Asserting that prices of automobiles already have increased 27 per cent since 1940, R. J. Thomas, CIO-UAW president, called upon Price Administrator Bowles to make public the facts and figures upon which OPA is establishing its pricing formula for new automobiles.

"The position of the union is that it is entirely unnecessary to raise the present OPA level of prices a single penny after giving full consideration to the union's demand for a 30 per cent pay increase," Thomas said. "We are confident the information in the hands of Mr. Bowles will support our contention."

THE URGE FOR SELF-IMPROVEMENT

One of America's business leaders recently said that what has made this country prosperous is the free play given to the urge for self-improvement. There is no more ardent exponent of this than the American woman. Her creed is to improve herself, her home, her family and her children.

Nine years ago we appealed to this fundamental urge of American women by launching SECRETS—the Magazine of Dramatized Self-Improvement. We aimed it at the young married women between the ages of 18 and 35—the years in which the desire for self-improvement is strongest. SECRETS consistent growth of over 100,000 a year for nine years, culminating in more than a million a month newsstand sale this fall, has proved the mass appeal of this program.

Have you a product that will help young married women between 18 and 35 to improve themselves, their homes, their families or their children? If so, SECRETS is your most logical market.

PROGRESSIVE
202 S. STATE, SUITE 1116.
talking to Presidents of leading manufacturing firms, taking their orders for Executives and Technical Men or being advised they have accepted one of our applicants. But the best news was that Mr. D—— was accepted as General Manager at a salary of $18,000 plus a bonus that should bring his earnings to $40,000. Lest we forget, Mr. W.—— was hired as Asst. President at $20,000 per annum. Then, too, we placed Mr. I——as Chief Cost Acct. at $8,400 and Mr. H—— was also placed as Asst. President. Lack of space does not permit us to tell you of all our placements, but be assured, there were many more.

At the present time we have orders for six Manufacturing Executives at salaries ranging from $15,000 to $30,000 per annum. We also need Rolling Mill Designers and Development Engineers, Works Managers, Production Supts., General Machine Shop Foremen, but again a lack of space makes it impossible to list all of our available positions.

WE WERE JUST ADVISED
the President of a precision machine tool firm will be in our office today to select two Sales Engineers at $7,200. Does this position appeal to you?

Progressive is particularly interested in Executives and Technical Men who have fine records of past performance and who have earned $15,000 to $75,000 per annum. A visit to our office will tell you the reason why we are recognized as being
FINEST PERSONNEL COUNSELLORS.
Our service is confidential, our references are of the very best, and our clientele the finest.
WE ARE NOT
We forward the abstracts of our Applicants to Manufacturers thruout the United States, Canada and Mexico at no expense to our Applicants.
WHEN YOU USE PROGRESSIVE SERVICE YOU USE THE FINEST.

TECHNICAL DEPARTMENT
John Wright
We now have a very fine assortment of positions open in all phases of the technical field and in all types of industries. These positions cover the fields of chemical, mechanical, industrial, and electrical engineers; draftsmen, designers, and layout men in all fields; time study; methods; production control; personnel; purchasing; and production supervision from foreman to plant superintendents and works managers. The positions we have open are ones with post-war futures and are permanent. We are sure we can help you get located in the right position with an opportunity to advance. Come in and see us or phone for an appointment.

SALES AND ADVERTISING
Larry Johnson Says:
"He is a wise man who profits by his mistakes."
Have you made a mistake? Are you dissatisfied with your job? Are your earning powers limited? Are your chances for advancement limited? If your answer is yes to any of the above questions then you should try to do something about it. I believe I can help you if you are sincere in wanting a position with a future. Employers have asked me to send men who are promotional material. The fields open are many and varied—steel men, electrical or mechanical engineers interested in sales. I can place all the good men I can get. I have openings for 150 sales trainees, with or without experience. I can pay up to $10,000 a year for the right person. If a man can sell I can place him. Discuss your particular type of position with me.

OFFICE PERSONNEL
John Cox
John Cox invites you to discuss with him the type of work you prefer. He wishes to place at your disposal his experience and contacts. If you are a high grade man who wants a high grade position or a beginner, inexperienced but sincere in getting started with a concern that will appreciate his ability and efforts, see Mr. Cox. He can help you. He has openings for auditors, bookkeepers, comptrollers. Openings for 50 cost clerks and credit men. Can use 30 male secretaries and 100 accountants. So for an unlimited number of positions with an unlimited future ask for John Cox, he's your man.

THERE IS ONLY ONE RIGHT WAY TO TRAIN FOR TELEVISION

FIRST: Come and see it.
SECOND: Learn television from engineers who work in the industry.
THIRD: Train with real up-to-the-minute television broadcasting and receiving equipment. Be expert in servicing, operating and engineering, so that you are capable of taking a job in the industry.
FINISH: By working with real television studio production experts with actual performences and with television manufacturing engineers in a large, up-to-date laboratory, so that you can become expert in the branch of television you are most capable of following. This is the right way to get into television and the way of
